We are cetting used to defeat. We are like the old lady skinning cels. When far below the skirt of the garment, and sked if she did not feel badly in causing so much pain to the poor things, she re plied, "No, she used to feel bad, but sh had got use to it,"

We had the pleasure of a visit on Wednesday from i.ev. D. E. Jordan, paster of Presbyterian Church at Oxford, who was on his way to the Synod, and from Colonel John C. Wilkerson, of Milton.

Ous friend Dr. Manning, editor of the Roanoke News, was in our office on Thursday. We were glad to see him well, although he has been recently suffering rom chills.

We regret to learn that our friend James Malone, of Leasburg, is no more. He died about the middle of September. His wife, Mrs. Mildred Malone, died within fifty hours of him.

Our venerable friend, William Lea Esq. of Leasburg, Caswell county, is a man of extraordinary vitality. He is now in his 98th year, and not only comes to the posoffice after his mail, a full quarter of mile, but is still able to ride on horseback as we use to see him ten years ago. We saw him squirrel hunting with a rifle when 88 years old. He was the honored Sheriff, of Caswell, for many years.

Our brother of the Louisburg Couries R. M. Furman, Esq., has just returned from Asheville. He has purchased the Oitizen of that place, now edited by Nat. Atkinson Esq., and will soon remove to that pleasant mountain village. We wish him great success. We regret the change in one respect. When Robert goes "to see his cousin" he will not have to pas through Raleigh, and we shall, there fore miss his pleasant phiz. A free barbeone was to be given at day. E. A. Pou, Esq., of Johnson, Greeley and Brown Elector for the State at large, and H. A. London, Jr., Esq , Gree ley and Brown Elector for this District were to speak. We have not heard the particulars. It is the first barbecue w believe that has been given in the State during the campaign. We regret to learn that H. A. London Jr., has been quite sick. He works too hard probably. Already he has made fifteen speeches as Elector and has tra versed the whole District, thus setting a worthy example for older men to follow. We are glad to know, however, that he is convalencing, and will make the " final charge" soon, as will be seen from the list of appointments that appear in to day's SENTINEL. We hope our people will turn out largely and hear the truth spoken.
