Baptists in North Carolina authorized to use their name on the price of round trip tickets from Raleigh to Wilmington, all visitors to the State Agricultural Fair, and a like class, came from all other points on the North Carolina Railroad.

WELLS FAIR.—The fair at Wellington opened on Tuesday last. Our "local" is there, who will give us an account of it.

Our friends, the young ladies of our church, in two days, three of our girls have been taken away by worthy young gentlemen of other pious. Well, there are others left, and they have hours to be won.

FAIR AT WILMINGTON.—The annual Agricultural Fair at Wilmington, opens on next Tuesday. Every effort has been made to get up a grand exhibition. It will be seen that the Railroad fare has been largely reduced, and a large number of visitors is anticipated.

Memorial Day at Newbern.—We stated in our paper that the memorial services of Gen. Lee at Newbern, were very interesting. We regret that our space will not allow us to repeat the poem of Rev. J.
C. Van pronounced on the occasion, or the beautiful speech of Mr. Hughes, before our readers.

A gold ring was found yesterday morning near the Market House. The owner who can identify it, can obtain it by applying to this office.

The Waddell Sisters may congratulate themselves on their recent musical and literary attainments. Their mother, Mr.
George Kuhn. Such a one is rarely to be found in a traveling company.

A RECENT MAIL ROUTE.—We have had for months daily through train by the Chatham Railroad to Haywood, and thence to Asheville for travelers, but no mail on that route. It is an important mail route. Chatham and Moore counties are almost isolated for the wants of mail.
The road through which it passes is a cotton country, and the people feel the want of mail. If the matter were properly presented to the Postmaster General, we think he would give it a daily mail. We hope soon to have a representative in Congress who will urge the matter.

"Great King's Glass" makes Furniture, Toys, Crockery, all ornamental work.

A NEW ADVERTISING BONANZA.—Every time a lady who uses fragrance, Sainton, opens her mouth she advertises the article.
The state of her teeth is a certificate of its excellence. No spot darkens their surface, no impurity clings to them, the cushion in which they rest are pure, and the breath that comes from them is sweet as the breath of roses.

$1,000 Reward is offered by the promoters of Dr. P. F. Purdy's Medical Disease Discovery, for a confidential witness to his cure of all sorts of incurable diseases.
The cure of all sorts of incurable diseases is now known to Dr. P. F. Purdy, and he will give a full account of his discovery to any person who will pay him $1,000.

Piano—Opinion of an Artist.
Gives me great pleasure to testify to the superior quality of the piano I play. The piano is a fine instrument, well built, and finely finished by Mr. James Parsons at the Tucker Hall, Baltimore. The stability of touch, and great animation and brilliancy of tone I consider as unequalled. Dr. P. F. Purdy, who was a student of mine, has given me a full account of his discovery, and I am sure that it is a true discovery.

STATE ITEMS.
J. H. Everett and three of his accomplices robbed the robbers committed at the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, were brought to trial for the robbery on Wednesday.

The store of P. B. Key of Edenton was entered by robbers on Sunday night, last, and a quantity of goods stolen. Several negroes have been arrested and some of them will be tried.

A CUNNING CASE.—A post mortem examination was held on the body of Mrs. M.
Stevens, deceased, whose death by suicide was reported yesterday, which elicted the fact that the brain was sufficiently affected to make it difficult to know what caused death, although from the circumstances, it seems the cause was the power of imagination. She had a good mind, and a good memory, and had a large and happy family to support.
Her mind was the position and I trust the General Assembly will confer upon her.

A CONSERVATIVE.
The Newbern Times says that Dr. Ardell of Carteret was not nominated by the Republicans of that county for the Senate, but by about six disaffected members of the party, in the rear of a barber's shop.

The construction expenses of the Convention of Wilmington for the past fiscal year amounted to $20,000.

A CRAFTSMAN'S PRIDE.
Relationships, if not correct or the weather was uncertain, you would not be foolish enough to go outside without an overcoat or an umbrella. Now the former is, then, to protect yourself from the dangerous effects of walking more important than either of these articles.
Accept your umbrella and a warm coat regulate your time and your health, and you will be safe from the elements, and feel comfortable and attractive. However, it is not an ornament, but a useful accessory, and it is a good idea to have one always with you.

ENGROSSING CLERK—COL. PAUL BAILEY.

—I hope the many friends of Col. G. H. Faribault will not be backward in urging upon the General Assembly the strong claim which he presents for their support as Engrossing Clerk.

He is a good practical business man and a man of integrity. As an admirable soldier in the late war, he bore himself nobly during the struggle. He was an old Democrat and is an ardent supporter of the Conservative cause. Like most of us, the war ruined his pecuniary and, and he has a large and helpless family to support. He merits the position and I trust the General Assembly will confer upon him.
