JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

GRANT AND DENT.

We are inclined to think that we have drawn the wrong brother in law in the lottery. The letter written by Judge Dent to President Grant, on the subject of the President's interference in the Mississippi elections, does not, perhaps, prove that Judge Dent is the proper person to be Governor of Mississippi, but it certainly does prove that he is a much fitter person than Gen. Grant to be President of the United States. Of course, between either Judge Dent or Gen. Grant and the person really fit to be President of the United States there is a great gulf. We are speaking of the brotherin law merely in relation to each other and to those unhappy circumstances of our times which make it necessary that any one should speak of either of them. Judge Dent probably has no more delicacy of feeling as to the propriety of Presidential life than his brother-in-law. Otherwise, he would hardly have accepted a nomination to the post of Governor of Mississippi, which, as all the world knows, was tendered to him solely on the ground of his being the brother-in-law of Gen. Grant, elected President of the free States of the Union, but by the brute will and brute force of those States appointed Dictator of the enslaved States of the Union. This action of Judge Dent compels us to put him in the same category with his brother in-law in respect to sensitiveness and dignity. Of course, it may be pleaded for him that he honestly desired to see a down trodden people delivered from insult and oppression, and that, supposing his own family connection with the official head of the nation would enable him to hasten their deliverance, he swallowed the scruples which he certainly has never expressed, yet which every right-minded man would be sure to feel. Be this as it may, however, Judge Dent's letter, just published, quite takes him out of the same category with General Grant in respect to common sense and sound political feeling. His remonstrance against the interference of the President in behalf of the Radical tormentors of Mississippi is as creditable both to his intelligence and his humanity (in the noblest sense of that much abused word) as the interference he protests against is discreditable both to the intelligence and the humanity of the President. His exposition of the true relations between the genuine people of Mississippi and the Radical pests whom President Grant is now endeavoring to fasten still more firmly upon them, deserves to be scattered broadcast throughout the country. It explains the true force of Conservative victory in Virginia and Tenn. as clearly as it unveils the true nature of the crusade to which President Grant has now lent himself in Mississippi and in Texas. The truths which it tells are familiar, indeed, to all Democrats, but it is of importance to have them told by a man who has obviously been foolish enough to suppose that he could be a Republican without being a Radical, and a Radical without trampling not only on all constitutional law, but on the intrinsic rights of men and the first principles of successful free government

"Is it reasonable," Judge Dent asks of his Presidential brother-in-law—

Is it reasonable to suppose that a people, having the free choice of their representatives would elect for their rulers a class of politicians whose aggressive and hostile conduct hitherto, has rendered them peculiarly obnoxious and disagreeable? This is the charge made by the people of Mississippi against the Radicals, or "butter-enders," as they are called. This charge is not made because they fought against the South and secession, for many of that class, fought on the side of the South. It is not made because they are of Northern birth and education, for many men of Northern birth and education, and of the Northern army, are with us in antagonism to this obnoxious party. It is not because they are Republicans, for their antagonists were among the first in the South to organize on the Republican platform, and to advocate the civil and political equality of all men; were sent as delegates to Chicago, and for their consistency and constancy were rewarded by you with offices of trust and honor. But this charge is made, as I have said before, because the proscriptive antecedents and aggressive policy of these politicians towards the people of Mississippi have made them the objects of peculiar abhorrence. That policy consists not only in the continual advocacy of proscription, but in preaching to the freedmen, in a time of profound peace, such revolutionary doctrines as excite and direct against the white men of the South and their families a most dangerous animosity—such animosity, indeed, as, with a continuation of the same fuel, would inevitably lead to a black man's party and a war of races. Neither are such doctrines preached with an honest desire to ameliorate the condition of the freedmen, or promote the ends of peace or strengthen the Republican party in the South, but solely to alienate from the planter the time honored confidence and affection of this race, in order that the new political element, under the banner of Republicanism, might be entirely controlled and subordinated to their own purposes of power and aggrandizement. And to this class of men, whom you foiled in their attempt to force upon the people of Mississippi the odious constitution rejected at the ballot-box, you now give the hand of friendship and support, and spare from you that other class who, accepting the invitation of the Republican party in good faith, came in mass in Virginia and Tennessee, as they still come in Mississippi and Texas, to stand upon its platform and advocate its principles.

This letter, we have said, justifies a doubt whether Judge Dent would not have been a better—it certainly makes it clear that he would have been a less deplorably bad brother-in-law. In doing this it also illustrates another characteristic of the political weakness, the absolute lack of all policy, principle, and purpose, which make the case of President Grant so hopeless. It is also a fair illustration of the political sagacity and right to control both the administration and the party of his brother in law.

It would have been easy for President Grant to make him a door keeper, like the other Dent, or a Brigadier General, or a Collector, to give him some post quite independent of popular opinion and the public will. But Judge Dent apparently aimed higher, and when he communicated his wishes to Grant he no doubt found that per contra quite willing to promise him his support in a Mississippi canvass, to be conducted on a "Conservative" basis. Not sooner, however, had Virginia and Tennessee shaken off their oppressors than Boutwell and the other Radical masters of the President took the alarm, and commanded him to give them the control of the administration machinery for the purpose of preventing a like result in Mississippi and Texas. Destitute of any settled notions on the subject and of any real interest in it, and impatient only to get away from Washington and the worry of doing his executive duties to the delight of Long Branch and the harmless dissipations of an aimless perambulation, the President threw the reins to the keepers of his political conscience, and left Dent to destiny. He is as ready to leave the country to destiny as Dent. Happily, we have a larger faith in the fortunes of the republic than Dent seems to have in his own fortune.

JAPANESE LADIES IN THE BATH.

A correspondent of the World writes:

We left the main street and turned into a narrow street which intersected it, for the purpose of visiting a native bath house. Here, open to the street, as usual, we found the place to be a large square room, with the floor raised about two feet from the ground, and a partition about three feet high running through the centre. On one side of this room, in the costume of Mother Eve before she studied penology, were collected from fifty to seventy women and girls, on the other side perhaps thirty men and boys clad in a curtailed pattern of the famous Georgia major's airy suit, but that even the shirt collar and spurs were wanting. The old joke about a "wet nurse in a bath house" was here practically realized. Some dozen native dryads, whom I took to be the owners of the lavatory temple, were scouring the dark haired, rosy naiads with large bunches of paper, while others poured water over them from a well in the centre of the room, by means of wooden dippers with long handles. The ceaseless din and chattering of the nymphs under this process was absolutely deafening. Far from feeling any sense of shame by the presence of their own countrymen, who were enjoying the bath in company, they gave not the slightest thought or attention to the number of foreigners who were looking on.—Perhaps, like the poet's chivalous defence of Lady Godiva, I ought to say that they were clothed in unconsciousness of immodesty, it being a custom to which they are habituated from infancy.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COGWHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church

"It is worth one dollar a week to any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

Valuable Property for Sale in Raleigh and Wake County.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Equity for this County, I, as Commissioner, will sell at the Court House, to the highest bidder, all of the Real Estate of the late Sarah Simonds, dec'd, to wit:

One House and Lot, in the City of Raleigh, containing two acres, more or less; said house in fair condition, has six rooms and good kitchen. On the Lot there is a very fine Well of Water and all necessary out-houses. The fences are nearly all of new and sound timber, and the soil is fine condition. There are quite a number of Shade and Fruit Trees on the premises. Also a Lot containing three-fourths of an acre, more or less, near the above mentioned one. Both Lots are on Bargett street, just beyond the city Cemetery, and on the direct road to the "State Fair Grounds." Also a Tract of Land about five miles from the City, which is very well timbered, and adjoins the lands of W. E. Pierce and others.

This property will be sold on the 25th day of August A. D. 1869.

Terms made known on day of sale.
