JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

HENRY WARD BEECHER'S FARMING.

BY MARK TWAIN.

Mr. Beecher's farm consists of thirty-six acres, and is carried on on strict scientific principles. He never puts in any part of a crop without consulting his book. He plows and reaps and digs and sows according to the best authorities—and the authorities cost more than the other farming implements do. As soon as the library is complete, the farm will begin to be a profitable investment. But book farming has its drawbacks. Upon one occasion, when it seemed morally certain that the hay ought to be cut, the hay book could not be found—and before it was found it was too late and the hay was all spoiled. Mr. Beecher raises some of the finest crops of wheat in the country, but the unfavorable difference between the cost of producing it and its market value after it is produced has interfered considerably with its success as a commercial enterprise. His special weakness is hogs, however. He considers hogs the best game a farm produces. He buys the original pig for a dollar and a half, and feeds him forty dollars' worth of corn, and then sells him for about nine dollars. This is the only crop he ever makes any money on. He loses on the corn, but he makes seven dollars and a half on the hog. He does not mind this, because he never expects to make anything on corn, anyway. And any way it turns out, he has the excitement of raising the hog, any how, whether he gets the worth of him or not. His strawberries would be a comfortable success if the robbins would eat turnips, but they won't, and hence the difficulty.

One of Mr. Beecher's most harrassing difficulties in his farming operations comes of the close resemblance of different sorts of seed to each other. Two years ago, his far sightedness warned him that there was going to be a great scarcity of water melons, and therefore he put in a crop of twenty-seven acres of that fruit. But when they came up they turned out to be pumpkins, and a dead loss was the consequence. Sometimes a portion of his crop goes into the ground the most promising sweet potatoes and comes up the intensest carrots—though I never heard him express it just in that way. When he bought his farm he found one egg in every hen's nest on the place. He said that here was just the reason why so many farmers failed—they scattered their forces too much—concentration was the idea. So he gathered those together and put them under one experienced old hen. That hen roosted over that contract night and day for eleven weeks, under the anxious personal supervision of Mr. Beecher himself, but she could not "phase" those eggs. Why? Because they were those infamous porcelain things which are used by ingenious and fraudulent farmers as "nest eggs." But perhaps Mr. Beecher's most disastrous experience was the time he tried to raise an immense crop of dried apples. He planted fifteen hundred dollars worth, but never a one of them sprouted. He has never been able to understand, to this day, what was the matter with those apples.

Mr. Beecher's farm is not a triumph. It would be easier on him if he worked it on shares with some one; but he cannot find anybody who is willing to stand half the expense, and not many that are able. Still, persistence in any cause is bound to succeed. He was a very inferior farmer when he first began, but a prolonged and unflinching assault upon his agricultural difficulties has had its effect at last, and he is now fast rising from affluence to poverty.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The history of speculation may be freely ransacked for precedents and illustrations; but the moral of the gold panic is magnificent. Under a system which taxes the poor man's pot and the poor man's skillet, and exempts from taxation the rich man's millions, disaster must be only a question of time. Wall street is what a Radical Congress has made it.

The reporters, always more or less sketchy, grow brilliantly picturesque. The very furniture and personnel of Mr. Speyer are described with minute detail. Portraits of Fisk, Jr., and Vanderbilt are flashed over the wires. We need not refer to a bookcase for a notion of the devil as two sticks who has been turned loose on Change. He is rendered in a life-like way by a hundred stock-brokers; and there are hints of dark places—little, mysterious, back-room hells—lying close and neighborly under the shadow of Trinity.

The New York Tribune tells us complacently that "it is feared there are worse times ahead." Is it, forsooth? Worse times! Worse times! Well, that is cool. A break-neck Radical oligarchy in Congress; a sweet-scented Radical saint in the Treasury; a thundering ring in Wall street; little rings and big rings in every part of the country; three or four States held at the point of the bayonet; a mountain of debt; layers upon layers of taxation, and nobody at the White House but a solemn owl who lifts up his voice and exclaims with benignant iteration, "let us have peace." Better to say—better for the poor man—better for the rich man—better for the national credit—better for peace—"let us have justice." The Tribune is philosophic. We like that; but before these waves which dance upon the beach roll back, they will swell into a tempest that will sweep down all the Radical barricades. * * * * * *

SPOTS IN THE SUN.—Scientific investigation into the mysteries of the sun's surface has been great this year. A great magnetic storm is predicted. An examination of the sun through new and powerful instruments has revealed new and wonderful appearances on its surface. Immense spots, millions of miles in extent, are said to have appeared. One of them recently moved a hundred thousand miles in a second. We are told, too, that violent physical changes are going on, that the magnetic storms are regulated by fixed laws and occur every eleven years. The next one is to be in 1870. Its effects upon magnetic instruments will be noted with interest by us as the first scientific men of the day. What effect these storms will have upon the atmosphere, vegetation and the light of the sun, will afford plenty of food for speculation and thought.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COGWHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Ceyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. P. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $6, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and we are sure we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Raw River Flouring Mills.

THESE MILLS, situated immediately on the North Carolina railroad, at Haw River, will be in full operation by the first of October. The Company having put the Mills in repair in order, with new Wheels and Bolting Cloths throughout, will offer to the old patrons and the public

FLOUR,

OF SUPERIOR QUALITY.

To those acquainted with the quality of Flour made at these Mills, before the war, we will only say that we will keep the quality up to the old standard. To new customers we promise a Flour that cannot be excelled.

Our terms will be STRICTLY CASH, as we intend to sell at lowest living rates. Feed for distribution on application.

We will pay highest market rates for any thousand bushels of good Wheat delivered at the Mills.
