Exporters tell us they usually calculate ... to 4 per cent. tare on the cotton they ship to Liverpool or the continent, but on N. C. cotton they lose 7 to 8 per cent. and they cannot therefore pay full prices for it.

Some of our Exporters here have positive orders not to buy N. C. cotton purely on account of the extra tare on light bales and extra tagging.

Cotton should be put up in as near 500 pounds to a bale, with just enough bagging to cover it, without lapping at the sides or heads of the bales.

Most of the transportation Companies carry cotton by the bale and they charge as much for a 300 lb bale as they do for one weighing 500 pounds. The expenses attending upon sales are generally "per bale." Consequently the less number of packages the planter sends forward the less will be his expense.

There is no objection to the staple of N. C. cotton; in fact it is conceded that it is equal to that raised in Georgia, on the uplands, and but for the style in which the bales are put up, would bring equally as good prices. We write you the foregoing not for publication over our name, as it might be construed by some as an advertisement. We do it in the interest of the citizens of our old state whom we have so long known. You are at liberty to make such use of this letter that you may deem proper, but not to use our name, unless it be required for. Hoping this may not be an intrusion and that the information may be of service to our friends.

We are Sir, yours very truly,

BARCH, BURNES, & Co,

MR. EDITOR: There were several mistakes in the speech of Dr. R. K. Speed, as published. We would be pleased to see them corrected.

In the third paragraph of his speech is the following: "To say to any man, you have done your duty is no compliment.—'Tis none from us to you"—should be, "'Tis none from us to "you." In the 5th paragraph, "We welcome you as the healer of civil strife, as the captive's liberator, the quieter of vaulting ambition that o'er leaped itself, the restorer of civil law and the great moderator in these degenerate," &c.—should be great "vindicator in these degenerate" &c. The speech as published closes as follows, "Whose deeds entitle him to stand as the peer of a Henderson; a Graham; Ruffin or a Badger." Where Graham's name is, "Gaston's" should be.

Mr. Editor, I had the pleasure of hearing Dr. R. K. Speed make the speech alluded to above, at the reception of Judge Brooks, on his return home. It was a complete success. I never saw an assembly of people so effectively and happily moved as were those who listened to the Doctor that day. All seemed to feel, that though most tyrannically oppressed for so long a time, the day of full deliverance is at hand—that they have strength of will, bright evidence that we are fast approaching again, if we have not already attained to a country of do-right States, where passion and prejudice are fast giving way to reason and justice.

Our people, Mr. Editor, are now quiet and contented under the surety of a just and equitable State government for the future, and they are cheered with the strongest hope, or just such a change, in the General government.

Much has been written by your Western correspondents as to the proper man to be chosen as the United States Senator. We are not exercised at all about the matter here, for we feel well assured of the composition of the legislators elected. If our great favorite in this section, Dr. Speed should not be chosen to fill that high and responsible position, one like him—bold, fearless, able—and that would "rather be right than be President," will be.

CHIEF JUSTICE RUFFIN.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It has been said that some but "an Appelles should be allowed to paint an Alexander." I know that the committee of invitation thought so, when they invited Gov. Graham to deliver an address on the life and character of such a man as the talented Judge Ruffin.

At one time in life, I did not think so highly of the superior abilities and profound statesmanship of Gov. Graham, but upon carefully with him in the recent Convention, I found that I had greatly underrated him; for I now consider that he has not his superior, (if his equal) in North Carolina.

Nothing but my age and infirmities, could possibly prevent my coming on to hear the address, for I know it will be a most masterly production.

I think it more than probable, that my not appreciating Gov. Graham's talents as I ought to have done, arose somewhat from our differing though life in politics; he being an old line Whig, and myself, the strongest kind of a secessionist.
