CONCERT AT CARY .- On Thursday evening last the exercises of A. H. Merritt's Male and Female High School at Cary were closed with a brilliant concert by the young lady pupils and fine specimens of declamation by the young gentlemen. The female department is under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia Pell, wife of or late Hay, W. E. Pell, so well known and beloved in this community. From the handsome manner in which all acquitted themselves it was evident that their instructors had been zealous and faithful is the performance of their trust, and the advantages of the school to be all that its friends claim for it. At the conclusion the large crowd was invited to partake of a most bountiful feast. Everybody was delighted with the entertain and declared it was the most pleasart of the kind that they ever attended.

Mr. Merritt has, we understand, deter mined to receive none but female pupils next session. For information as to advantages possessed by Cary, -its health, chesposs of board, &c., we will refer our ers to an advertisment which will appear in a few days.

MISS PATTERSON'S RECTPATIONS.-We shall not be charged by any one, who had the pleasure to hear Miss Patterson, in her itations in the Hall of the House of Representatives, on Monday evening, with undue enthusiasm, when we say that that gifted young lady delighted and entranced her large and select auditory. She gave as, altogether, in every element of refined gratification, the most enjoyable entertain nent that we have known in this goodly city, which has not been without many ecasions of intellectual and aesthetic nce and a beautiful feminine modesty the highest attractions of voice and manner. We have never heard mere melodius intonations. Her appreciation of sen timent and character is that of intuition highly cultured, and the life-likeness which she throws both into manner and expression holds those who hear her captive. Whether the immediate role morous, pathetic, or, as it were, heroic, the invests it with the true spirit, and moves the hearer to full sympathy with the sentiment and with herself.

We are proud of this accomplished young Southern lady,—proud of her tal-ents and high social position, proud of the noble motives which have urged her lute a trying field of duty, and proud of the success which she has attained, sed will continue to win, in this difficult, in
