POLITICAL CORRUPTION.

The Radical papers are trying to devise some mode that will put a stop to the corruption in the Republican party. Numerous plans are presented, but none appear to prove effective. The Tribune proposed larger representation, but the Massachusetts papers prove by the events of the last Legislature in that State that this remedy is futile. The trouble appears to be with the party itself. The Republican party came into power by professing to be purer and holier than any other party, and its men more virtuous than any other individuals. Issues were adopted which diverted attention from home events and transferred the issues upon distant objects. As long as aspirants for official position would unite in this hoax and prove themselves sound on these general questions, it mattered not how corrupt they might be, they found favor, and were placed in positions where they could give their corrupt nature full sway. The result has been that official corruption has kept pace with and grown with the growth of that party, until now it has become a "synonym" for Republicanism.—It has overrun our Legislatures, Congress, and has now reached the White House, where, according to all reports, the offices are sold to the highest bitter.

Prior to the birth of the Republican party such a thing as buying votes at the polls on election day was unknown, but under the practices of that party this system of purchasing elections has become the universal rule throughout the rural districts of the Central and Western States. A large fund is every year raised by the party and sent out to all close districts and there openly dealt out on election day. They have thus corrupted the very fountain, until now the men whom their party organs assail for corruption declare that they care nothing for these attacks, for they can buy their own nomination and election by the Republicans of their districts just as often as they choose. Buying nominations in Assembly, Senatorial and State and National Conventions, has become the universal rule in the Republican party. It is practised in Pennsylvania and in this State, and was introduced into the Chicago Convention last year. Legislative caucuses are purchased to nominate United States Senators. This is not confined to Albany and Harrisburg, but exists in every State capital where the Radicals have had the majority necessary to elect a Senator. The boast of Senator Chandler, of Michigan, when he was told that there was a bitter opposition to his re-election, that he cared nothing for the talk, for his bank account was sufficient to overcome all of that, has become almost proverbial. The truth is, that party, starting with the pretension of superior virtue and purity, has from the very outset been practising corruption, inculcating it in legislative bodies, Conventions, and even at the polls, until there is no chance to arrest it or secure a reform as long as the party has an existence. All other devices will prove futile. It is a part and parcel of that party, so firmly rooted in its organization and so interwoven in its very existence that it is impossible to eradicate it save by annihilation of that party.

THE SPURIOUS MONEY CASE.—The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel publishes a lengthy statement about the arrest of Marian Harris, the mulatto woman who passed spurious money in Augusta. The Chronicle states that she was from Hancock county. After announcing that she was discharged after being arrested the first time, that paper says:

"On Thursday, Mr. Murphy, of the Atlanta Police, arrived here and returned on the night of that day, taking with him Lieutenant Purcell, of the Augusta force, to assist him in unraveling the plot, as heretofore it had been found impossible to get anything out of her, and it was thought that by bringing her to this city, where the crime was committed, that operations could be conducted with a better hope of success. On Friday morning Lieutenant Purcell reached Atlanta and immediately re arrested the woman on a warrant issued by United States Commissioner Smith. On Friday night he took the cars with her and started home, but when the train reached Union Point he received a dispatch from United States Marshal Smythe directing him to return with his prisoner to Atlanta. On receiving this message Lieut. Purcell transferred the woman to the up night train and went back to to that city. On the cars, we are informed, the woman's courage gave way and she made a clean breast of the who'e transaction.

"She stated that some time since she went North with a lady from Macon, whom she left soon after her arrival in Philadelphia. She said that she formerly knew H. M. Turner intimately when they both lived in Hancock county, and meeting him North, the intimacy was resumed. She traveled a good deal between Washington and Philadelphia, and often saw Turner in the former city. On a day between the first and fifth of June, Turner gave to her, in Washington, between $1,600 and $1,700 of this spurious currency, which she had been passing, instructed her how to get rid of it and made her promise to divide with him the good money she received. She then returned to Philadelphia, and from that time to the tenth was in constant correspondence with Turner on the subject. On the tenth of the month she started to Georgia. She passed $100 of the money in Wilmington, where she stopped several days, $100 at another place, and finally $450 in this city, as stated above.

"After an examination before United States Commissioner Smith, at which the witness still testified against Turner, a warrant was issued for the arrest of the lady, and the authorities in Macon, telegraphed to secure him. This warrant was placed in the hands of Lieut. Purcell and one of the Deputy United States Marshals, and the party immediately left for Macon, arriving there on Saturday evening. The officers found Turner seated in the Post-office, and at once arrested and hand-cuffed him. The same evening he was placed in the cars, carried to Atlanta, and placed in confinement in the military barracks. Turner seemed much dejected when arrested, and manifested a good deal of trepidation."

The Chronicle's statement about Turner is pronounced here, to be without foundation. He is certainly not now in jail, and we have been informed has never been arrested.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

CAPTURE OF A WILD MAN IN THE WOODS.

For some days there have been lurking in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, in this county, two wild or insane men, who, although they kept to the woods, succeeded, by their strange manners and desperate acts, in terrifying the inhabitants of the locality. They cut the throats of horses, cut off the ears of other animals, and would allow no human being to approach them. On Saturday one of the men was surrounded in the woods, and though he defended himself with a fence rail he was, after a struggle, captured. He was bareheaded, barefoot and without coat. He refused to speak, would not tell his name nor answer any question that was asked. He refused to eat, and showed such violence in manner that he was yesterday transferred to the custody of the Sheriff by W. Bashaw, Mayor of Harrisburg, and lodged in the county jail. He gave the building a close examination, seemed familiar with locks and cells, and tried the strength of the bars. His inspection concluded, he proceeded to trounce one of the prisoners in the hall with a broom. This was a two handed game, in which the unknown, much to his astonishment, came out second best. He was finally locked in a cell, much against his will, refusing before this, however, to touch meat or drink. Once in the cell he commenced operations on the bed, threw off the bed clothes, and finally the mattress, stretching himself on the iron bedstead. He is a man of medium size, hair dark and now long, but looks as though it had been cut close; whiskers short; eyes have a meaningless expression. He had not spoken a word last night since his capture, and paid but little attention to any one who approached his cell. It is supposed that he is an escaped lunatic from some asylum.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,18.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future will find it to their interest to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the north western part of the State in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility, dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvements generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

GOOD TEN-PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. Carter, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.
