JOSIAH TURNER, JR., EDITOR.

NATIONAL EXPENDITURES.

Every day there is a presentation of some sort intended to show that there has been a great reduction in the expenditures of the government since Grant became President, accompanied with much boasting about the honesty and economy of the present administration.

Will the men who are engaged in this business tell in what department economical reforms have been introduced, and how the expenditures have been lessened? How much less will the war and navy departments and civil and diplomatic service cost the current fiscal year than they did for the year ending on the last day of June?

While vaporing about reduction of expenditures, a candid attention should be paid to the cause permitting the reduction. To attribute it to retrenchment in the different departments, is a deliberate attempt to deceive, and is gross misrepresentation. Mr. McCulloch was called on, as secretary of the treasury, to make heavy payment for purposes which were accomplished when the payments were made, and which do not recur under Mr. Boutwell's administration. There were heavy payments for bounties; the payment for the purchase of Alaska; payments on account of the freedmen's bureau; payments on account of reconstruction; large sums for the payment of interest on the public debt than Mr. Boutwell has been obliged to meet; and heavier payments on account of the army.

The present administration may show something of a reduction in army and navy expenses, but the republican party, or rather, Congress and Grant, must be held responsible for maintaining an army five times as large as it was in 1860 for seven years after the close of the war. President Johnson said the cost of maintaining military governments in the South was of itself a sufficient reason for a total condemnation of the reconstruction infamy.

He wanted to cut the army down, but was opposed by Grant and Congress. They wanted a large standing army to carry out their revolutionary purposes, and in case of defeat in the Presidential election to employ the army on some pretext for resisting the installation of a Democratic President. It was the duty of Grant, as General, as it is now the duty of Sherman, to recommend the reduction of the army to the lowest standard consistent with the public safety. Whatever reduction of expenditures may be shown in the War Department, is simply an evidence of the iniquity of Grant and Congress in expending more than was necessary under the administration of Johnson.

A comparison of the ordinary expenses of the Government in the last year of Johnson's administration with those under Grant will show that there has been no such reduction as the Republican newspapers claim. The whole amount of expenditures has been at a less rate, because of the payments by Mr. McCulloch for the objects above named. To say that the reduction has been on account of economical reforms introduced, and that these have saved to the country $40,000,000, is contemptible demagogism and falsehood.

Grant has spent the summer at race-courses and watering places. Secretary Fish has been taking his ease, with dignity, at his home on the Hudson. Secretary Rawlins gave more attention to the duties of his office than his health would permit, and, probably, did materially reduce the expenses of the war department, inasmuch as that department under Grant and Stanton was a rotten concern. Boutwell and Creswell have been busy in looking after Jacobinical interests in Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Texas. Attorney General Hoar has been rusticating in Massachusetts. Secretary Robeson turned a war steamer into a pleasure yacht, and has been recruiting his health by a long cruise in northern waters.

It is a notorious fact that this country has never before had a president and cabinet who gave so little time to their official duties as Grant and his cabinet. They have, in fact, by the desertion of their posts, and diligent hunting after ease and amusement, said to the people of the country that the president and heads of the departments had no duties to perform. Notwithstanding this, we are told that they have been hard at work in planning and carrying out reforms which are saving the government fabulous sums every month.

The truth is, that a more rotten administration than the present one, or more contemptuous of its duties, and with less regard for the public interests, has never been saddled on this country. The ordinary expenses of the government, according to Boutwell's own showing, are more than double what they ought to be, and every journalist of the ruling party knows this to be a fact.—Chicago Times.

CHANGE IN THE CUBAN ARMY.—The New York Journal of Commerce learns from a gentleman who is in a position to know what is going on among the Cuban revolutionists, that an important change has been made in the command of the liberating army. Gen. Cespedes, president of the Cuban republic, has taken the field in person as commander of all the forces, and Gen. Jordan, who recently held that position, is made chief of Cespedes' staff. The editor says:

"This strengthens the revolutionary cause by securing General Jordan's valuable services in a place where they will all still be available, while it appeals with fresh power to the patriotism and pride of the Cubans. To give the chief command of the insurgents to a foreigner—although that foreigner is an American and a soldier of great talents—seemed to imply a want of military skill among the Cubans themselves, which prejudiced some people against them. But few expeditions have been able to get away from the United States ports since General Jordan took the command, and the Cubans have been obliged to depend, for the most part, upon themselves."

THE LOUISIANA FEVER.—Great complaints are made in some parts of the parish of the smallness and backwardness of the cane. A few planters will make as much sugar to the hand as they made last year, some as high as ten hogsheads—and even more, but many who expected to make heavy crops will hardly pay expenses. The scarcity of hands on the large plantations is a serious drawback to their crops and their success. Many were unable to lay by their crops in a condition that would secure more than half the yield that good cultivation would have secured.—Planter's Banner, 18th.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Cogwheels, and the Patent Stop, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned watch-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9 and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.
