THE RADICAL CONVENTION
It is not our purpose to attempt a description or report of the proceedings of the Radical County Convention held here Saturday, it was beyond description and impossible to report. A number of some of the incidents must serve as an index to the character of the meeting and its proceedings, and even these were not capable of reproducing in all their grotesque incoherence and unprincipled comicality.

After the organization of the meeting, a Committee was appointed to recommend candidates. While this Committee was out, some of the loyal were delivered of speeches; among the rest, James Harris was delivered of a long one, which seemed to give general but not universal satisfaction. One of his hearers, (John Jones, the Barber), wanted to know what he meant by the thousand dollars that Harris paid him for the Congressional nomination, James, like Peter of old, started with an oath, that he ever got the thousand dollars at all.

There was a good deal of earnest wire working in regard to the nomination. Tim Lee was highly provoked at what appeared to him a "ridiculous" opposition to him, but he had to swallow his indignation, and then the nomination was over, and then didn't he allow him- self to be induced refraining to see how he made the for. The just gave the names as he called them, (Richardson had got first and was lying down at the moment), to understand that, while he didn't know anything personal, individually, he didn't think the "boils bills" of ten a day - a bit of odds. That his strength lay in the country, and he'd show it to them.

The committee reported and then began the fun in earnest. "Richardson" was nominated for the Senate, but such a perfect abject and did the nomination prove, that a friend of his, who happened to be on the spot, opportunely, that it looked like he was placed there expressly for this contingency, promptly withdrew his name. So the names of Log, Hodge and Judge Olds were put in nomination and the Judge got it.

Tim Lee came to the Convention, the names of the successful aspirants to the honor of being beaten are, Stewart, Hildebrand, W. H. Morgan, Thomas Young, (brother in law to the Governor), and S. D. Franklin, one layman and three so-called "preachers," who have had a "beat," but look, at present, very much like Jonah.

Allegre was put in against the Rev. Franklin at the tail end, but his bid was too short, and he found that he had sold himself for a small price, and thus talked of the convention.
