CROWS IN THE EAGLES NEST. When we think of our Congress and its Milton, to wage a coaseless war against Amnesty so stintingly granted to the South, and then think of the good, pure, able men who are ostracised, beaned by it; and farther still, think of many of the fellows who are seated in the chains nce occupied by Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Badger, John Davis, Graham; Bell, Berrien, Jefferson Davis and others of the noble great ones, we are reminded of a passage in Shakapeare, that among re, establishes the universality of his gifts-his myriad-mindedness-and the upon him who betrays his country. Such ion of his writings to every phase or experience of human life. It is in that ge, which we cannot quote just now, anot give as we have no copy of and em his works by us, in which he speaks of our high seats being debased, and the Benats es being broken open to "bring in the crows to posk the e-gles." Such creatures as Batter the Beast, Caldwell (of Kansas,) the Britter, and other corrupt scoundrols, to be enseting laws to prevent Graham and Vance and other patriots and statesnon from ever holding office, and, of me, of over again sitting as members in those halls once adorned by their virtues and made resonant with their eloquence Soph reflections as Vance said at Stateville. nake a man love the Union so much better. Gen. Grant, Democratic principles in some measure by seconding to the great revolution in his thority | I felt considerably hon much more than that man recently no favor which is sweeping over the country. In this State it is irresistible. I have nated in Ralegh who felt so proud that he was a member of the same church with sister Grant, sister Colfax and Bro been on personal terms with Mr. Grant. Greeley for some time, but there is wisdom and heartiness in the popular move-ment to apport him. I recognize in the sympathy between himself and the voting than I would be to shake hands with any masses an element stronger than talent o scalswag official, however high in offici fitness. He has the taleat and fitness to suit the temper of the times." The man who does not dignify the office in unfit for office, and I would not is unfit for office, and I would not to consent to compromise my dignity and self-respect so far as to recognize as a gen-tieman the man who has outraged my family.

This people of whom I have spoke object, an Alderney calf, a few wheeks old, with four hind-legs and two rumps and tails. Each limb, with one exception, is well developed and of the usual size This exception appears to be a leg with a joint aimilar to those supposed to be in "india-rubber men," as the hoof can be turned in any direction as easily as a crank, without giving the animal pain. Notwithstanding this calf has more legs than the law allows, it uses but three, and rest slows in a very lively way. — Way. have lately met in Ralcigh and nominated

Arr you going to vote for such a man? If so, you deserve to wear the shackles he would put upon you. You are called upon to ininction the most incendiaty effort made by any man claiming to be a gentienna to stir up one class of our people sgainst the other. He has as good as told you, that you were all spared atter annihilia-tion by the colored 'moe because of their tender merey. He is an un-principled assasin, as much so as John ''ool, (but that sounds like John Pool,and that is talking viol ntly.) He told the etfroot, four that sounds like John Pool and that is talking viol ntly.) He tald the cr-ored people they had the power to mur-der us all if they chose to. Whenever they undertake stat, they will find that they are brought in conflict with a race of superior powers and numbers. The colored people number but one to sit colored people number but one to sit the population of this country, and be-fore they could march across the confl-nent thirty siz millions of white men no snemy to the colored race. Keeping their proper positions and behaving tham-selves, as most of them do in our country and they will sivays have my protection, and selves, as most of them do in our country they will always have my protection, and whenever they attempt to rise up and murder the white race they will find me along with every other man of my race-arrayed in deadly autagonism against them. Such a proposition coming from the chief executive of our State is a token exhibiting an absence of guilantry to the fair sex, on the colonel's part, which has greatly surprised and distressed his many friends.—Pet.
