DISTRICT CONVENTION.
The District Conservative Convention will be held at Philadelphia, June 17th and 18th.

DEPARTING AT HAYWOOD.—The Editor of the Sentinel, will, by arrangement, address the people of the State, at Haywood, on the Chatham Railroad, on Friday, June 18th.

ORCHARD.—Spring chickens 30 to 37 1/2 cts; Butter 27 1/2 to 30 cts per pound; Eggs 30 cts per dozen; Cabbage 12 to 15 cts per head; Irish potatoes 75 cts per bushel; Onions 35 cts per dozen; Strawberries 10 cts per quart; Green Peas 40 cts per bushel.

CONVENTION.—To-morrow, the Conservative of this county will assemble in Convention, at the Court House, in this city, for the purpose of electing delegates to represent the county in the District Convention, which meets at Frankfort on the 7th of June.

A telegram received here late yesterday afternoon from Goldsboro, announced the capture of Hanson, the man who shot his wife, Hanson Harrison, in this city, night before last.

SUNDAY MAGAZINE.—The June number of this periodical came out this morning, presenting its usual attractive appearance, and keeping up in every particular, its reputation as a first-class magazine.

NEW BOOK.—Our interesting friend, Mr. J. A. Jones, of Baltimore, has placed upon our table, a new book, "The Schoolmaster of Abbebot," by Ortel. The book comprises two German stories, and has achieved a high reputation in literary circles.

GRAND EXCURSION.—On Wednesday, 15th of June, a grand excursion to Baltimore and Norfolk will come off. Tickets from Raleigh to Baltimore and return can be purchased for $12; to Norfolk and return for $10; all tickets good for eight days.

THE STOCKHOLDERS of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford B. R. held a meeting in Charlotte on Wednesday. The meeting was a long one, and the proceedings of an interesting character.

CHICKEN CHOLERA is prevailing in Guilford county. The market is abundantly supplied with honey.

THE CONSERVATIVE of Jones county will hold their Convention, at Franklin, on the 18th of June.

On account of sickness, Judge Thomas, adjourned the special Court for Wayne, until next Tuesday.

The June number of "Good Words," which we received to-day, is as entertaining and interesting as usual, and we greet it with a hearty welcome.

THE GREAT WESTERN ENTERPRISE.—Since the commencement of commissionaire, the enterprise has met with some of the most successful sales, on the day fixed, a great impetus has been given to the sale of tickets, and everybody seems to be rushing for them, totally regardless of expense; and we should suppose from present appearances, that also some of our people were each one expecting to draw the tempting prize offered. The enterprise is surely going to be a splendid success, and from the upright manner in which it is managed, we can truly say that we hope some of our citizens will win the capital prize of $150,000.

Dear Sir,
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst., in relation to the decoration of the graves of Federal soldiers at Arlington, on last Monday. We have the gratification to be assured that you will be carefully read by those of our people, who, in the kindness of their hearts, so readily joined our northern friends in observing the "national holiday." But we hope the personal will not diminish their christian charity, or cause them to think harshly of the memories of those "masses of blue," now sleeping in the cemetery at the eastern extremity of this city, and who came amongst us on an errand of love and mercy. We can afford to forget principles, manners, and customs, desolated homes and tyrannical exactions, when called upon to honor the memories of these christian heroes.

We take the following from the New York World, in relation to the decoration of the graves of Federal soldiers at Arlington, on last Monday. We have the gratification to be assured that you will be carefully read by those of our people, who, in the kindness of their hearts, so readily joined our northern friends in observing the "national holiday." But we hope the personal will not diminish their christian charity, or cause them to think harshly of the memories of those "masses of blue," now sleeping in the cemetery at the eastern extremity of this city, and who came amongst us on an errand of love and mercy. We can afford to forget principles, manners, and customs, desolated homes and tyrannical exactions, when called upon to honor the memories of these christian heroes.

The mass spirit of Radical spite inaugurated on Decoration Day last year against the graves of the Confederate dead, when United States marines were stationed around them to prevent the floral decoration of the same, was revived yesterday at the Arlington, on Decoration even in a more offensive manner. There are eighteen Confederate officers and Confederate soldiers buried there, whose resting places were conspicuously marked yesterday by several post-board signs in large letters of "Confederate Graves." One or two ladies and a gentleman, not heeding the warning prominently conveyed in these post-board decorations, ventured to place their floral tributes on the monuments of earth that covered these rebel dead, but no sooner had they done so than their flowers were snatched therefrom by a committee of that political organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic, and they were warned not to repeat the act by these party officials.

"There has been no order issued against them," said the gentleman who had placed the flowers there, "and I claim the right to put any new flowers on these graves."
"Y'oh ain't allowed to do it, sir," was the terse reply.
"Where is a correspondent of the World here, and I shall see that this outrage gets into print in that paper."
"Y'oh don't care a damn for the World; it's a rebel paper, anyhow," was the answer to this.

The ladies and gentlemen were then threatened with arrest for an alleged attempt to create a disturbance, and thereupon withdrew. It is due to say that some of the more decent Union soldiers deprecated this unseemly exhibition. One Southern lady, dressed in deep mourning, while passing a grave on the head-board of which was inscribed the name of her son, the word in large letters "rebel" quietly let a spray of roses on the grave, and was passing on when the harsh voice of one of the committee gentlemen ordered her to take it away again or he would throw it among the crowd. The lady burst into tears, but was compelled to obey.

In a number of places, five words "they can be commensally inserted might have been inserted. It is due to say that some of the more decent Union soldiers deprecated this unseemly exhibition.

FACTORS THE ORDER OF THE DAY.—It seems that Excelsior, is now the watchword of our popular insurance Agt., P. F. Pascoe Esq., who makes his bow to our readers in this afternoon's paper. Mr. P. says that he has taken the Excelsior, in order to overcome the increasing competition from old and new Companies. The new feature presented by the Excelsior, in attaching a cash valuation to all his policies, with which policy-holders may purchase annuity bonds and secure an income for life or a series of years, is indeed new, and must be popular.

We wish Mr. P. abundant success and refer the reader to his advertisement.

CHARLOTTE N. C.
THE EQUITABLE
HAS BECOME THE LEADING COMPANY OF THE WORLD.

In New Business (from record), for the year 1869, exceeded that of the annual company to rank by more than 700,000. In 1868, it was 1,000,000. In 1867, it was 1,200,000. In 1866, it was 1,400,000. In 1865, it was 1,600,000. In 1864, it was 1,800,000. In 1863, it was 2,000,000. In 1862, it was 2,200,000. In 1861, it was 2,400,000. In 1860, it was 2,600,000.

The leading public should not allow itself to be deceived with regard to the term "Annual Dividend." Many companies using this expression mean that their dividends are "annual" in the sense that they are paid once a year, but they do not mean to say that the dividends are "annual" in the sense that they are paid once a year, but they do not mean to say that the dividends are "annual" in the sense that they are paid once a year.
