NEGROISM IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

A charming illustration of the practical effects of negro equality is presented in the Williamsburg District, South Carolina. At the present term of the Court of General Sessions, which commenced a few days ago, out of thirty-one petit jurors summoned, exactly three were negroes and eight white men. Of the grand jury, twelve were negroes and seven white men. As only eighteen of the petit jurors answered to the summons, thirteen extra jurors, all of them negroes, were drawn from the bystanders. Out of these, two sets of jurymen were impaneled. The first jury was made up of ten negroes and two white men; the second had not a white man in it. Of this secondary only one fellow could write his name, and he, by order of the judge, was appointed foreman.

The Williamsburg district, being adjacent to that in which Charleston is situated, was at one time owned by plantations worked exclusively by negroes. The result of the war has been to turn over the impoverished planters to the tyranny of those who were formerly their slaves. As the negro vote in the district, compared with the white, is as two to one, juries impartially drawn, opacity and intelligence being left out of the question altogether, would consist of no third white men.—But such are the Radical manipulations and conjunctions in the Williamsburg district, that, out of the forty four jurors ultimately selected at the present term of the court, only two white men were chosen.—With a Radical judge on the bench and a negro jury before whom cases are to be tried, there is no possible chance that a white man, unless he is Radical, will succeed in his suit, however manifest its justice may be. Moreover, a majority of the cases coming before this particular court, and, indeed, before all of the courts of South Carolina, are negro cases, chiefly offenses arising out of the lawless habits the negroes have contracted as a condition of freedom, and does any body suppose, that, as a general rule, conviction is possible with a judge elected by negro votes and with negro jurors addicted to the very crimes for which they are to try their brother negroes?

Proscribed, insulted, oppressed, and negro-ridden as the Southern people are, their patient endurance of the monstrous wrongs to which they are subjected, is indeed marvellous. They submit to the revolting despotism but they chafe fiercely at the thought that they must submit. If the Radicals really believe, as they pretend to believe, that their tyrannical measures will ultimately lead to a more perfect union or to any kind of union between the North and the South, they are stupid or mad.—To know not the relations of causes and effects. The negro jury sitting in the Williamsburg case-house, the Radical Judge on the bench, the Federal soldiers scattered through the State, the negroes, scalawags, and carpet-baggers in possession of the Federal and State offices, and the plantations gone to waste for lack of labor—all these things recall to the mind of the disenfranchised Southerner the proud and prosperous condition in which he once was and of freedom which he formerly enjoyed.—He may endure his subjection for a season, endure it in bitterness of spirit, but the remembrance of what he has suffered and is still suffering will not only remain but increase in intensity to the last, and the white generation growing up around him will inherit a fearful legacy of hate and vengeance. By pursuing a course of conciliation, kindness, generosity, or even justice, after the war, the Radicals might have secured to the country every desired blessing. But, when they trampled upon the vanquished, when they sent forth their unscrupulous agents to prey upon them, when they stripped them of their political rights and turned over the control of their State to negroes and worse than negroes, they placed obstacles almost if not quite insurmountable in the way of reconciliation between the two sections.

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE.

The U. S. Constitution reads, sec. 5 and 6 of amended provisions:

"5. No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

"6. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed."

President Grant has taken an oath to support the Constitution, and let us see how he does it. One Weaver, a citizen of Texas, not of the army, was indicted for murder in Texas before a State Court, the person murdered being also a citizen of Texas, not of the army. On September 17th, 1868, a military commission took jurisdiction of the case, and entered upon the trial of Weaver, and the result was the conviction of Weaver by military commission, and sentence of death. The question now is: Had the military court jurisdiction of the case? We say it had not, notwithstanding the judgment of Gen. Grant and his Attorney-General to the contrary.—We say not, because when the rebellion ended, the war ended, and because the Government declared the rebellion over long before the military trial and order for death. There being no war, no insurrection, no resistance to the authority of the Federal Government, there is no reason in, nor apology for, the trials of citizens by military courts. Nearly two years since, August, 1866, the President, by proclamation, declared the war over, and pledged the Executive authority to see the laws executed. Congress, as the legislative power, took no exception to this. The Court of Claims, after full argument on both sides, decided that the rebellion ended with the President's proclamation of August, 1866. The U. S. Supreme Court and also, in effect, decided that the rebellion ended even in Texas. Texas filed a bill in the Supreme Court asking certain relief, and the Court entertained the bill, thereby recognizing the rebellion ended in Texas, and, consequently, that the State has a legal status in court. If, then, the rebellion ended in August, 1866, it is a downright outrage to pretend that the war was still in existence in Texas in September, 1868. This case will go to the Supreme Court, we presume, if not prevented by the execution of a sentence upon Weaver. If Gen. Grant is right, we are in a state of war with Texas; but if there is force in law, or in fact, then we are at peace in Texas, and all pretences to the contrary are either silly or wicked. Let the Constitution decide.—N. Y. Express.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.
Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!
The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.
Being situated in the northwestern part of the State, in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.
The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.
The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvements generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, will arranged for either large or small families.
Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.
FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.
A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC
Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.
Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. CARTER, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.
The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.
As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

ROBERT SOUTTER, OF GRANVILLE COUNTY, realizing the importance of spreading the growth of Wheat in this County; and the farmers, knowing no well the absolute necessity of supplying themselves at an early period with "Seed Wheat" of the finest quality, ready to plant in the Fall, the undersigned takes this early method of inviting applications from farmers, for what they may require to plant next Fall, of the very "Selects Seed Wheat" which he expects to deliver at moderate prices, from the crop growing now at his "Oakland Farm" near Townsville, in this County.
This Wheat was planted last Fall, with Guano, of seed selected in Baltimore with great care by my predecessor, Mr. Cline, R. K. Taylor, who paid $2,25 for it there. It has had the advantage of a heavy top-dressing in Spring of Chicago bone Fertiliser, and is now very promising.
Like the good Sorghum Seed which I have offered to the farmers of Granville, I hope the orders for my "Seed Wheat" may be equally attractive, to absorb all that I can expect to spare of it.
