JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

POLITICAL POWER.

The discontent of the West has of late manifested itself by agitating the propriety of the removal of the Federal capital. We have heretofore given, at various times, the various forms under which this discontent is concealed. Tracing back this agitation, its progress may thus be marked. First, there were given to the public learned disquisitions about the movement of population. This was followed by scientific discussion as to the centre of population of the Great Republic, and its relation to a geographical centre and the central point of accessibility or great railroad centre.—Following up this came the claims of several large Western cities, each one of which set forth its pretensions to be considered as the point which best satisfied the conditions requisite for the new era of the Great Republic. Saint Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Columbus, and Toledo have each been brought forward, each as having preponderating merits. But it is quite evident that in popular estimation Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville, and Cincinnati were the only points which were entitled to the consideration of the great public. In the meanwhile the press discussed the unhealthiness and inaccessibility and other objections to Washington as the great Federal centre, and Western cities became active and enterprising to extend their influence as railroad centres, and Congress to devise ways and to grant charters for railroads to and through Washington to do away with the force of this argument against the present seat of Government. The argument, however, progresses and now reaches the question of power, or, as the President of a municipal Ward Club would say, "to a count of noses to see what can be done." Under an assumption of unity in public sentiment at the West and with an air of quiet satisfaction and self-reliance, which the possession of power imparts, the Chicago Tribune thus exhibits the transfer of political power from the East to the West, adroitly holds up a picture which indicates, unmistakably to the Middle and New England States, that their hitherto dominant section must yield to Western demands unless it can effect a coalition with the South before 1870. The Tribune says:

In the reapportionment of representation in Congress, on the basis of the census of 1870, the census of political power will swing westward from somewhere in the neighborhood of Columbus, Ohio, to a point at, or near Lafayette, Indiana. The six New England States which, in 1840, had 38 Representatives, will, in 1870, have only 23, as follows:

1840.		1870.
Maine,	8	Maine,	4
New Hampshire,	5	New Hampshire	2
Vermont,	5	Vermont,	3
Massachusetts,	12	Massachusetts	9
Connecticut,	6	Connecticut,	4
Rhode Island,	2	Rhode Island,	1
Total,	38	Total,	23

The Northwestern States, which, in 1840, had 32, in 1870 will have 83, as follows:

1840.		1870.
Ohio,	19	Ohio,	19
Indiana,	7	Indiana,	11
Illinois,	3	Illinois,	16
Michigan,	1	Michigan,	7
Missouri,	2	Missouri,	11
		Iowa,	8
Total	32	Wisconsin,	7
		Minnesota,	3
		Kansas,	2
		Nebraska,	1
		Total	85

In estimating the increased political power of the West, we must add to these the Pacific States, which in 1840 were not, which now have only five members of Congress, but which, after 1870, will probably have seven or eight, making in all 92 or 93 members west of Pittsburg and south of Cairo. The change between the period named in the representative strength of New England and the other Eastern or Atlantic States combined will be substantially as follows:

1840		1870
New York	40	New York	20
New Jersey	6	New Jersey	5
Pennsylvania	28	Pennsylvania	25
Delaware	1	Delaware	1
Maryland	6	Maryland	4
	18		64
Add N. England	38	Add N. England	22
Total	119	Total	86

In any issue, therefore, to which the entire New England and Middle States, including Delaware and Maryland, might be arrayed on one side, and the Western and Pacific States on the other, the latter would prevail by a majority of seven votes. In any issue wherein Kentucky, Tennessee and the Southwestern States are united with the Western and Pacific, as for instance in the removal of the capital, the improvement of the Mississippi, the development of mining resources, the equitable national adjustment of taxation, and the like, the majority would be larger.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

A MODEL SCALAWAG.

The New Orleans Times publishes the following notice of General Alcorn, the Radical candidate for Governor of Mississippi:

Some years before the war, when Gen. Alcorn was a prosperous planter, thinking more of making the largest crops with the least hands, and of getting the most work at the smallest expense in the way of food and clothing for his "happy slave," and of pocketing as the main purpose as rates, and by management and discipline making these "pay"—thinking more of these things than of the great affairs of Government, and the great questions of constitutional construction, finance, &c., which now engage his profound study, Gen. Alcorn was one day offered a great bargain in a chunk of a negro, whose only vice was an invincible, and, as Dr. Cartwright used to show, a natural and genital fleetness. In other words, the vendor would warrant said negro against all other vices but that of running away.

"Very well," said Alcorn, "I can cure him of that," and took the negro at the price asked.

"Now, Jim," said Alcorn to his fresh purchase, "go to work, and understand very clearly that if you run away I will chop off your right big toe for the first, and for the second the other big toe, and will also ——," here he named a most cruel and debasing mutilation which should supplement the penalty for the second offence.

Notwithstanding this caution, Jim, obeying his "inevitable destiny," in the Cartwright theory, did run away, was captured and brought up for punishment.

Alcorn faithfully kept this engagement. Jim's big toe was brought to the block, and he had to limp for some weeks behind the "hoe gang." As soon as he was well, and the amputated stump had cicatrized, Jim's inherited fugalonisms overcame him and he took to the swamps.

A well-trained pack of hounds, however, soon ran poor Jim to earth, and again he was bagged, brought home, and called up for punishment. Again Alcorn vindicated his faith and consistency by cutting off the left big toe of Jim, and then deliberately proceeded to execute the remainder of the horrible sentence.

This is the frightful story which is published and vouched for by responsible persons, one of whom is a respectable physician, personally and professionally cognizant of the facts. All this of a man who is put forward as the champion of the poor down-trodden African race.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COGWHEELS, and the PATENT SPOUT, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $3 and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

Haw River Flouring Mills.

THESE MILLS, situated immediately on the North Carolina Railroad, at Haw River, will be in full operation by the first of October. The Company having put the Mills in first-class order, with new Wheels and Bolting Cloths throughout, will offer to the old patrons and the public

FLOUR,

OF SUPERIOR QUALITY.

The Mills established with the quality of Flour made at these mills, before the war, we will only say that we will keep the quality up to the old standard. To new customers we promise Flour second to none made.

The Mills will be WHEATLE CAPS, as we prefer to work at lowest living rates. Price list furnished on application.

Ref. We will pay highest market rates for 500 thousand (or 600) bushels of good Wheat.
