JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

"POOR MEN PAY NO TAXES."

We often hear the above expression from members of the Radical party, when it is intimated that the poor men—those who depend upon their daily labor for the support of their families—are suffering from the burdens of TAXATION. "Why," say they "how can they be suffering, when they don't own a cent's worth of taxable property, neither do they have income tax to pay. Poor men pay no taxes. It is only an electioneering dodge of Democrats to get their votes." We are sorry to say that there are many laboring men who believe this talk. They are not called upon by the regular tax collectors, and directly they pay no tax. But let us see whether, indirectly, they do not pay something.

Perhaps he buys, on an average, a pound of coffee per week; on this he pays a tax of 5 cents per pound or $1 60 per year.

He may use 12 pounds of tea per year; on this he pays a tax of $3.00.

He would of course need sugar to sweeten his tea, and for other purposes, probably 104 pounds per year; on this he pays a tax of $5.20.

He may use a gallon of molasses per month, on which there would be a tax of 96 cents per year.

He might need a pair of nice woolen blankets for the inclemency season; he would have to pay a tax of $2.20.

Say he would want twenty yards of cheap carpeting; it would cost him $16,00 tax; if of a better quality ingrain for instance, $18,00 tax; if for a still better quality, venetian, only a tax of $30.00. But he wouldn't want the two last, as only the rich can afford it, and he would have to pay a double tax on account of his poverty.

He would want some clothing, a summer and winter suit, and he must pay a tax of $5 to get them.

His wife would want two calico dresses on which there would be a tax of $1 25.

He might have the habit of using tobacco, which would require a tax of $7.36 per year to indulge it, or he might like his "likers," but a tax of 50 cents per gallon would be required of him. Say he indulges freely his "nips," at one gallon per month, and the tax would be $6 per year. But probably our Radical friends may object to our having these two latter items placed in our tax list, as they "have no bad habits." Well, that may be so, but $80,000,000 are annually paid on these items by the people of this country.

We might extend this list much further, but let us add up these items enumerated, and we find a total tax of $348,87 exclusive of the liquor tax. Poor men pay this not to the tax collector, but to every one of whom he buys. He is paying his taxes every day he buys a spool of thread, a bunch of matches, and a pound of salt. Most of the above items were exempt when Democrats controlled this country; but now the manufacturers must be protected, and the bondholders must have a big interest, and their bonds must be paid in gold, although the law only requires their payment in currency. Yes the poor man pays tax on all he eats, drinks, wears or uses. Just think of it, a poor man who earns a dollar a day, or $325 per year, pays as much tax as the bondholder who has $18,000 invested in government securities, and draws an interest of $1,080 in gold, or $1,340 in currency.

Is it right? Is it honest? Is it just? Why does the laboring man, who does not own a cent's worth of property, pay as much tax as the man who owns fifteen or twenty thousand dollars' worth? Will the Radical leaders answer? Dare they deny the truthfulness of this statement? No, they will not, they dare not. That party has combined with the wealth of the country to oppress and burden the mechanic, farmer and laboring men, and we are sorry to say it, many of this class are helping to rivet the shackles and bind the chains upon themselves and upon their children. And why? Merely because it is advocated by the Radical party.

Would it not be well for them to weigh and consider these questions? They are worthy of it, and are closely connected with their future interests and welfare.—Seneca Advertiser.

WORK FOR THE MONTH.

October is usually a beautiful month for cotton picking, and the work should be pushed forward vigorously. When cotton is high priced, as at present, quality is a very important matter—nice handling in picking, ginning and packing will pay handsomely. The corn crop, in most parts of the South, will be short—let it be housed as soon as dry, that none may rot in the fields. To make up for deficiency of corn crop, we would urge upon our readers to sow largely of small grain. Oats would do better sown in September, but they may still succeed well if sown at once. Break the ground well and cover with turning shovel; a little guano will make a very great difference in the yield. We pray also, that ample breadth of land be given to the wheat crop; or, rather, we should have said, let an ample quantity of manure be given to it; for a few acres, well manured and well prepared, can be relied on with more certainty than a large number poorly prepared and manured. Plow deep, but have a care especially that the upper layer of the soil be thoroughly pulverized. As all know, the wheat plant sends out numerous small fibrous roots—these slender fibres cannot force their way through hard cold, cloddy masses, whereas, the object of nature, in this arrangement of roots, is to make every part of the soil tributary to the growth of the plant. The manure ought, therefore, for a like reason, to be thoroughly incorporated with the soil, part cunningly the apple tells us, as it is in these that the roots especially ramify. In this vicinity the largest yields have followed the application of cotton seed with [illegible] Developed Roots. The plant delights in getting most manure, and going to the very bottom of the soil, it one ate than other crops to suffer from the [illegible] application of such manure. Experiments have quite clearly shown that, with a given quantity of manure, it is best to make two applications of it, one in the fall—another in the spring in form of a top dressing. Another great [illegible] be regarded, as well established by experiment, is, that drilled wheat, highly manured, and of rank growth, will not fall down like the broadcasted under similar circumstances—the stem of the former, from better exposure to light and air, is set so stiff and succulent as that of the latter. Experiments have not yet determined what the width of the drill should be. One thing we feel quite assured of, that a sufficient width to permit workings to destroy the weeds, would be of very great advantage to the crop. Every one knows how much our wheat fields are infested with weeds in early spring, and there is no reason why the wheat plant should not suffer from these disputing the soil with it, as well as corn or cotton under like circumstances. Except along the coasts and warmer parts of the South, the grain should be in the ground before the last of October. We hope our agricultural societies will undertake experiments to decide the best time for sowing in different latitudes. Get the best seed, with a coarse sieve get out all the cockle, cheat and defective grains, put the balance in a pretty strong solution of blue stone, and skim off everything that floats, and after soaking, sow in faith, that the giver of all things may bestow upon us a bountiful harvest.—Southern Cultivator.

"We the our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Selma Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.
