AN UNCOUNT ABROAD—THE TRIB UNE CORRESPONDENT INTERVIEWS BILLY SMITH—BILLY SHOWS HIS HORN.

One of the numerous branches of the Ku-Klux tree has been, and may be now, in North Carolina, writing letters to the Tribune. His letter of the 6th inst., which appears in the Tribune of the 9th, shows two things: First, that the writer has placed himself in no position to obtain correct information in regard to affairs in this State, and secondly, that this correspondent is exceedingly green and easily played on. There are some points of the letter that will be news to most of our readers. We give a few extracts with comments as follows:

This correspondent went from Raleigh to Goldsborough where he "caught" Billy Smith and interviewed him. He says:

"Smith is a popular man, and, strange to say, a Republican. He is the only one of the party with whom I have conversed who has told me that he has escaped the social ostracism which has cut off from association with the old and aristocratic Rebels of the State those of their former associates who have since the war taken sides with the Republican party."

Billy will, no doubt, feel an increased impetus to the announcement in the Tribune of the fact that he still maintains with the "old aristocratic rebels," his former social relationship; we are ready to endorse his assertion; we don't think the relationship and intercourse of Billy with the aristocratic class referred to by him, has been "cut off" by his turning Rad. Some of this class will smile at this frank confession of Billy's as well as at a comparison the correspondent draws between him and Dean Richmond.

Owing to these "social relations" and other extraordinary qualifications, as Billy told the correspondent, he was urged by the "committee" to go to Missouri and run for the Senate.

"A friend of his, Mr. Smith told me, who was a Ku Klux leader, and whom he had put under considerable obligations to himself, when he heard that Mr. K. was intending to run, gave him assurances of safety, went about among the Ku Klux of Mr. Smith's neighborhood, and used his influence against any violence toward Smith; but for these peculiar circumstances, he (the ex-) opinion, might probably have suffered assassination."

What! what a lie!

"I particularly inquired of Mr. Smith concerning the South charged upon the State administration in the matter of railroad bonds. My inquiries drew forth a very emphatic response. The Legislature, he said, was full of d—d rascals of both parties; that the majority of them were among the Conservatives; that they had been guilty of the most infamous frauds."

We record this as an evidence of the correspondent's greenness, and we have no doubt that South laughed in his sleeve when he discovered that he had impressed this lie upon his "interviewer," in face of the fact that the Reds had a majority over the Whigs in both branches of the Legislature, and that, although the Governor had no veto power to check the extravagance and stealing, he appointed not half of the very men that did the stealing, and fought them to place yet.

Here's a rich paragraph from Billy's dis-

"He (Smith) knew of no Republican but himself who had broken through the circle of 'old aristocratic' exclusiveness; that Reagan stood by Governor Holden, &c., and he was a pleasant sort of a man who would stand by anybody."

Another "Joe Bagby" story! There is not a man in the State, except Col. J. H. [illegible] who would stand by Governor Holden.

"Smith said that the people of the State, especially the former, hating the U. S. government, and wishing to the rising generation to hate it, it is simply false and nothing else. It is very true that the women, the core, and the children, all entertain a rather unfavorable opinion of the performance of Republicanism, native and imported, which has placed among us as representatives of the government, but they regard these to be displaced in due time by better men to their support. On this head both Billy and the correspondent misrepresent the people of the State, the former for want of honesty, the latter for want of sense.

But we want the people of North Carolina to see what Billy's views are in regard to the manner in which they ought to have been elected.

The reputation of this letter of the Beecher species as a literary production, its misstatements and glaring unfitness of the people of this State, to be the correspondents of Northern papers, entitle it to a place in the waste basket with much villainous falsehood, serving will misunderstanding and ill feeling exist, and the best interests of both sections be seriously impaired.

MODERATION! MODERATION!

Some of our friends are counselling the triumphant Democratic Conservative party to great prudence and moderation. Proper caution and a wise forecaste requires this of a great party flushed with victory and smarting under the grievous wrongs of their opponents. We must not become intoxicated with our prosperity. We must not precipitate upon our worst foes, even while suffering under their outrages, wrong or injustice. Again, they may merit the severest retaliation and punishment, but we must not seek revenge, but the good of the State.

If however, those who plead for moderation, mean that the villains who have plundered the State, who have beggared our people and have outraged the rights of our citizens, trodden civil liberty under foot, ignored the laws surpus, and arrested and mistreated illegally our citizens, shall be treated with lenience and forbearance, as if they deserved mercy, we have no patience with such moderation.

The Constitution while it is a Constitution, must be literally and fully observed, the integrity of the law must be maintained, bad laws must be repealed, incompetent and wicked officers must be removed from office and if violators of the civil law should be punished. But in doing all these, great moderation, caution and foresight must be observed. We must be sure we are right, and then go ahead.

THE COLORED PEOPLE.

Either some of our friends are too mischievous or too thoughtless or they are bolted. We learn that many negroes are complaining to their white friends, that some young Democrats are telling them, that they will have to go back into slavery and will loose their rights if the Democrats succeed in controlling the country. We do not believe that any Democrat, young or old, has made any such statement. It is the old tale of the Radicals. They have circulated this falsehood from the first.

We repeat to the colored people of North Carolina what we have often said, and they may rely upon it, that the Democratic Conservative party will not rob them of a single right they now have under the Constitution and the laws, but will defend and protect them in their rights as sacredly as they will the whites. They will pass no law for any class. They will not favor alike upon all.

But let us admonish all, white and colored, abandon the hope of gain or of support from being politicians and office-seekers. Go to work. The toil needs tillage—the State demands of all to go to work and become producers and not consumers. Leave the towns where you must live from hand to mouth or be slaves to party all your lives and go into the country and try to be big and become independent and happy.

EDGECOMBE COUNTY.

It is a source of regret that any cause whatever, should have prevented any portion of our friends in that County from going to the polls and voting the Democratic Conservative ticket. It is said that 600 Democrats in old Edgecombe did not vote in the late election.

Our friends there committed the serious blunder which we hope never will be repeated any where in the State again, of failing to nominate a strait out Democratic Conservative ticket at the opening of the canvass, simply because the Radical majority was so large they could not hope to overcome it. No one therefore was personally interested in canvassing the County and stirring up the people, and the result is that Edgecombe is alone the only County in the State, that gave an increased Radical majority. In the Presidential election in 1868 the vote stood 2631 for Grant and 1473 for Seymour, giving a Radical majority of only 1208; now the vote stands: for Phillips, rad. 2878 and Shipp 776, the large majority of 2102! a Radical gain or rather a Democratic Conservative loss of 894! Who is to blame for this? It would be well for the Democratic Conservative people of Edgecombe to investigate the causes of this unaccountable vote.

Edgecombe has two excellent weekly newspapers, both Democratic. The addition of a good newspaper advocating right principles, ought to have added to the Democratic vote at least 1000, instead of decreasing it 800! We deeply regret this result. One of the best signs that our good friends in that County intend to do better in future, is, that the people of Edgecombe are sending in large orders for the SENTINEL.

We learn that about daylight a few mornings since, the mail train on the R. R. Railroad was required by an armed band of Ku-Klux men to stop at Graham station, and that this band, numbering about twelve men, leaped on board with seven citizens of Alamance, whom they had seized as prisoners, gulling and cursing the prisoners and pointing pistols at their persons with threats of instant death, &c., and in this way took them to Company Shops. The leader in the crowd and most boisterous in their threats, were three negroes who appeared to take great delight in the scene of barbarity. The defenceless victims appeared to have been taken from their beds in the night, and yet, to have been allowed to dress comfortably, and kindly dressed. How long are these outrages and oppressions to continue?

The citizens of Edgecombe County are making preparations for collecting appropriate the entire Conservative triumph in this County.

THE INQUISITION IN FULL BLAST.

Every now and then we have a glimpse of what is being done by the Ku-Klux Committees who have been denied the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus and any information of their doings prevented, save that which is smuggled out by some one of their victims. Some of these victims have been carried to Raleigh and subjected to examination in secret before the Governor and his ministers. We suppose, from the Reid specimen, that, instead of the examination and evidence, to which by law the vilest criminal is entitled, the public is to be treated to a volume of this secret testimony as big as that of a Spanish Inquisition, and about as creditable to the witnesses and their extorters. Such proof as this would be asserted as confessions against the witnesses themselves, and is simply ridiculous as offered against others.

AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT RETURNS RECONSTRUCTED HOME.—Mr. Wm. H. Long, of Franklin Co., N. C., arrived here on the 7th inst., from the State Prison in Indiana, where he has been confined since the surrender. He states that he left in prison ten other Confederate soldiers, who will serve out terms varying from ten years to a life time. Mr. Long is now trying to get home, and any assistance rendered him will be fully appreciated, and, we believe, deserved.

We should be glad to know the truth o the above, taken from the Newbern Journal of Commerce. The statement that he left in the State Prison of Indiana ten Confederate soldiers and that he had been recently released himself, if he means they were placed there simply as captured prisoners from the Confederate army, is incredible if not absurd. Some of them may have been incarcerated in the State prison of Indiana for high crimes in the State and not because they were captured Confederate soldiers, and this idea is confirmed by what Mr. Long says, that "they will serve out terms ranging from ten years to a life time." Such statements should be received with great allowance. Fraud, deceit and villainy are rife in the country, and it is too late in the day to attempt to excite sympathy for captured and imprisoned Confederate soldiers, unless the statements are supported by the very best evidence.—If however, as this man Long intimates, that there are now ten Confederate soldiers confined in the State Prison of Indiana, as captured Confederate soldiers, he ought to give their names and the causes of their imprisonment, in order that prompt measures may be taken for their release at once. But if, as we suspect, his statement has any foundation and they are imprisoned for high crimes in that State since they were Confederate soldiers, they are not entitled to sympathy, unless it can be shown they are wrongfully imprisoned.

New York Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8, 1870.

All honor to the true men of North Carolina! The wires convey the thrill of your victory and the lovers of law and order rejoice. The imaginary nocturnal Ku Klux seem not to exist, but a real live Ku Klux Governor has exhibited himself, by daylight, to receive the scorn and execrations of the lovers of justice everywhere. Honest men of his own party repudiate and denounce him. Sworn to support the constitution and laws, he openly violates them and leaves no argument in his favor for those, who for the sake of party, would like to defend him. It is now seen that he had determined to carry the election "any how." To do this he declared Alamance and Caswell in a state of insurrection, when there was not an armed man in either county. He sent his armed minions to arrest and imprison innocent men; to hang by the thumbs and neck men to extort confessions; to deter voters and keep them from the polls; to run others out of the State; to molest women and children; and finally defied the civil Court and the civil law. Thus he executed the laws of the State! As long as he conducted his affairs by intrigue, he could humbug the Northern Republican masses. But the drop scene is hoisted, and the hideous diabolism is revealed—honest men of all parties, look on with amazement, loathing and disgust. With them military commissions "are played out," and the creature who would revive them is scorned.

CRIME IN THE NORTH

is by no means uncommon. Look in any daily paper and see the record of crimes. Has any one ever known one of these Governors, because a few crimes had been committed, to declare a county in a state of insurrection and send an army to arrest men and prevent their trial by a civil Court?—If there is one who would dare do such a thing, it would result in his political doom, if not something more serious. Now that the war fever has subsided, dram head Courts are not tolerated. Even "the holy ride" which formerly controled the ballot box of Kansas, has ceased to have its outspoken admirers. The little tyrant in the South who has heard of war and seeks the warrior's reputation by sending out cadets from "these Headquarters," in times of peace, is placed in the category of Don Quixote, but when he violates the law and disarms justice, he is considered a criminal. The artillery, those "fast shooting guns" sent to your State to frighten voters, might, with as much propriety, have been sent to New Jersey to hunt elephants.

THE ARREST OF MR. TURNER, of the SENTINEL is received with indignation. It is considered an act of sneaking revenge and personal malignity to one who has the boldness to expose the lawless conduct of a so-called Governor.

THE AMUSEMENTS

of the day are horse races, boat races, yacht races, saturday and the European war. In which thousands of brave men must pour out their blood as a libation to the wounded honor and frivolous ambition of King and Emperor.

The following extract of a letter to a friend in this city, is from a source which entitles it to all confidence. The writer resides in the State of New York but is fully posted in North Carolina affairs:

"The Noble-hearted Democracy of the North, sympathizes with the faithful Democracy and Conservatives of the good Old North State, in her present triumph over the meanest and most malignant of vulgar despotisms, ever before attempted to be perpetrated upon respectable people in this hemisphere! Of course the infamous legislation and the awful swindles of the Holden Carpet-bag government cannot be wiped out. Grass and apply the pruning knife until you clear the political limbs of these of Radical thieves, swindlers and robbers."

Weldon is making big preparations for an Agricultural Fair.

LEXINGTON, N. C., Aug. 9, 1870.

Editor Sentinel:—Dear Sir: We wish you and all the good people of the State to rejoice with us to-day. We have elected the entire Conservative ticket except Register over the Radical candidates. "Sound the loud timbrel o'er Carolina's Right arm."

This is glory enough for one election. Gen. Leach is also elected to Congress by a good majority. I repeat, rejoice with us, all good men, for old North Carolina ("may Heaven bless her,") is redeemed from the bonds of Radicalism.

The carpet-bag and scalawag has spoken and repudiated Holden and his war upon innocent people. By the way present our compliments to Gov. Holden and say to him that we thank him for calling out his militia to aid us in the election, and in future we advise him to recollect that cavalry (such as militia) like young chickens, come home to roost. We also beg leave to thank him for the great service the Auditor, his man of contingencies, has rendered us in the election. And we shall also ever be grateful for the services of the "male man, W. F. Henderson." I assure you he has helped us a great deal in carrying this county for the Conservatives, notwithstanding he and Adams are Radicals, yet their character is so foul and they have become so obnoxious to the people that they have determined to go against them on all and every occasion. I assure you that we have men to represent us in the next Legislature that any county might well be proud of.

Frank C. Robbins for the Senate, a brother of Senator Robbins of Rowan, a good and pure man. These two brothers we know will stand up for the best interest of North Carolina. For the Commons we have Jacob T. Brown a promising young lawyer and Jacob Clinard a merchant and farmer of irreproachable character. With such men as these we hope to see our good old State soon take the position she deserves and we also hope soon to see the disgrace and ignominy imposed upon her by Holden and his thieves removed, and that prosperity and happiness may once more be our portion. We to-day feel proud of our people and our State and even of our county. For the last two years I have been almost ashamed to tell a man that I was from Davidson County, but now thank God we can hold our heads up and feel like men who have achieved a great victory, done a great deed and defeated a thieving Radical party. To the Hon. Josiah Turner, Jr., and the prisoners of Alamance and Caswell we extend our heartfelt sympathy to each and every one of them, and we would assure them that they are not forgotten in this their hour of affliction by the good people. We are glad indeed they submitted so quietly to their arrest, as we are satisfied that out of the multitude of their sufferings the State has been redeemed and we hope soon to see them restored to their families and friends, and we feel that they should be honored as Heroes the remainder of their days. The people of this county openly call for the impeachment of Holden on the assembling of the Legislature, for his arrest of innocent men and his complicity with swindlers and thieves in robbing the State. I think nothing short of this will satisfy an indignant and an outraged people. Since the election in Lexington and the defeat of the Radicals, there has been a plot discovered whereby Adams (the Auditor,) and some of his co-workers intended to have some ten of our best citizens arrested, but up to this time there has been no arrests, and the accused parties have demanded an investigation. The Radicals seem to die hard up here. The plot alluded to above is as follows: It seems that a mean and villainous negro was hired by some still meaner white men to make a lying statement, as follows, that on the night of the election he (the negro,) was concealed under a prominent lawyer's office in this town, and while there he heard the lawyer and some ten men meet in the room above and that they decided to kill a great many prominent Radicals in the State. This is the most infamous lie that the mind of man could conceive. In the night aforesaid no one was in the office above mentioned, all of the men alluded to were at their respective homes long before this negro says they were.

The lie is so palpable that no one believes it, not even the negroes, but I have no doubt that the Standard will harp over it and herald it to the world as a new K. K. K. development.

The negro since that has run off—and I understand he said before he left that he had been hired to make this statement, but had not been payed. Look out for him down at Raleigh, with some big lie as to being run off from Lexington.

Excuse my lengthy communication and in conclusion allow me to congratulate you on the able manner in which you have conducted the SENTINEL since the arrest of the editor.

Yours truly,

REDEEMED.

For the Sentinel.

STATESVILLE, Aug. 10, 1870.

Editor Sentinel:—The people of Western North Carolina are more than jubilant over the victory which God has given us in the late election contest, where civil liberty and justice were arrayed against tyranny and outrage, and prevailed to the extent of an overwhelming defeat of Holden and Radicalism! The battle was strong but the people were stronger, and stormed the rebel citadel of corruption. Henceforth North Carolina will take a new start in government and prosperity under the just laws it will be enacted, to be administered by virtuous and just officials, who will have the welfare of the people as of old, at heart.

Our citizens have hastily made up a small purse and sent it to Hon. Josiah Turner Jr., as a tribute of their appreciation of his efficiency in the canvass and sympathy for him in the outrage of his imprisonment for denouncing scoundrels—such as Holden.

Tell the Sheriffs of the various counties, not to pay a dollar of tax money into the public Treasury, before the assembling of the Legislature, if they can legally refuse to do so; that it may not be used by Holden to pay the cost of his army, for the Legislature will not appropriate a single dollar for that purpose, and every dollar that may have been so used, will be required of the officials. Let them note this.

X.

THE Virginians must have a spite against "our" Senator Pool. Not willing to allow him to remain quiet at Cobb's Island, immediately upon landing that pleasure resort he is arrested in Norfolk for debt—he gave bail, however, and came on his way rejoicing. What's the matter with the Senator's purse? The parties arresting him will doubtless be brought before the bar of the Senate next session for interfering with the privileges of a Government Bonds. Item.

A colored man, reading the telegraph office, lost sight and hearing the night of the boys when touched by the operators, returned to a companion and said: "De sceery machine made heap of noise." The pair hailed an instant, listened intently and then moved away, satisfied that the mysterious hearing at once was only the attachment of the cable. Both "conservatives" are supposed to have voted for Dockery.

Mr. Editor: I have been solicited to take the very popular Company which I had the honor to represent in North Carolina alone, which most of the Abolition and Radical companies have adopted. The disadvantage, together with the unwillingness of many new Companies to do business, also claimed to possess unusual charms, together with the extraordinary solicitation presented by the Excelsior induced me to accept the agency of the Excelsior Mutual Company, whose plan combines all the popular features of other Companies, and presented to this State, without an exception, and the additional privilege of deposit of policies, which also holder can not afford to keep on hand, or to deposit in Banks. Inclosed is one of the many letters of praise for whose benefit the policy was devised, and an actually Bond which provides an income to such through life, or for a series of years as proposed. Circulars giving full explanations and any other information will be cheerfully given.

The great financial crash approaching, will be people with first class solicitors, to push the business forward in the Old North State, to this position which our low rates and short expenses entitle her to occupy.

P. F. PESCUD,
June 2-d3tw3m Gen'l Manager.
