Mr. Benger, rogether with four other Englishmen, have purchased the magnificent farm of Mrs. Scott, known as Scotland, containing 1,760 acres, price $35,000. Mr. Harford, also an Englishman, has bought as adjoining farm of Mr. Norborne Morrison. Two other Englishmen and a Scotch capitalist have purchased two of the largest farms in Albemaric county, for which they paid $50,000. Altogether about $100,000 has been invested in the vicinity of Scottaville.—Scottwelle Register.

Pardo he led the revolutionists in the North, while General Canseco, whom Pardo had deposed, beaded the disaffection in the Boath. On the overthrow of Pardo the presidency was disputed between Canscoo and Balta, ending, however, in the syncass of the latter, who has administered the government with great firmness and success, adopting, on the whole, the very able policy of his predecessor. Balta paid great attention to the development of the industrial resources of that country, and mainly through his instrumentality was gotten up the National Exposition resently opened at Lima.
