CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE—A VERY REMARKABLE CASE IN MISSOURI.

[From the Kansas City Times, 12th.]

The Circuit Court of Nodaway county, Mo., has been in session during the past week, Judge L. C. Parker presiding. Most of the time was occupied in the trial of Solomon McAlpine for the murder of John Callicott, developing a most singular case of circumstantial evidence.

In August, 1866, these two young men left Hollyville, Iowa, to come to St. Joseph to buy apples, expecting to load their wagons here and return to Iowa and sell their fruit. Not long after, some few days, we believe, McAlpine returned to Hollyville, told some plausible story about his partner having made other arrangements and gone on to St. Joseph, and for some time no further notice was taken of the matter. The continued absence of Callicott and the fact that nothing was heard from him, finally induced the arrest of McAlpine, but on his examination nothing was elicted criminating him, and he was discharged. A thorough search for Callicott proved unavailing, and for eighteen months a profound mystery enveloped the case.

In March, 1868, a party of railroad engineers, surveying the route of the Missouri Valley railroad, some six miles Northeast of Maryville, found the skeleton of a man. An investigation aroused the suspicion that it was Callicott. The authorities in Iowa were written to, and witnesses were brought down. The mother of Callicott recognized a bony protuberance on the chin of the skeleton; also the absence of a tooth drawn on the day he started on his fatal trip, and his mother preserved the tooth. In fixing the jaw of the skeleton, and a dentist testified that it had been drawn from the office. Pieces of a blue coat and several peculiar buttons were found near the skeleton. These were recognized as resembling parts of Callicott's dress when he left home. There were three bullet holes in the skull. This identification was so complete that Mr. McAlpine was rearrested, and, after several continuances, the case came to trial on this Monday, and resulted in the conviction of the prisoner. The judge instructed the jury that any want of proof mitigating the crime from murder in the first degree must not restrain their rendering a verdict of murder in the second degree. We learn that neither McAlpine nor his friends or attorneys manifest any dissatisfaction with the verdict, and the case will not be appealed.

SHOCKING SCENE IN St. LOUIS.—A St. Louis police officer sent the following to his chief a few days ago: "I have the honor to report that, between one and two o'clock this morning Sergeant Sheridan met a little girl of the most miserable and poverty stricken appearance, on Second street, near Cherry. She was crying piteously. Upon being questioned by the Sergeant, she stated that her mother was dead, and her father was drunk. The Sergeant went with her to a place in the rear of No. 004 North Second street, where he beheld a most horrible sight. On a board, covered with an old blanket, lay the lifeless body of the child's mother. Beside the corpse were two bottles of whisky, and two glasses—the husband and father sitting close by in a state of drunken idiocy. There was not a particle of furniture in the room but the stool upon which the drunkard was sitting. As the officer entered he was addressed by his inebriate to take a drink. The scene, however, was too solemn for the Sergeant to smile. The room without a particle of furniture—the dead mother under the dirty blanket—the whisky bottles and the drunken father—the half-clad, poverty-pinched child, its poor little heart breaking with woe at the midnight hour—form a picture of misery, degradation and death not to be forgotten. The woman's name was Bridget Dunn. The little girl is thirteen years of age."

A young man in East Tennessee by the name of Lyon has just married his stepmother. Stepmothers are not, as a rule, very nice things to have about a family. But this case is rather peculiar. Old Lyon, like Robin Gray, had money. Young Lyon had none. But he had a sweetheart and of course he went to seek his fortune. Time passed. This is a peculiarity with time. It is somehow always passing. The warcanie on and young Lyon "went for a butternilla ranger." He became a gay and festive "butternilla ranger." He was wounded. He was a prisoner. The reader has probably heard something of this sort before, but this particular instance is "all over true tale." Young Lyon returned from the war, and, not to make too long a story out of our material which is already going out, he found his father married to his sweetheart. He did not commit any nonsense, however. He went to work soberly, stayed at home quietly, waited till the old man died, and then married his mother. The young couple are said to be living as well as could be expected.

BABY SALE.—Poor babies have a hard time of it trying to live in France. When the parents are not rich, in many instances they are sent to the country to be reared by some peasant family for a consideration, and but few of them live more than a year, what with the neglect and cruelty practiced upon them. Babies are regarded as luxuries which only the rich can afford. They are so much in the way of their mothers, who act as clerks, saleswomen or bookkeepers to their husbands, that they cannot receive that care they should, and therefore are packed off to the country to be brought up by hand, like "Fido" was. Recent investigations into the matter of baby farming reveal an extraordinary state of affairs. The number of deaths is overpassed by the number of births is frightfully large. Thousands of infants are sent from Paris to the country, and but few ever return. The claims upon the French women of the wet nurse are such that she cannot spare the time the children would require, and hence they are farmed out.

The bitterest and most determined opponents of the admission of Virginia are the carpet-bag and scalawag representatives from the South. This is marvelous. They wish to keep open a market in which they can trade in bastard patriotism and pinch-back honesty.—[Phil. Age.

Mr. Chase will probably make himself the next President by holding the Fifteenth Amendment pull and mule. That almighty inexpressibly Chase for ——, when prayers are devoutly put here.—[Napoleon, Ohio, Northwest.

SAW MILLS.

I AM PREPARED TO PUT UP DOUBLE CIRcular Saw Mills in workman-like manner for those desiring them.

There are now 440 of these Mills in operation, and in no case have they failed to give entire satisfaction. One advantage of this Mill is, that the sawyer, without changing his position, gives the backward and forward motion to the carriage, with a single lever; and set the log at both ends at the same time, this is a saving of one Hand in the mill. This is no humbug. I am responsible for what I say. My residence is 20 miles South of Raleigh, on Neal's Creek. For further particulars address me at Raleigh, N. C.

P. J. WRAY.

I will be at Lynn Adams' Store on the 2nd & the 5th of February, where persons desiring, to see me will please call.

READ THE FOLLOWING.

Mr. P. J. Wray, Dear Sir:—I am much pleased with my double Circular saw Mill, built by you. I can cut a line 14 inches deep, 20 feet long, in 45 seconds, with my 18 feet overshot wheel. We have to tag and cant 8,000 feet whether logging, flooring, and inch board, in eight hours.
