NEW AND RICH GOLD-FIELD—THE ADVENTURES OF A NEVADA MINER IN SOUTH AFRICA.

POTCHEFSTROOM, TRANSVAAL REPUBLIC, SOUTH AFRICA, via CAPE TOWN, May 31.—A. G. Lobbett, an adventurous miner from Nevada, was yesterday introduced to me in this place by a mutual friend. This Lobbett is a fine specimen of the mining genus, a rugged, weather-beaten dare-devil. He spent a great part of his life mining and hunting in your Western Territories, but he had occasion some time ago to visit England, where he heard strange rumors of fabulous wealth that was locked up in the rock-walled coffers of the mountains of South Africa. Although he should have known from a costly experience how much such reports are worth, he seemed to feel an unaccountable confidence in the truth of this one, and accordingly packed up his worldly goods for this lengthy voyage, reaching Port Natal in company with one of his brothers.

THE EXPEDITION.

In Port Natal he made preparations for his expedition up into the mountains. The rumors here were so numerous as to make him confident of success. The range of mountains extending from the neighborhood of Potchefstroom, Transvaal Republic, down through the lower part of Bechuanas, was said to be the auriferous region. Lobbett, his brother, and a few adventurers who volunteered to accompany them, armed and equipped themselves, and started with two ox teams in a northwesterly direction from the port. They travelled over some five hundred miles, being about three months on their way. The march was full of adventure, and they encountered not a little peril and discomfort from the savage men and beasts that surrounded them.—Their courage and confidence diminished wonderfully during that time, and, worn out and dejected, they halted at last amid the rugged mountains on the banks of the Pati river.

THE AURIFEROUS VALLEY OF THE PATI RIVER.

But on looking about them they found that there was no cause for utter disappointment, after all. It is true they did not reach the ultimate object of their search—the gold bearing placers of the valleys of the Pati river; but the quartz districts around them were filled with a marvellously rich ore, that yielded from one to three ounces of gold per ton. All the specimens pan teemed with great quantities of free gold. But it was no consolation to them to see all this wealth with not the faintest hope of getting at it. It was like the cup of Tantalus, for they had not a single quartz crusher with them, and knew not where to get any without retracing their 1,000 miles to Port Natal.

THE KAFFIRS RECOGNIZE THE VALUE OF THE YELLOW METAL.

They had still another obstacle to contend against in getting at the gold. The Kaffirs of this region, unlike the fabulous savages in the tales of the old sea captains of former days, appreciate the part that the yellow metal plays in the world, and guard the quartz districts and rich placers most jealously. Forty thousand warriors of the Moselo Katche Kaffirs lie encamped in a single kraal in the heart of the gold-fields keeping off all intruders. Certain exceptions seem to have been made, however, for Lobbett mentioned having met Sir John Swinburne, of the Limpopoco, en route for the gold-fields, with ten wagons and a six-stamp mill, with engines, amalgamators, &c. He also met Mr. Masch, the German geologist and African explorer, who showed him a large number of rich specimens that he had been allowed, or somehow managed to procure. Lobbett, however, and his friends were not treated so courteously, and giving up all hope finally of succeeding in this venture at least, they turned their footsteps toward this place, which they reached a short time ago. Their accounts of the mare-loua wealth bound up in these diggings have set the wits of the Potchefstroomians a wool-gathering. Little else is talked about. Expeditions are hourly being planned, visions inventors are studying the details of patent machines that will probably never exist but in their imaginations, and not a few talk of appealing to the English Government for aid in securing the gold and keeping off the wild Kaffirs, who cannot get at the gold themselves, and will allow no others to do so.

A show of marriageable young women takes place annually among Hottentots. As the time for the fair approaches the fathers whose children are marriageable collect what they can afford as a dowry.—Whatever this consists of, it is packed, if possible, into a cart or carriage, and on the appointed day they all—fathers, children, and chattles—start for some trysting place, generally chosen among the western mountains of Transylvania. When the fair is opened, the fathers climb to the top of their carriages and shout with the whole power of their lungs, "I have a daughter to marry. Who wants a wife?" The call is answered by some other parent who has a son he is anxious to pair off. The two parents compare notes, and if the marriage portion is satisfactory the treaty is there and then concluded. The young man takes possession of his wife with all her goods and chattles, and drives off merrily. If, on the other hand, the match is not equal, or for some other reason unsatisfactory, then the parents begin to cry their five merchandise once more.

The first gentlemen at Long Branch is a waiter at the Stetson House, and he carries his head as though it was supported by a military stock. He has HOPE of a chappy-nose, which is heightened by his immaculate black, swallow-tailed coat and white tie. He comes up to your table as Waiter, and you mildly intimate to him that if it would not be too much trouble, you would like to have him to bring you some soup. He then points out a great many things, sounds as to say—"I understand your position, drink my health." This gentleman is open to gratuities, and the way in which he pockets a fifty cent note would call forth the admiration of Chesterfield. He knows just where to look and to act, and he is pretty masterly practice to those people who want enormous dividend pins and rings.—Long Branch Cor. N. Y. Sun.

The Lynchburg (Va.) Virginian nominates the Hon. D. W. Voorhees for governor in 1873.

RADICALISM.

It has debased its adherents in war and peace. It has vindicated the justice of reconstruction. It has convinced even the slaveholder that he is happier and must get richer under the influence of liberty. It has established the fact that the negro can be at once a more useful and intelligent citizen as a freedman. It is reconciling the South by the force of its example and the justice of its laws. It has redeemed the Government from the profligacy and incapacity of Andrew Johnson's officials substituting economy for extravagance, integrity for dishonesty, and a reduction of expenses and debts for unbounded license and accumulating burdens.—Washington Chronicle.

John W. Forney thus eulogizes Radicalism in his last Washington Chronicle. The paragraph should read thus:

With the help of innumerable hired Hessians, it outnumbered its foes in war, while in peace it retained its victory by keeping up war's worst atrocities. It has exempified in its own infamy the injustice of reconstruction. It has convinced even the slaveholder that the meanest slavery is liberty in contrast with its unrestricted rule. It has established the fact, that in every case and everywhere that the negro has been under its influence, the result has been social disorder, and increase of crime.—It is disgusting the South by its evil example, and honorable men have even endorsed the filthy horror of negro suffrage to remove its tyranny. It has shown a profligacy, incapacity, extravagance, dishonesty, unbounded license, and accumulating burdens of oppression, that even the economy, integrity, and heroic opposition of Andrew Johnson and his official, backed up by the undaunted championship of Democracy, could not withstand and stop.

WORTHY OF IMITATION.—The Galveston "News," of the 5th instant, says:

Judge Campbell received a bale of new cotton yesterday, sent by a colored woman, who raised it on Dr. Bowers' plantation, about twenty miles below Columbus, on the west side of the Colorado. The same woman will gather some thirty or forty bales more, all of which she and her children have made on land which, we understand, she leased from Dr. Bowers. She also made a fine crop last year at the same place. Fortunately her land was too high for the overflow to injure her crop. We have not learned the grade of this cotton. By the way, we may here remark that we have heard of many negroes who have made fine crops this year on leased lands, and will probably realize from one to two thousand dollars each for their year's labor.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATEST MODE IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER,

Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Cog-wheels, and the Patent Stop, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my home there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Ballous.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $11, Extra Wringer $3, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands. Fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.
