Connection.—In publishing, a day or two ago, a list of the members of the Committee on Propositions and Grievances in the Methodist Conference, the name of "Martin" should read "Marler."

Attention, Hanover Fire Co.—The annual meeting of Hanover Steam Fire Engine Company will be held in their Hall, on Monday evening next, 9th inst., at 7½ o'clock. The by-laws exact a heavy fine on members for non-attendance at this meeting at which the election of officers for the ensuing year, and much other important business will be transacted.

School No. 1, (colored) near the Grave Yard, will be opened to-day, Richard Young having been employed to take charge of the same.

The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina convenes in this city to-day.

A New Paper.—We have received the Prospectus of the FRANKLIN COURIER, a weekly newspaper, the publication of which is to commence in Louisburg, Franklin County, on or about the 1st day of January; Mr. H. M. Pleasants, proprietor. Mr. Pleasants is a practical printer of some years experience, and is capable of getting up a good paper. Our Franklin friends need a live, go-a-head, active paper, to stir them up on several important matters, and we hope the Courier may receive their hearty support.

Gen. D. H. Hill has on exhibition at the Charlotte Fair, a Turkey gobbler that had set on and hatched out several eggs. The offsprings of the maternal gobbler were with him.

The Charlotte Fair was a decided success. On Thursday it is estimated that at least fifteen thousand persons were in attendance.

The Western Democrat, the office of which was destroyed by fire a few days since, will be resumed in about two weeks. We wish Mr. Yates better fortune hereafter.

The first annual Fair of the M. Y. and C. A. and M. Society of Charlotte commenced in that city on Wednesday, under flattering auspices. The Observer of the 1st inst. says the prospects as indicated so early are very encouraging. Yesterday Gov. Vance delivered a Memorial Address on the Fair Grounds, upon the Life and Character of General Robert Edward Lee. The exhibition of stock, fancy work, mechanics manufacture and so forth very good; and the crowd of ladies and gentlemen present, quite large. May all have the happiest time.

The Southerner says that Mr. Wm. D. Duggan, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, is serving as constable for the Grand Jury now in session!

Mr. Ashley, Superintendant of Public Schools, have sent $1,927.25 to be used in carrying on the public schools in Edgecombe county. There are 7,709 children in the county, and the Superintendant gives them about 25 cents a piece for their education.

Mr. John Rhyne, of Gaston county, while running a horse race at the Fair at Charlotte, on Wednesday, was thrown from his horse, and had his left leg broken just above the ankle.

The census shows that North Carolina has gained 70,005 inhabitants during the last ten years, and now has a population of 1,072,000.

No impurity can infest the teeth cleaned daily with Sozodont. Quillay, the bark of the Chilian Soap Tree, an article which possesses properties superior to those of any other known substance, is one of the ingredients of this peerless compound. Sozodont is the only dentrifice in existence in which this salubrious botanical product is incorporated.

N. C. ANNUAL CONFERENCE, METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH.

SECOND DAY.

Rev. W. B. Wills, a minister of many years standing, and in connection with this Conference, whose health has been so seriously impaired for some time, asked to be transferred to the unstationed list;—instead of granting this, the Conference adopted the following resolution by a unanimous rising vote, to-wit:

"Resolved, That with all due respect to the request of our beloved brother, Rev. W. H. Wills, and entertaining a high regard for him on account of his great and long-tried devotion to the cause of our Zion, and his arduous labors for a long continuance of years, as an active itinerant, in building up the Methodist Protestant Church;—we do with loving hearts, venture to decline to grant his request "to be transferred to the unstationed list;" but from our love for him and for the Church, in order that the Conference may enjoy the benefit of his counsels and experience, we do venture to retain his name upon our journal, praying God for his restoration to health and strength, and that we may as a Conference once more have the happiness to see him sit among us."

Ministers and Laymen coming in to-day, renders the Conference as full as it will probably be. I think there are now about forty members present.

Letters were received from Rev. L. W. Bates, D. D., of the Maryland Conference and Rev. W. J. Roberts of the Holston Conference; Fraternal Messengers appointed by their respective Conferences, stating their inability to attend. Much regret seems to be entertained on account of the failure of the reverend gentlemen to be present.

There was an expression of hope that Rev. Daniel Bowers of Baltimore, who was appointed colleague of Rev. Dr. Bates, would be present ere the adjournment of the Conference.

The election of President, which took place this afternoon, resulted in the choice of the incumbent of that office, Rev. A. W. Lineberry, who has so faithfully served the church during the past twelve months.

The written report of his operations—read yesterday—for the Conference year just ended, occupying some fifteen pages, sets forth the condition of the whole work, as observed from his stand point. The District over which he is appointed general Superintendent—a sort of quasi Bishop, extends from the seaboard to Buncombe, and gives the executive officer heavy work and extensive travel.

Six nominations, under the direction of the membership of the respective churches and neighborhoods, were made for the place of holding the next annual session, and the Conference warmly solicited on behalf of each; yet no determination was had—the selection being waved for the present. S.

STATE DEBT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Baltimore, Md, Nov. 29, 1870.

Mr. Editor: Having three-fourths of my property invested in the ante-bellum bonds of the State of North Carolina, I am much concerned about the disposition to be made of the question of compromise and fifty per cent reduction of the State debt suggested some weeks since by the SENTINEL and by Gov. Holden in his late message. While submitting to whatever may be the decision of the Legislature now in session, I desire to present most respectfully, a few thoughts for consideration.

Two years ago, the taxables of the State were reported at one hundred and twenty millions. Since then values have increased thirty millions or fifteen millions a year.—The State now has one hundred and fifty millions of taxables and more than one million of inhabitants.

With these facts, is it possible, the State is not able to pay more than three per cent interest on a debt of twenty five millions, which will be about the amount of debt that will probably be recognized by the present Legislature?

What would you, Mr. Editor, think of your private debtor, who would say to you, 'tis true, I have six times as much property as the debt amounts to; but I have been unfortunate and have met with unexpected losses, and, therefore, you must consent to take only half your claim or one-twelfth of my means?

Ten years hence, at same ratio of increase (it will be accelerated,) the State will have three hundred millions of taxables. With such means then, will North Carolina be satisfied that justice has been done to her creditors by the reduction now contemplated?

But if there is to be compromise the rate of interest should not be decided on present ability alone. The State should concede something, yea much, on the certain and speedy increase of her population and wealth.

A compromise between a State and her creditors is often all a one-sided affair.—All the power is on one side and nothing but submission on the other. The case is otherwise between individuals as debtors and creditors.

Having shown my great confidence in the people of North Carolina and participated in her just feelings of State pride hitherto, I am anxious that the flag of the "Old North" should not be lowered now. How then will the charge of repudiation of honest debts be avoided in case of present compromise and reduction? The only way I can see is that a provision be incorporated in the law for reduction assuring creditors that the interest cut off will be paid when the State shall be worth three or four hundred millions of taxables.

The State of Maryland was thirty years ago as much embarrassed in her finances as North Carolina is at present. Her leading statesmen of all parties earnestly united to restore the State's credit. Taxes were laid on to pay six per cent interest and create a small sinking fund and the people were educated to the point of preserving the State credit. The result was success and Maryland bonds are now two per cent above par. AMICUS.

For the Sentinel.

Mr. Editor:—Allow me to state, briefly, the position occupied by a majority of the House, on Wednesday last, on the resolutions reported by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, in regard to the Caswell and Alamance elections.

Mr. Phillips, in explanation of his position, said he should vote for the resolution, resting his course upon the rightfulness of the action of the Executive, inasmuch as it was strictly in accordance with law, as expounded by a majority of the Justices of the Supreme Court, which view, he thought, was supported by precedent.

Mr. Hargrove said he should oppose the resolutions, as the Alamance branch of the subject resolved itself into a matter of fact, and therefore in unseating the gentleman from Alamance he would require the Committee to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Gregory said, the question presented was not one of law, nor yet, as maintained by the gentleman from Granville (Mr. Hargrove) purely one of fact, such as would require the examination of persons and papers, but properly reported on by the Committee, and that the majority, in supporting the report, rested the case solely upon the great patent fact, as shown by the record, namely by the proclamation of the Executive and the Legislative enactment in force at the time, that the military were in full occupation and control of the State, and that they proposed to act as such, and to be stripped, as it was of all extraneous power, either of law or fact, to accomplish with the old fashioned English idea, made sacred by precedent, that not even the militia should be paraded on the day of election. A COMMONER.

DIED,

In this City on Sunday evening, the 4th inst., Mr. John B. Wyer, aged 37 years.

The funeral will take place at the M. E. Church, on Tuesday evening the 6th inst., at 3 o'clock.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Foreign advices are again confused. The impression exists that all is quiet, that the French have made a brilliant effort, and that at last authentic official news reaches their adversaries.

The French Legation here think the story of the war will be told within the next four days.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—The Cramp Iron Tube Works have been burned. The loss is estimated at $175,000. Three hundred and fifty workmen have been thrown out of employment.

NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 3.—The Tribune's correspondent at Garibaldi's headquarters at Autun, writes on Thursday that the Prussians on Wednesday attacked Autun with 12 cannon, infantry and cavalry. They were repulsed with great loss. The Prussians shelled the city. The Mobiles behaved well.

The Tribune's correspondent telegraphs at 9 o'clock on Thursday from Versailles, that the fighting on the 30th ult. was followed by no fresh movements. Yesterday (Wednesday) there was a lull in the fire from the forts. To-day there is heavy firing in the direction of Clamart.

The Tribune's correspondent telegraphs at 9 o'clock on Friday morning from Autun, that the army of the Loire was at that moment leaving Orleans and that the Prussians were concentrating at Gravelle and Salmiers.

The World's special dispatch from Tours on Friday announces that Trochu and Palladine had formed a junction, virtually raising the siege of Paris.

Berlin, Dec. 3.—The treaty admitting Bavaria into the North German Confederation has been ratified by the Federal Council. The Bavarian Diet will act on the treaty on the 10th inst.

The following is a cable dispatch from private sources:

London, Dec. 3.—By sifting the vast number of confused and contradictory war dispatches received up to this morning the fact is undeniable, that the French forces on yesterday actually won a victory, as claimed by them, near Orleans, but the Germans certainly repulsed the French attack before Paris.

It is not true that the army of the Loire has formed a junction with Trochu, though the Prussian lines were repeatedly and successfully pierced during the engagement. The bayonet charges of the French were exceedingly brilliant.

NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 3.—A London special to the World, from London dated Tours, Dec. 2nd, says: It is officially stated to-night, that one or two days must elapse before the fruits of the movements now in progress may be fully reaped. Up to this time the most complete success has attended the successive steps taken. Every movement brings nearer to each other the armies of the Loire and of Paris. During the fighting of the 30th Ducrot and Vinoy captured four Prussian guns and many prisoners.

FOREIGN

London, Dec 3.—Advices from Paris to Nov. 30th state that an order had been issued to the effect that the army movements and part orders not sanctioned by the government are not to be published on pain of suppression. The military authorities have made public the following tale of recent events around Paris: On the 28th at daybreak, a sanguinade was opened from the forts on the South of the city. On the next day General Vinoy, Ducrot and Despare moved out of the fortifications on a reconnoissance south of L'Hay and and Choesy Leroy. They attacked the position of the Prussians and carried them. The Prussians were also dislodged at Granesotres; loss severe.

Tours, Dec 3.—The Prussians are concentrating at a point 30 miles south of Paris to dispute the advance of Paladine.

Lille, Dec. 2.—Ducrot's sortie from Paris was successful. He is now seeking to effect a junction with Paladine.
