We regret to learn that Mrs. Husteed received a severe fall day before yesterday.

Willis McNeill, col., was committed to the guard house yesterday morning for riotous conduct on the streets.

A fisticuff occurred yesterday morning between two colored gentlemen on Wilmington street.

Rev. R. Burwell will preach at the Presbyterian Church, morning and night, on Sunday.

W. F. Askew Esq. and family of this city are at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, Va.

Major J. M. Blair, formerly of the Yarborough House of this city, has opened a hotel in Statesville.

Magnin, the radical coroner elect, performed a prominent part in the funeral obsequies of John Pool on Thursday night.

Letters at the post-offic or Mrs. Joseph C. Mass, Franklinton and Messrs M. & H. Schrenkeisen, No. 17 Elizabeth Street, New York, are held for lack of proper postage.

The Grand Lodge of the colored Masons of this State will meet in this city on the 10th of next month. A Masonic banner will be presented to the Grand Lodge by the "Court of Heroines of Jericho."

Anne Yates, a colored woman about 25 years of age, Thursday night by some means fell into an old well on the Gales lot, just in the rear of the SENTINEL office. The well is dry and about 25 feet deep. Her cries attracted a number of citizens and the police to the spot and she was speedily rescued. Though a good deal bruised she was not seriously injured. How she came to fall into the well remains a mystery, but being a radical it is supposed she wished to drown her sorrow over the decapitation of John Pool and the defeat of Peru Settle.

MORE STABBING.—We learn that on Wednesday night last, Mr. Burton Dupre, who resides about six miles south-east of this city, had a difficulty with a colored man during which he received a severe stab in the right side. We have not learned what lead to the difficulty or the real extent of Mr. Dupre's injuries.

WASHING FLUID.—Five pounds of sal soda one pound of borax, one half pound of fresh, unslacked lime, four ounces of liquid ammonia. Pour one gallon of boiling water upon the soda and borax; when it is dissolved and has cooled, add the ammonia. Slack the lime in one gallon of hot water, and let it stand till entirely settled, when the clear fluid must be entirely poured off. Turn it upon the solution of soda and borax, and add to the mixture eight gallons of cold water. Put the clothes to soak the night before washing day, with six tablespoonfuls of this fluid to a tub full of clothes.

ELECTION RETURNS.

We have corrected the subjoined table as far as we have been able to do so. The returns that have been sent to us or that we have gathered from other sources have generally proved fallacious and untrustworthy. Our figures based upon them have been correct in the main. If the returns heard from are to be relied upon the radical State ticket is elected by from 300 to 1,000. We do not undertake to say at the present writing how the final count will show. There have been vast frauds perpetrated, and it is altogether probable that the polls will be purged as far as possible. Such a purgation may result disastrously to Smelfungus.

EDITORIAL CHANGES.—Owing to the election news and press of work we have failed to note that our friend C. W. Harris has retired from the Battleboro' Advance and Mr. J. R. Williams has become the editor. Success to both gentlemen. We have noticed before that Mr. Harris had become editor of the Wilmington Star.

Mr. Houston has also withdrawn from the Reidsville Record, having disposed of his interest therein to Mr. Albright, who will conduct the business.

In another column will be found a despatch from New York, which will excite more than ordinary interest throughout the country. The exposures that are being made in reference to the Lunatic Asylum at Bloomingdale will fill the public mind with horror and demand the most rigid examination from the authorities. If the facts thus set forth be proven, swift and condign punishment should be meted out to all the parties implicated.—Balt. Gazette.

WAIFS AFLOAT.

To Rowers—Can a dead man steer his own corse?

Dreadful news from Clerkenwell—The clocks have struck.

A countryman saw a skeleton of a donkey in a local museum. "How odd we look without flesh!" he said.

A man is not like a chicken—The older he gets the tenderer he becomes. Young ladies, please note!

Mrs. Jones' colored coachman being told that his cockade is a badge of servitude, replies that, on the contrary, "it am a sign of delivery."

"Is your house a warm one, landlord?" asked a man in search of a tenement. "It ought to be; the painter gave it two coats recently," was the reply.

There is nothing like a good definition, as the teacher thought when he explained the meaning of "old maid" as a woman who had been made a very long time.

A Chemist, discoursing of drugs, asserted that all bitter things were hot. "No," observed one present, "there is one of a very different quality, and that is a bitter day."

THAT TORCH LIGHT PROCESSION.—Thursday night the radicals of this city celebrated their "victory" by having a string of howling negro boys carrying torches through the streets, headed by the band. Windy Billy Henderson, Tom Long and a white coated individual, whose name we were so fortunate as not to learn, were the only grown persons in the procession. It was amusing to see with what dignity of mien Billy assumed while marching along with his blazing light-wood in hand. He was the personification of condescension, and looked just as if he was never accused of being a rogue. Tom Long looked as if he didn't want to be thought proud and was participating to prove it. From the expression of stern Roman-like virtue upon his face no one for an instant would have thought he was one of Billy Smith's defaulting railroad agents. The white-coated man's face could only be seen now and then. He evidently was in his element. Broad grins and lusty shouts, with an occasional encouraging pat on the wooly head of some jubilant young African, testified amply as to the zest with which he enjoyed this recherche affair.

The marshals were a nice set. The air of respectability which they bore was elegantly severe in its simplicity. Ike Young, young Dave Jenkins, Tim Lee, the eloquent Joseph and some four or five of the colored gentry ran this part of the machine. Up and down the line they dashed upon their noble steeds issuing their orders in language the most choice. One of these sable officers yelled out, "I say, Tim Lee, you jist git whar you belong." "Whar you gwine Ike Young, why de debbil don't you stay at your end of de line," &c. These high bred gentlemen would affectionately and politely respond, "Oh, you go to h—ll," or make some other courteous and appropriate reply.

Amidst this rejoicing there were some tokens of mourning. On the transparencies appeared the names of Settle, Furches, Dockery, Candler, McKay and Pool, and a wagon which accompanied the procession contained a bell which set forth doleful notes of mourning over the political death and blasted hopes of these poor men.

At the Court-house old Smelfungus, Peru Settle, Jim Harris, negro, Tom Long, Sam. Phillips, and several others made the usual disgusting radical harangues, which were greeted with hearty applause by their very appreciative audience.

To speak seriously, the whole affair was a disgrace to any community claiming to be decent and civilized, and no man with the faintest glimmer of intelligence or a shadow of self-respect would have participated in or encouraged such a disgusting exhibition. The most turbulent and ignorant negro in the yelling crowd, in point of genuine respectability and simple honesty was far ahead of any of the white men who mingled with them. We hear, though we did not see him, that Sam Carow trundled his unwieldy carcass along with the procession and edified his friends with a minute description of his fraudulent operations in Beaufort county.

THE PEABODY EDUCATION FUND.—The following is the plan of distribution of the Peabody Fund:

Donations are not made to colleges, academies, or any private, sectarian, or charity schools.

There will be given for well regulated Public Free Schools, continued about ten months of the year, and having a regular attendance of not less than

100 pupils, averaging 85 per cent,				$ 300
150	"	"	"	450
200	"	"	"	600
250	"	"	"	800
300	"	"	"	1000

The people are to pay for current expenses at least twice as much as they receive from the fund, and bear all expense of erecting, repairing and furnishing school houses. They are to grade their schools and provide a teacher for every fifty pupils.

Applications for assistance should be addressed to Rev. B. Sears, D. D., Staunton, Va., and forwarded to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Raleigh, N. C. The application for each school should state the facts of the case briefly and clearly, and be approved by the School Committee of the Township in which the school is situated. No claim for a share of the Fund can be admitted where a special contract has not been previously made.

ALEXANDER McIVER,
Supt. Public Instruction.

The Jesuits in Peru are to be dealt with after the fashion of Bismarck with the slight difference for the worse that their property is to be confiscated.

CAPT. R. A. SHOTWELL.—Our readers will remember that this gentleman, formerly editor of the Rutherford Vindicator, is one of the unfortunate victims of Grant's tyranny and Judge Bond's corruption, and is now a prisoner in the Albany (N. Y.) penitentiary. He was carried there last October. Some reports were in circulation some time ago that he had made some disclosures in order to obtain pardon. We have the best authority for saying that all such reports are positively false—that Capt. Shotwell not only has not made any confessions or disclosures, but that he has none to make. In confirmation of this, only the other day, the well-known abolitionist, Gerrit Smith, paid a visit to the Albany penitentiary, and has given an account of it in a letter recently published. In it he says, to Capt. Shotwell's great honor, that he remains stout-hearted and defiant, and by way of relaxation, studies law.

CAPT. S. T. WILLIAMS.—Our friend, the political editor of the News, is on his travels. He recently made a speech in Albany at the residence of Col. Filkins, on the occasion of a serenade to the latter gentleman. Capt. Williams concluded as follows:

But I have spoken longer than I intended. I will only say in conclusion, speaking as a Southern man, that the people of North Carolina are ready, willing, aye, anxious to forget the past and to unite with the North in building up in the future a great, glorious and happy country. We want to forget the remembrance of war—we want a permanent peace. Not the peace of Warsaw or the peace of the bayonet, but a peace founded upon confidence, brotherly affection and love. I know that the South is anxious to clasp hands with you across the bloody chasm. (Tremendous cheering.) I know that the sentiments of Mr. Boutwell, at Greensborough, when he protested against this clasping of hands, did not find a response in the hearts of the true patriots of America. (Cheers.) I believe the whole country is tired of dissension; I believe that the whole people are ready and anxious for a lasting peace. We are ready to join hands with you as common brethren to preserve the blessings of constitutional liberty, and hand down its government unimpaired to posterity forever, and I believe this will be accomplished by the election of Horace Greeley in November next.

Mr. Thomas Longmans, the London publisher, is very indignant at the bill passed by the Canadian Parliament as to copyright. He writes to the London Times, suggesting that steps should be taken to prevent the Queen giving her assent to the act as passed.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—The Wilmington Star pays the following handsome and deserved compliment to Hon. D. M. Barringer:

This distinguished gentleman deserves the thanks of all his Conservative fellow-citizens for the able and energetic manner in which he has conducted the campaign. The duties of a Chairman of an Executive Committee are many and arduous. He must be hundred eyed like Argus, and hundred handed like the Titan. Gen. Barringer has been both in the great canvass and election just closed. He has been unremitting in his attention and efforts. The General is getting along in years, is indeed an old man, and it is quite surprising that he has been enabled to do work usually devolved on younger and more vigorous shoulders with so much ease and such signal ability.

DIED.

In St. Matthew's Township, Wake county, on the 5th of August, 1872, NEEDHAM H. W. CRABTREE, son of John H. and Amie A. Crabtree, aged 11 years, 3 months and fifteen days.

OBITUARY.

Died at the residence of his son the Hon. John Manning, on the 3d of Aug., 1872, Capt. JOHN MANNING, aged 87 years. Capt. Manning was the second son of Joseph and Sarah Manning, who resided in Bertie n North Carolina. At an early period was noted for its excellent society, its hospitality and eminent literary men, among these may be mentioned the late Judge Iredell with whom the father of Capt. Manning associated upon the most intimate terms, and from that friendship Judge Iredell became the patron and friend of Capt. Manning, obtaining for him a position in the navy of the United States in 1812. His first cruise was with Com. Decatur still in the old Frigate United States. After serving constantly in the service as a navy officer, Capt. Manning was put in charge of the U. S. brig Bruinbridge and cruised on the coast of Brazil as well as on the coast of Africa, greatly to the satisfaction of the government, and was by the then Secretary of the Navy, Hon. James C. Dobbin, complimented for his skill and ability as an officer of rare merit and his character without a blemish. It is gratifying to us as North Carolinians to know that our departed friend was esteemed by such eminent men as Commodores Warrington, Crane and Cambridge, the heroes of the war of 1812, and that his ship mates and friends were such men as Farragut, Stockton, Shubrick, Stirling, Gardiner, Goldsborough, Tucker and Kennedy. These naval officers seemed to honor him as a gentleman of unblemished character and an officer reflecting credit upon that honorable branch of the military service of the government.

The unfortunate dissension between the States in A.D. 1861, caused Capt. Manning to resign his position as commander in the U. S. navy and tender his services to his native State, and for her he shed his blood under the flag of the U. S. Government, his disabilities never having been removed, although for his country he had periled his life, "in journeying often in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wild seas, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren," and lastly in perils among his own countrymen. This government could not forgive him for an act which so far from dimming his fame adds fresh lustre to his exalted name and sacrifices and cannonizes his great character.

As humble follower of the blessed Redeemer, this sacrificed soldier of the United States government lived long enough to forgive his enemies and to die with that unextinguished charity so beautifully described by saint Paul towards all men. Yes, Captain Manning served his country well in his department on the coast of Florida, in that fatiguing seminole war with the Indians, and the buccaneers that infested the Gulf, and shall a traitor on his name that will stand him down to posterity as one of North Carolina's noblest sons.

The writer of this sketch knew Captain Manning for many years, and never knew a better man; his judgement never clouded by jealousy; his views never obscured by partiality or darkened by prejudice, he rose superior to all considerations of mere policy, and never deviated from rectitude and truth; his good sense, judgment, & discretion and amiable manner of associating with friends, class or clime as a gentleman of most admirable qualities, and he resigned life with the same tenor and composition of mind in which he had lived and with unblemished zeal for the cause of truth and justice.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Frequent inquiries are made at the United States Treasury office, both verbally and in writing, with regard to the receiving of money derived from the sale of property belonging to the Confederates, and confiscated by this government during the late war. Many suppose the Treasury not only has the money thus collected, but is authorized to refund it. This, however, is a mistake as to the Southern States, although several small sums have been refunded to ex-Governor Letcher and others, arising from the sales of confiscated property in the District of Columbia, only.

The Republicans fired 100 guns to day over North Carolina.

The Democrats and Liberal Republicans are holding a ratification meeting to-night. There is cannon firing, torch-light procession and fire-works.

The result in North Carolina don't seem to dampen the ardor of the friends of Mr. Greeley.

The Greeley ratification procession made a magnificent display on the Avenue with illuminated banners, a constant stream of pyrotechnics and five bands of music.

FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.

MANCHESTER, Aug. 8.—Horace Greeley had a fine reception at his old home, cannon and a band of music were with the procession. His speech, closing with a happy allusion to the mutual interests of corn growers and cotton spinners and an expression of trust that sectional misapprehensions and hatred were yielding to experience, provoked nine hearty cheers.

A joint delegation from Manchester and Concord conducted Mr. Greeley to Concord to-day.

FROM CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.—A special dispatch reports a collision yesterday on the Mobile and Ohio railroad between Humboldt, Tennessee, and Troy, killing three negroes and wounding five others. The cars of one train were telescoped into each, the smoking car body passing directly over the heads of the passengers in the next car and the passengers were obliged to get out through a hole in the floor.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

After a prolonged conference, the Liberal Democrats and Reform Committee failed to agree. Subsequently Pinchback, of the Republican Committee, made a proposition to the Liberals which was accepted, giving the Pinchbackers the Congressmen at large and Secretary of State, thus effecting a fusion of the Liberals and Pinchbackers. The Democrats and Reformers demanded four places on the State ticket, including the Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

THE YARBOROUGH HOUSE

FOR SALE.

By virtue of a judgment rendered at Spring Term, 1872, of the Superior Court of Wake county, in the action entitled William H. Pool, Executor of Edward Yarborough, dec'd, vs. Hannah H. Yarborough and others, the heirs and devisees of the said decedent, I will on the first day of August next, expose to public sale, on the premises, the valuable property known as the Yarborough Hotel.

This property is situated on the eastern side of Fayetteville street in the city of Raleigh and embraces about one acre of ground. It is one of the most central points in the city, being not more than four hundred yards distant from the depots of the Raleigh & Gaston, the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, and the North Carolina Railroads; within one hundred yards of the proposed Masonic Temple; the same distance from the Postoffice and Federal Court House; on the opposite side of the street from the Wake County Court House, and within five minutes walk of the Capitol.

The hotel building is three stories high and contains forty-seven guest chambers, a dining room, two parlors, a reception room, office and three family rooms. The rooms are commodious and well ventilated; the passages broad and spacious; the dining room, parlors and office are large, well lighted and comfortable, both in summer and winter.

All the buildings on the premises are in excellent order, and afford every convenience to hotel keeping.

The terms are as follows: One-fourth of the purchase money in cash; the residue in three equal instalments, bearing interest, at six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale; the first of the credit instalments to be secured by bond with at least one good surety, title withheld until payment of the purchase money; and so long as any part of the purchase money remains unpaid, the purchaser to insure the buildings on said lot, in a sum equal to such unpaid balance, the loss if any to be applied to the payment of said purchase money; and should the purchaser fail so to insure the said buildings, I shall have the power to effect such insurance and the money so expended by me to be deemed a part of the purchase money, bear interest from date of expenditure, and be payable at the same time with the instalment of purchase money next thereafter falling due.

WILLIAM R. POOL,
Ex. of Edward Yarborough, dec'd.
