RALEIGH COTTON MARKET.

Reported by A. G. Lee & Co., wholesale Grocers and Cotton Factors, Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 6th.

Receipts [illegible] 91 bales.

Middling [illegible]

Ordinary [illegible]

Tuesday, [illegible] of Mess. Orlando and [illegible] custom.

FOUND, on Fayetteville street, on Monday, a gold breastpin, which the owner can hear of by enquiring at this office.

BUCKETS.—We have seen [illegible] at the store of Messrs. Shotgrew and Meeks, some days ago, samples of water buckets manufactured by Hutchinson & Bishop, of New Bern, which, a credit to the manufacturers and to the manufacturing enterprise of the State. These buckets are [illegible] brass hooped, and in price and workmanship will compare favorably with any we have ever seen of Northern manufacture.

We are told the establishment of these gentlemen is very extensive, and all their work is done by machinery run by steam. They manufacture all kinds of wooden vessels for [illegible] in quantities to meet any demands likely to be made on them.—We would advise any of our readers in want of a nice article of good to examine those offered by Messrs. Saunders & Monie.

SPECIAL PREMIUM.—An enterprising gentleman and friend of the State Agricultural Society and the ladies, authorizes the Executive Committee to offer a special premium of $10 for the best specimen of embroidery exhibited at the State Fair, a special Committee will be appointed to award it.

THE UTLEY COTTON GIN, manufactured by Mr. Thomas H. Briggs of this city, seem to be in demand among the cotton farmers of the country. We have seen several on wagons, during the last few days going out into the country, and the [illegible] of this press is attested by the favor it receives from those who have used it or seen it operate.

THE HENDERSON FAIR.—On to-morrow, (Tuesday, the 11th,) the Henderson Fair will open. We [illegible] of our citizens going down. We have not heard many speaking of going, but [illegible] that several will go from Raleigh and from points between Raleigh and Henderson if the running of the trains will permit. But the present schedule will not give our citizens time enough at the Fair. If the Company could change the running of the trains so as to leave Raleigh immediately on the arrival of the Western train, and then change the time of leaving Henderson until just time to connect with the same train in the evening, there would many more go down than will go under the present arrangement. There has been no announcement, however, that we have heard of, of such a change.

TEMPERATURE OF RALEIGH.—The following statement, furnished us by a friend, will show the comparative range of the thermometer, at Raleigh, for the months of July, August and September, 1869 and for the same months of the present year, and may be taken as a fair average of the years generally:

[illegible] TAYLOR, Esq., retired to [illegible] months ago. He has been [illegible] and to address [illegible] Railroad [illegible] at [illegible] cannot be determined to him.

The [illegible] of the citizens of Robeson county in [illegible] the disposition of that county are likely to prove successful. They are known to be in a swamp known as Long Branch, and a company of 150 men, white and colored, are picketed around the place.

Oysters are beginning to come in plentifully in the Newbern and Wilmington markets since the cool change in the weather.

The District Conference for Wilmington district of the Methodist Church is now in session in Wilmington.

The matter elicited much interest, and many members made remarks commendatory of the report, and urged the necessity of taking immediate steps to influence emigrants of a thrifty and moral class to come [illegible] in contradiction to the false reports that have circulated in regard to the South.

After an animated debate of some length the whole matter was re committed, in order [illegible] bring the whole ground, might be prepared for publication in both this country and Europe.
