George Eliot thinks Salomon's Proverblave omitted this: "As the sore palate findsth grit, so an uneasy consciousness berewith intendoes."

Of all the virtues, magnanisity is the rarest. There are a hundred persons of incrit for our who willingly acknowledges it in another.—Harlitt. A lady asked a gentleman how old b was. He replied, "What you do in every thing." What was his age? XL.

ATTEMP AT ASSASSINATION.-As we were returning from the speaking at Tucker Hall, we learned that Mr. M. W. Churchill, the City Treasurer, had been fired at by some person who was concealed in the shrubbery ear the South West end of the expitel Mr. Churchill ran towards the North gate where he met some parfies he knew. A was made of the assawio. This is a great outrage and shows that we have some great villains in our midst. We understand Mr. Churchill thinks it was an attempt at robbery, as probably the scoundrel thought he had a considerable amount of money with him. We sincely trust that the villain will yet be discovered and punished to the full extent of the law. THE GLOBED SPEAKING.—We spent ed to be master of ceremonies. When we entered a colored man by the name of Smith, from Washington City, was speaking. He is a sharp fellow, and has a calm. forceful style. In fact he is decidedly a good speaker. name familiar to every man, followed Smith. He has an imposing presence, has white hair, is some sixty or sixty-five years of age, is tall, well made, and erect. He wears a black moustache and is of mulatto color-rather dark-and as he said, has relations both among the whites and blacks. His manner is deliberate, calm, and yet at times bold and emphatic

His voice is not clear and ringing, but rather husky. We learn that his voice was once very fine-loud and sonorous but it is now broken and rough. The part we heard was sensible, good tempered and dignified. When we remembe the occasion and its surroundings—that it was a freed negro addressing freed negroes, it was singularly calm, courfeous and commendable. We think the color ed speakers-Smith and Douglass-are incomparably better bred and better speakers than Boutwell, or Wilson, or Delano, if what we heard of the last three be true. We would advise Caldwell and t. Louis, on Monday night, was indeed a other radical native speakers, to follow

> Douglass is not now a great orator if he ever was. He is not a very profound thinker, we should suppose, although an say this, we do not mean to-underrate his abilities, for they are evidently very good. He will not rank with highly educated, vigorous whites—with our leading men; but he is head and shoulders above the carpet-baggers and scalawags, if we except a few in this State-Phillips, Pool and two or three of the Judges. We do not doubt that Douglass will do bitter against the whites. He will do good in another way—he will teach his white slikes how to copy the manners of dignified, well-bred gentlemen.

LOOK AT YOUR TICKETS.-There is no end to radical tricks and rascality. They are beginning to tamper with our tickets, A gentleman of Payetteville writes us of the date of 24th inst.;

the date of 24th inst.:

I have this day seen a ticket purporting to be a State Conservative tecket, but I no tice for the office of Auditor, the name of our carpet-bag, defaulting ax Sheriff is substituted for that of Col. Leaventhorpa. This ticket came from Robeson in which county I understand they have been freely circulated. This is got up for the purpose of defrauding the good people of Robeson hoping that these tickets may be voted without the names being noticed. This man John Reilley was detected in 1870 in changing county treasurer's receipt from ordinary taxes to school funds and now we find him circulating spurious tickets. I expect these tickets have been sent to different counties, and I write this that you may put our friends on their guard for I think they like the good people of this county, have had enough of carpet-bag rule. This ticket was printed either in Raleigh or Wilmington and I advise our friends all over the State to look out for them.
