THE SENTINEL.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1870.

Mr. John S. Ramsay, 4th Richmond Clerk, is authorized to make contracts and give receipts, &c. &c.

We are authorized to announce Mr. William R. Pell, Jr., of this city as a candidate for Reading or Assistant Clerk of the State Senate. Mr. P. has been the Reporter of the SENTINEL in the Senate for several years.

Sept. 2-1f.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday morning last about 12 o'clock, Jacob Grausman, aged about 7 years, son of M. Grausman, Esq., of this city, while playing about the freight train at the North Carolina depot, met with a sad accident. It seems that little Jacob without the knowledge of his parents, left his home in the morning and went to the depot, where large numbers of little boys are in the dangerous habit of leaping on and off the passing trains, and when the freight train arrived would jump upon the cars as they were being shifted from place to place. At the time of the accident, the little sufferer was riding on the platform of one of the cars, when a sudden jerk of the train threw him under the wheels, which severed both of his legs just below the knees. No hope of his recovery is entertained.

Let each father and mother imagine the victim to be their child. A word to the wise, &c.

P. S. We learn since the above was written that the right leg was broken and the left crushed about the ankle. He died in about four hours after the accident.

FIRST BALE.—The first bale of new cotton for Wake County, reached the market here this morning. It was raised, picked and ginned on the farm of Mr. Jeff Fisher, near this city, will class about "middling," and was sold to our enterprising Commission Merchant, Lynn Adams, for 20 cents per pound. Success to Wake farmers and Raleigh merchants!

A BOTTLE OF WINE.—The Local returns his profoundest thanks to Mrs. J. M. Perkinson, of Wake, for a bottle of very superior grape wine, of her own manufacture, sent him on Saturday. Such tokens of kindly remembrances are cherished and will be long remembered, and call forth the sincerest wishes of the recipient for the health and happiness of the donor.

BUILDING UP.—Our friend on Market Square, George T. Stronach, Esq., don't intend that any body shall be looking down his chimney to see what is going on, so he has set the brick masons to work to run up his store another story. This is rendered necessary in order to make room for the large quantity of goods his increasing trade requires him to keep on hand.

A HAUL BY THE POLICE.—We understand that the police made a haul, on Friday night, of one Captain, one Lieutenant, three non-commissioned officers, and one private, of the "First North Carolina State Troops," for disturbance of the peace, and lodged them in the guard house. On Saturday morning they were up before His Honor, Mayor Harrison, who fined each $5. If they go on at that rate they will want the injunction dissolved at an early day.

COMMISSIONERS' MEETING.—The City Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting on the 1st inst. We notice from the published proceedings in their organ, that accounts, &c., allowed for last month, amounted to $8,335.26, and one account for candles, of $44.70, laid over. After enumerating the objects for these allowances, salaries, night police and work on the street, the general statement is given, "for sundry other accounts making $4,524 80." This is something like the "contingencies" in the State Auditor's report. Salaries of officers, pay of night police, and street work, which one would suppose are the main items of expense, amount to $1,330.44, and on the top of this we have "sundry other accounts," $1,524 80! What are these "sundry other accounts" for? Now that the tax payers are being harrassed for their taxes and threatened with distraint for raising them, they would like to know.

Farris must be one of the most useful members of the House, as we notice that out of fifteen "motions" before the Board, Farris made eight of them. He may be called a moving member. We hope he will move, at the next meeting, to let the tax payers know what these "sundry other accounts" were for, and what nett income the city realizes from the new market house.

We have it from good authority that the indebtedness of the City of Raleigh is between $80,000 and $100,000. We will put it at the lowest figures. On this debt the City is paying annually 8 per cent. interest, that is $ 6,400. Taking August as an average of the monthly expenses, ($3,335.26) we have for the ordinary expenses of the City for the year, $40,023.12. Put this sum and the annual interest together and we find that the tax payers of Raleigh are saddled with a yearly burden of $46,023.12—an amount equal to the entire expenses of the State Government not many decades since. What do you all think of it? With these facts staring us in the face, these "sundry other accounts" become a question of importance.

PERRY'S "VITALIA," although not generally known, will darken gray hair to the exact shade it was before it began to fade. Among the triumphs of toilet chemistry it stands pre-eminent. It is clear and never sticking, and its merits already is a "household word."

Sold by all Druggists and fancy goods dealers.

It is rumored that Judge Watts, of the 4th Judicial District, is about to resign, and it is hinted by the Durham correspondent that there is trouble about the $3,000 bond he was said to have accepted, have something to do with his resignation.

A NEW FEATURE.

On Thursday afternoon of the present week, Josiah Turner, Jr., made affidavit before Justices Dick and Settle, of the Supreme Court Bench, and demanded a bench warrant against W. W. Holden, George W. Kirk, Geo. B. Burgen and one Hannicut, white, and Alexander Ruffin, colored, for unlawful arrest and confinement in prison, inhuman treatment, &c.

The Justices invited a discussion of the question, especially as to the power of the Judiciary to arrest the Chief Executive officer of the State, and secondly, the status of the two Counties that have been declared in insurrection.

On Friday Mr. Bailey argued the questions, taking the ground that the Governor cannot be arrested, and secondly, that civil process cannot be executed in the insurrectionary counties, (although they have been executing bench warrants in Alamance for the last two weeks.) He was evidently travelling up heavy grades in his effort.

Judge Battle took the opposite ground and in a short and telling argument demolished the monstrous theory contended for, that any man in this county is too exalted to be amenable for his acts to the laws of the land. Every one who listened, was convinced of the truth of the position taken by Judge Battle, except those who did not intend to be convinced.

On Saturday morning the Justices announced their decision, granting bench warrants against all the parties included in the affidavit except Governor Holden.—Justice Dick, in rendering the decision, which was concurred in by Justice Settle, took the ground that a warrant cannot issue against the Governor for an excess of authority in the discharge of his executive functions. For any charge of this kind, the Court of impeachment is the proper forum for inquiry into the abuse of executive authority.

The warrants against the other parties were issued with instructions to be executed any where in the State, except in the counties of Alamance and Caswell.

We give this simple statement of facts in this case—comments hereafter. Thus, so far as these two legal lights are concerned, we have a new feature introduced in the doctrine of legal accountability in this country.

AMERICAN RAILWAY MASTER MECHANICS' ASSOCIATION.—This association held its last annual convention in Pittsburg, Pa., on the 15th and 16th of September 1869.—From a published report of the proceedings now before us we notice that, while the North and Northwest was very fully and ably represented in the meeting, the South has but few names in the list. Among those from the South is that of our fellow citizen, J. B. Gayle, Esq., Master Machinist of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company, a gentleman of superior mechanical attainments and of fine social qualities, to whose labors and efforts the Association was indebted for much information, not only in regard to the railroad system of his section, but for practical hints in the economising of labor and power in the material department of Railroading.

The next annual Convention of the Association will be held in Philadelphia on the 14th of the present month, and we learn from Mr. Gayle that he expects to be present. We hope others of our intelligent Southern Master Mechanics will go also.—Let the South be fully represented, so the world may know that we are not so deficient in this department, as neglect in this respect has heretofore led the world to believe we are.

The Salem Press tells the following snake story:

A few afternoons since one of our respected Winston dames had occasion to enter her bed room, and upon looking towards the bed she was seized with sudden terror; for there, upon the white counterpane, lay a huge snake comfortably coiled, and rejoicing in an afternoon nap in the lady's snake can. Rushing from the room, she called loudly to her spouse who at once seized a broom handle with a variety of other warlike implements, and made for the bed.—A few well directed strokes "did" for the snake, who decided to take it as passively as if he was under a dose of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup. A nearer inspection, and lo! his snakeship turned out to be nothing more or less than one of those long braids or coils of hair which ladies now use to twist back of their heads, and come the Grecian style. It belonged to the lady herself, and it is decidedly believed that a scamp of a husband put it where it was found, although "opponent saith not."

The Shivering Season.

The loss to the laboring classes of the United States caused by fever and ague, has been estimated at upwards of two millions of dollars per annum. Whole settlements are sometimes prostrated by the disease, and it is regarded in some localities as one of those visitations of providence which cannot be avoided. This is a mistake. As certainly as any of the evils which are invited by neglect may be forestalled by precaution—so certainly may an attack of intermittent (or remittent) fever be prevented by fortifying the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in advance of the season, at which this scourge prevails. Prevention, it is needless to say, is the wiser policy; but it is exceedingly to know that where time has not been taken by the forelock, and the pernicious germs actively developed, a complete cure may, in all cases, be readily effected by the use of this powerful vegetable tonic. The reputation of the Bitters as a specific for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and general debility, has in some measure thrown into the shade its merits as a preventive and cure of other ailments, but all who have used it, either as a preventive or specific, are unanimous in its praise. Still assert that it surpasses in efficacy all the antidotes for malarious fevers, and that no specific can be more positively recommended for those purposes, while as to the same rests entirely upon the evidence of the public.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Saturday Evening Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Secretary of State has a telegram from Motley, announcing the surrender of the whole French army at Sedan with the Emperor.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Telegram's special London dispatches from the seat of war report a brilliant Prussian success. Twenty thousand Prussians and ten thousand French lay dead and wounded on the 1st.

From other sitting telegrams we gather the following: McMahon was moving to the relief of Metz when he was encountered and thrown back by the Germans, who pursued steadily. The pursuit involved serious conflicts. There was a serious check at Sedan on Tuesday, where McMahon pressed on the heights of Vous, near Carignan, and the Emperor came. On that day thirty thousand of McMahon's troops were attacked between Mouzon and Sedan; this was the battle of Beaumont. The French were driven over Mouzon to Monzon. The encounter on the other side was in Prussia Mayence between Douzy and Bazeilles and in that severe engagements the Prussians turned French right, necessitating their retirement on Sedan, from which they again renewed the fight on Thursday, where they were driven into the fortress at Sedan.

FOREIGN.

BRUSSELLS, Sept. 3.—On yesterday McMahon was completely beaten and shut up in Sedan. His last road to Paris has been cut off.

Bazaine has been completely beaten before Metz by Frederick Charles.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—The Prussians who entered Belgium, surrendered. The officers of both armies were set at liberty on parole.

Bazaine has been completely beaten before Metz by Frederick Charles.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Journal de Paris says that the French were utterly defeated. McMahon and the Emperor are prisoners. The French soldiers massed into Sedan were officers, many officers escaped into Belgium.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Journals denies that the reported insanity of the King of Prussia is confirmed.

The Journal Officiel of this morning represents every event of the campaign as success of the Emperor.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The Journals of this city says that the French were utterly defeated. McMahon and the Emperor are prisoners. The French soldiers massed into Sedan were officers, many officers escaped into Belgium.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Journals denies that the reported insanity of the King of Prussia is confirmed.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—[illegible] Sept. 2, 1-30 P. M. From the King to the Queen:—A capitulation whereby the whole army are prisoners of war has just been concluded with Gen. Wimpffen, commanding instead of Marshal McMahon, who is wounded. The Emperor has surrendered himself to me, as he has no command, left everything to the Regent at Paris. His residence I shall appoint after an interview with him. Hostilities to be fixed on, immediately. What a course events with Gods guidance, have taken.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Germans are urging William to declare himself Emperor of Germany.

There is great excitement and anxiety to learn whether the surrender involves a cessation of hostilities and the unresisted occupation of Paris.

A dispatch from Berlin says that since Wednesday that Bazaine has sought to escape North, which was always frustrated. It is really believed in Paris that McMahon's action on the offensive, on Thursday, destroyed the Prussian's left, driving the Crown Prince back of the hills of Argulnes.

Saturday Night Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Bancroft, Minister to Berlin, telegraphs the State Department that Napoleon in his surrender stipulated that it should be without prejudice to the Paris Regency.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 3.—Dispatches have been received from Paris via the French cable, but the Paris agents of the Press is silent whenever in the hands of the Censor, who forbids the transmission of political news. The news of surrender caused intense excitement in Northern cities.

The property stolen from the Methodist Book Concern was returned to-day by a messenger, who could give no account beyond that he was directed to deliver the package.

Sunday Night Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Mr. Jones, at Brussells telegraphs to the State Department a full confirmation of yesterdays news.

Mr. Washburn telegraphs from Paris to the State Department that many had heard of McMahon's defeat, and the capture of Sedan, but did not know whether the Emperor was a prisoner or in Belgium.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 4.—A cable dispatch from Paris, dated September 4th, says: Cresson and Ministers have issued the following proclamation:

To the French People:—A great misfortune has been upon our country, which fairly [illegible] of the Emperor, Napoleon, [illegible] of the army in the place of Marshal Bazaine, General [illegible] Wimpffen who was made prisoner, was badly wounded and has turned the capitulation. This great reverse will not make our country, Paris is to-day in a formidable state of defence. The military forces of the country will be organized in a few days. A new army will be under the walls of Paris, and another army is forming on the banks of the Loire. Four populous [illegible] and your energy will save France. The Emperor has been made A prisoner in the struggle. The Government is armed with public powers will take all measures required by the gravity of events. Signed, Count de Palikao, Chevreau, Higault, Defencendry, Jules Brame, De La Tour, De Auvergne, Grandet Parrot, Clement Paternotte, De Kerguz Millaud, Silhouti Jerome David of the Council of Ministers.

In the Senate yesterday the Minister of War, stated, we have learned through various unofficial channels, that Marshal Bazaine failed in his recent attempts to run the blockade from hostile armies, which held him shut up around Metz. All the forces were [illegible] of Paris is [illegible] Paris [illegible] the valley of [illegible].

Bazaine after endeavoring to join Mcmahon in the direction of the North, was obliged to return. In the extreme of Sedan there were several days of fighting with alternations of success and reverse but we contended against the enemy numerically our superior and in spite of the most energetic efforts, the attempt seemed to have terminated in an unfortunate manner for our arms. Other advices of Prussian rights still more unfavorable but do not appear to us worthy of credit in all cases and the government is not willing to give them an appearance of and entirely by communicating them to the public. Our reverses afflict us but it is impossible for us to witness without [illegible] emotion, so much courage and so much devotion rendered unavailing; but this spectacle so far from taking away our energy, augments and doubles it—Marched along with swinging stride, saw at once, by men's faces, that something extraordinary was going on. It was soon plain that the troops were in the lightest possible marching order; all their knapsacks were left behind and they were carrying nothing but cloaks strung around their shoulders, whilst that one or two were [illegible] had retained their camp kettles; just as if they were leaving them behind. Cartridges cases were then hanging heavily in front of men's belts, unlightened as they ought to be, to place extraordinary powers in the hands of General Trochu. Comte de Palikao and the chamber protested.

(We given the above as we get it. It is confirmatory of the defeat of the French, but we can't help thinking the Prussian agent was drunk or demoralized when he got it up.—Ed.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Germans are urging William to declare himself Emperor of Germany.

There is great excitement and anxiety to learn whether the surrender involves a cessation of hostilities and the unresisted occupation of Paris.

A dispatch from Berlin says that since Wednesday that Bazaine has sought to escape North, which was always frustrated. It is really believed in Paris that McMahon's action on the offensive, on Thursday, destroyed the Prussian's left, driving the Crown Prince back of the hills of Argulnes.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—The Radicals have nominated Madison for Governor. The Liberal Republicans who withdrew, nominated Gratz Brown for Governor.

CANADA.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Campbells mission to England resulted in giving Canada a voice in the future guarantee of the fishing regulations, and placing Canada claims for Fenian raids on the footing with Alabama claims.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Paris telegrams continue to say that McMahon may hold out under the shelter of the fortress, and that Bazaine's position is good. He lacks not her provisions nor munitions. Martial law has been declared in Algieria.

The Russian press is a unit in its sympathy for Prussia.

MUNDEL-HEIM, Sept. 3.—The Prussians captured an officer and four Chasseurs at the early train yesterday. The railroad parallel is nearly finished.

MALLCOURT, Sept. 3.—The troops which finally drove Bazaine back into Metz, were the first and second corps and the Landwhirly. The cabinet accompanied around the army and Morseville.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—Midnight.—Official from the armies North. The last battle in the past five days is considered indecisive, though the losses are very heavy. The journals here report the attack on Paris by the Crown Prince and Prussians, and being able to leave McMahon and Bazaine in their rear. It is well understood in Germany, that Paris instead of making peace will defend itself to the last extremity.

The enrollment of men between 25 and 35 years of age will give in a few days an additional force of three hundred thousand to the national army. The entrance of the French army corps into Sedan, cutting telegraphs and Railroads in all directions, is complete.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—A Metz letter dated the 2nd says: Since the battle of Gravelotte, twelve days had passed without giving the French an opportunity to leave the entrenchments. The French have been unable to prevent the Germans from entrenching themselves. The garrison, including citizens and refugees, count a number two hundred thousands.

The particulars of the battle of the 1st is still deficient, though it [illegible] is thought it [illegible] favorable to the French.

The Empress regent made a demand for a truce, first by letter and then came in personality and surrendered.

[illegible], Sept. 3.—The French in Belgium are about [illegible] with four hundred artillery wagons, two guns and a thousand horses.

[illegible], Sept. 3.—Three thousand French, including one General officer and two Imperial staff officers, crossed the Border and surrendered.

MAYENCE, Sept. 3.—Strasburg opened a rebuke fire this morning, and made a sortie which was repulsed.

MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Cotton advanced [illegible] 300 bales, Middling Uplands 26½; Flour quiet. Wheat quiet 2 to 3 cents lower. Corn dull 60 to 65. Pork nominal. Lard dull; Rosin 17 to 17½.

Money 5 to 6, sterling nominal at [illegible] Gold closed at 14½ to 14½; Governments quiet but very strong; 6's at 1 ½; State securities quiet but firm.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 3.—Cotton closed [illegible], Uplands 9½, Orleans 9½; sales 15 000 bales.

To the French People:—A great misfortune has been upon our country, which fairly [illegible] of the Emperor, Napoleon, [illegible] of the army in the place of Marshal Bazaine, General [illegible] Wimpffen who was made prisoner, was badly wounded and has turned the capitulation. This great reverse will not make our country, Paris is to-day in a formidable state of defence. The military forces of the country will be organized in a few days. A new army will be under the walls of Paris, and another army is forming on the banks of the Loire. Four populous [illegible] and your energy will save France. The Emperor has been made A prisoner in the struggle. The Government is armed with public powers will take all measures required by the gravity of events. Signed, Count de Palikao, Chevreau, Higault, Defencendry, Jules Brame, De La Tour, De Auvergne, Grandet Parrot, Clement Paternotte, De Kerguz Millaud, Silhouti Jerome David of the Council of Ministers.

In the Senate yesterday the Minister of War, stated, we have learned through various unofficial channels, that Marshal Bazaine failed in his recent attempts to run the blockade from hostile armies, which held him shut up around Metz. All the forces were [illegible] of Paris is [illegible] Paris [illegible] the valley of [illegible].

Bazaine after endeavoring to join Mcmahon in the direction of the North, was obliged to return. In the extreme of Sedan there were several days of fighting with alternations of success and reverse but we contended against the enemy numerically our superior and in spite of the most energetic efforts, the attempt seemed to have terminated in an unfortunate manner for our arms. Other advices of Prussian rights still more unfavorable but do not appear to us worthy of credit in all cases and the government is not willing to give them an appearance of and entirely by communicating them to the public. Our reverses afflict us but it is impossible for us to witness without [illegible] emotion, so much courage and so much devotion rendered unavailing; but this spectacle so far from taking away our energy, augments and doubles it—Marched along with swinging stride, saw at once, by men's faces, that something extraordinary was going on. It was soon plain that the troops were in the lightest possible marching order; all their knapsacks were left behind and they were carrying nothing but cloaks strung around their shoulders, whilst that one or two were [illegible] had retained their camp kettles; just as if they were leaving them behind. Cartridges cases were then hanging heavily in front of men's belts, unlightened as they ought to be, to place extraordinary powers in the hands of General Trochu. Comte de Palikao and the chamber protested.

(We given the above as we get it. It is confirmatory of the defeat of the French, but we can't help thinking the Prussian agent was drunk or demoralized when he got it up.—Ed.)

As the commencement of the Diarrhœa, which always precedes an attack of the Cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, that is convenient, and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer also. Should the diarrhœa or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes until the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given as is done.

The Pain Killer, as an internal remedy, has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Asthma, sores in the throat, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely.
