THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION. Baltimons, July 10.—The delegates generally were in their seats by 10 o'clock. The second brass band located in the upper gallery entertained the audience with various airs of which dixie, my Maryland, and yankee doodle were equally applauded. At a quarter after 10 o'clock, the Chairman Doolittle announced that the hour to which the Convention adourned, had arrived and called the Cor vention to order. The Chairman called upon Rev. Dr. Leburn, of Baltimore, who addressed the throne of grace.

The Chair announced for the conven-ience of members of the Convention and press, that every person rising to make a motion or speak, shall announce his name and State. Cabel, of Arkansas, asked seats, by courtesy, for five delegates from Arkan-sas, in excess of their number. Agreed. Burr, of Connecticut, announced the committee on resolutions ready to report. They came to the platform, at his request, the Reading Clerk, Perrin, read the report, recommending the adoption of the resolutions already adopted by the Liberal

Republican Convention. (Cheers.)
In order that there should be no pprebension as to these resolutions, Burr alled for their reading in full to the convention, which was done, each plank in the platform being received with ap-plause. The one term plank was cape-cially well received. A call for three cheers, at the close, elicited partial re-

Bayard took the platform and said that while there was no disposition to carp at and oppose men because of former political epinion, yet he hoped that the great Democratic organization would be allowed to have an independent expression of its own honest sentiments. The Chair announced that Burr, out of respect for the minority, consented to give Bayard ten minutes more. Another Connecticut delegate objected to any man's occupying the time of the Convenman's occupying the time of the Convention in this way. (Applause and hisses,) The Chair called to order and reminded the delegates that this was a deliberative assembly, and arged the respectful, hearing of any one who occupied the floor, whether he approve his sentiments or nut. Bayard finally resumed arguing the necessity for some expression of opinion upon the question of exercise of Federal military power under the color of legislation to enforce the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Constitutional Amendments. The roll of States was called on the main question, the adoption of the plat-form, which resulted, years 662, mays 40. At the close of the calls, when Delaware voted no, there were loud hisses. The Chair appealed to the Convention to vote with respect, the vote of any and every State delegation. (The disturbance was in the galieries.) Before the vote was announced, permission was asked by the Chairman of the Alabama delegation to make an explanation in re-gard to the change which he desired to make in the record of Alabama's vote, Objection being made, the Chairman ruled that while Alabama had a right to change the vote, it could not explain it. Subsequently made, or constitution of the change the vote, it could not explain it.
