

Published by THE SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO. (Incorporated in North Carolina) at Raleigh, N. C.

The Daily Sentinel

VOL. VIII

RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1873.

NO. 96

Published by THE SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO. (Incorporated in North Carolina) at Raleigh, N. C.

HOME AFFAIRS.

CITY ALMANAC. January 2nd, 1873. Sun rises 7:11; Sets 4:58.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

YARBOURD HOUSE. Jan 1st, 1873. Dr. G. W. Blackall, Proprietor, with wife, Wm. Blackall, J. H. Tucker and wife, Mississippi; Mrs. Hawkins, Mississippi; J. A. Sadler, Charlotte; Nat. Korfolk, New York; Jas. H. Walker, Norfolk, Va.; P. H. London, South Carolina; G. N. Hatt, Charlotte; D. Lucas, Washington, N. C.; Simon G. Hayes, City; Mr. Cohen, Kentucky; J. H. Dunn, Baltimore; D. M. R. Goodloe, Warrenton, N. C.; D. W. Moore, Rocky Mount; Blair Burwell, Baltimore; Jas. E. Graham, Baltimore; J. S. Peterson, Hagerstown, Md.; Douglas Bell, City; S. Jones, City.

COTTON MARKET.

Reported by Lynn Adams, Grocer and Commission Merchant, South Market Street.

Price of cotton in our Market to-day: 12 m. - 18 1/4 cts. 1 P. M. - 50 bale. Sales - 50 " Tone of the Market, quiet.

No items at the Police Court yesterday.

SEE PROSPECTUS OF THE SENTINEL FOR 1873 ON THE 2ND PAGE.

Five shares of North Carolina Railroad stock for sale. Call on W. H. Jones.

MR. JOHN B. NEATHERY, of this City, was to-day re-appointed Private Secretary to the Governor.

Seated at the Gale Lodge, I. O. O. F., meets to-night for installation of officers. A full attendance is requested.

CHIEF. To expect the representatives of the people of the State to make an appropriation to light the streets of Raleigh during the sessions of the General Assembly.

The Penitentiary Board should have met yesterday, but from some cause or other the meeting was postponed until Wednesday next.

Mr. J. A. Partin who has for so long a time performed the duties of Chief Clerk in the Auditor's Department, has retired, and Mr. Wm. P. Wetherell succeeds him temporarily.

CHIEF. To plead economy in shutting off the street lights and throwing away thousands of dollars in spoiling our streets with red clay.

STALL RENTING. Yesterday, Chief of Police King rented out, for 1873, the stalls in the market. They rented for five thousand, eight hundred and twenty one dollars.

Major Wiley Jones of this city thinks his horse died because of little water given them, thinking they would fatten sooner, and the peas and corn were soaked in fish brine. - Era

Our details think it was more apt to have been too little corn than water.

FROGS TO DEATH. - Mr. T. M. Vestal a member of the legislature of 1868, from Yadkin county, froze to death the night before Christmas. He lived only a few miles from Yadkinville and was found leaning against a tree.

CHIEF. Who will have enough of it to nominate for re-election any member of our Board of Commissioners who has put in peril the lives and limbs of all who have business out of doors at night?

PROF. DAVIS' LECTURE. - Our highest eminence speak in the highest terms of the matter and the manner of Prof. Davis' lecture on the Holy Land, delivered in Wilmington on Monday night. The second and concluding lecture on that subject was given last night.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT IN CHARLOTTE. - We regret to learn that Guyton's Spoke and Handle Factory, of Charlotte, has been totally demolished by the explosion of a steam boiler and that great damage otherwise has been done. No particulars.

SMALL POX. - A case of small-pox was reported to the Mayor, yesterday, as existing at the house of Mr. Sidney H. Hester, ten miles from the city. The person having the small-pox is a son of Mr. Hester, just in from Mississippi. Measures will be taken to keep it away from our city.

COL. J. C. EDWARDS, of Oxford, is in the city. He has formed a partnership in the practice of the law with J. B. Batchelor & Son. Col. Edwards is not only a profound lawyer, but one well read in the politics and literature of the day. We bid him welcome to the city.

INSTRUCTION IN THE GERMAN LANGUAGE. - It is the purpose of Dr August Doopp, of this city, shortly to commence a series of classes, day or evening, for instruction in the German language. The German, next to the English, is the great living language of the age and is assuming more importance daily in the business transaction of the world. Dr. Doopp is a thoroughly educated gentleman and is particularly a fine German scholar. He offers a rare opportunity to those desiring a knowledge of German, and we trust he will succeed in this undertaking. See advertisement.

INAUGURATION OF THE NEWLY ELECTED STATE OFFICERS.

JUDGE SETTLE OFFICIATES.

Brogden, Lieut. Gov., and Riley, Auditor, Absent.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

The Lieutenant Governor elect, C. H. Brogden, not being present, Fawcett L. Hargrove, Attorney General elect, next came forward and was duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office.

D. A. Jenkins, the Treasurer elect, came forward and took the oath pertaining to his office.

Dr. W. H. Howerton, the Secretary of State elect, and Silas Burns, Superintendent of Public Works elect, took the oath and were duly installed.

James Riley, the Auditor elect, not appearing, the present incumbent, Mr. Henderson Adams, according to law, will hold over until the new officer is qualified.

Judge Settle announced that the absent officers would be qualified hereafter, and the meeting adjourned.

SUICIDE OF ROCHEFORT'S DAUGHTER.

She was not only lovely, but just eighteen. Beautiful hazel eyes, flushing fire; chestnut hair abundant as Abalam's; the bosom of Venus; a complexion as white as alabaster - she might have driven some man mad; she could have made any man happy. Instead of that she went to the Hotel des Ardennes, Rue Vert. Boile, hired by the Jewish synagogue, just off the great boulevard, a quarter of Paris justly called the hive of the great city, for in that district every floor is a manufactory and all the by-straits team with the busy bees. I said she went to the Hotel des Ardennes, asked for a chamber for a week, paid the week's rent in advance, brought in a braider and charcoal with her, and laid down dressed on the bed to die - to die by her own hand. Her mother was so poor; they had gone so often without meals; they could not see how house-keeping was to be paid; how their clothes were to be bought. The day died by her own hand, and she was only eighteen! They had been rich once; she had never known what privation and poverty were till La Comtesse fell; he wanted then they had possessed all they wanted. Her father had made his $100,000 a year clear profit; but then he had his vices - Paris Correspondence Chicago Tribune.

Sandy Stewart, one of the city street boys, fell down in a fit on the street early yesterday morning, striking his head against the stone and inuring himself pretty severely.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

The Lieutenant Governor elect, C. H. Brogden, not being present, Fawcett L. Hargrove, Attorney General elect, next came forward and was duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office.

D. A. Jenkins, the Treasurer elect, came forward and took the oath pertaining to his office.

Dr. W. H. Howerton, the Secretary of State elect, and Silas Burns, Superintendent of Public Works elect, took the oath and were duly installed.

James Riley, the Auditor elect, not appearing, the present incumbent, Mr. Henderson Adams, according to law, will hold over until the new officer is qualified.

Judge Settle announced that the absent officers would be qualified hereafter, and the meeting adjourned.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

The Lieutenant Governor elect, C. H. Brogden, not being present, Fawcett L. Hargrove, Attorney General elect, next came forward and was duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office.

D. A. Jenkins, the Treasurer elect, came forward and took the oath pertaining to his office.

Dr. W. H. Howerton, the Secretary of State elect, and Silas Burns, Superintendent of Public Works elect, took the oath and were duly installed.

James Riley, the Auditor elect, not appearing, the present incumbent, Mr. Henderson Adams, according to law, will hold over until the new officer is qualified.

Judge Settle announced that the absent officers would be qualified hereafter, and the meeting adjourned.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

The Lieutenant Governor elect, C. H. Brogden, not being present, Fawcett L. Hargrove, Attorney General elect, next came forward and was duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office.

D. A. Jenkins, the Treasurer elect, came forward and took the oath pertaining to his office.

Dr. W. H. Howerton, the Secretary of State elect, and Silas Burns, Superintendent of Public Works elect, took the oath and were duly installed.

James Riley, the Auditor elect, not appearing, the present incumbent, Mr. Henderson Adams, according to law, will hold over until the new officer is qualified.

Judge Settle announced that the absent officers would be qualified hereafter, and the meeting adjourned.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

The Lieutenant Governor elect, C. H. Brogden, not being present, Fawcett L. Hargrove, Attorney General elect, next came forward and was duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office.

D. A. Jenkins, the Treasurer elect, came forward and took the oath pertaining to his office.

Dr. W. H. Howerton, the Secretary of State elect, and Silas Burns, Superintendent of Public Works elect, took the oath and were duly installed.

James Riley, the Auditor elect, not appearing, the present incumbent, Mr. Henderson Adams, according to law, will hold over until the new officer is qualified.

Judge Settle announced that the absent officers would be qualified hereafter, and the meeting adjourned.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

SMALL CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Yesterday at 12 m. in accordance with law, the newly elected State officers assembled in the Hall of the House of Representatives preparatory to being sworn in to serve their respective terms.

The audience was rather small, considering the importance of the occasion, there being not over a hundred and fifty persons present.

Judge Settle, of the Supreme Court, and Gov. Caldwell entered the hall to gether and took seats on the Speaker's stand. When the audience became seated Gov. Caldwell arose, and addressed them as follows:

My friends, I have the honor to officiate in obedience to the will of the people of North Carolina, I appear before you to-day to assume the office of Chief Magistrate of the State for the next four years. It has been customary, fellow citizens, and almost universally so, that the Governor of the State of North Carolina should be inaugurated before the Legislature of the State. On this occasion, however, there is a departure from the general rule, for the reason that the General Assembly is not in session, and the Constitution provides that I shall take my oath before one of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

Gentlemen, I accepted this honor chiefly upon the solicitation of friends, and am sorry that I did not prepare myself with a little speech for them on this occasion.

In assuming this high and responsible office, fellow citizens, I will ever regard it as a point of duty to take care of the interests of the people of North Carolina; I do not mean to act the part of the partisan in this office. Of course, where I have patronage to bestow, other things being equal, I shall give such patronage to party friends judiciously, and in a manner consistent with the privileges of my office.

I shall endeavor to discharge my duty to the best of my ability. When I can not fill the office from my own party acceptably to my fellow citizens, I shall consider it my duty to select a good man from any other party in the State. He shall be a good and true Republican in the State of North Carolina will approve my determination in this respect. I hope, however, that I will be able to find in our own party intelligent, well-educated and honest men enough to fill the offices.

I desire, in conclusion to tender to you, and through you to the people of North Carolina, my most sincere thanks for the generous manner in which you bestowed your suffrage upon me for the highest office within the gift of the people, and to give the assurance that in the discharge of my duties I shall have an eye single to the interest of my beloved State, and to all her citizens, without regard to party; and while I claim no immunity from just criticism, I bespeak in advance a fair hearing and honest judgment from the public.

I am now, my friends, ready to take upon myself the oath of office.

At the conclusion of the Governor's remarks, Judge Settle arose and said:

I will now administer the oath of office to Gov. Caldwell, Governor elect of North Carolina, for the next four years.

The Governor, taking a book from the hand of the Judge, read aloud the oath of office, and the ceremony of inauguration was over.

CORRECT THE STOMACH.

It is well ascertained physiological fact that the origin of the most of the ailments, inasmuch as it is a condition of the alimentary canal. The bowels become constipated and sluggish, and there arises a train of painful and distressing maladies. As a preventive and cure, there is no remedy so safe and sure as Dr. TUTT'S Vegetable Liver Pills.

Dr. TUTT'S Vegetable Liver Pills.

Dear Sir - I have been an invalid for five years, and have with fortitude and patience tried nearly every stout medicine known to the people of this country. It being suggested by some of my friends to take your Vegetable Pills, for which I am under obligations of great obligation. It being a favorable one, I propose to state the effects. I weigh more than I ever did, and my health is far better than it has been in five years. I certainly give all the credit to your Pills; and as soon as there is an increase in the family you may bet if it is a male that his name shall be TUTT. Publish if you please.

J. A. DONALDSON.

Dr. TUTT'S Hair Dye and Magic.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A SAWYER WANTED.

I want a good Sawyer for a Mill near Auhu. One skilled in the use of tools and knowledge of milling preferred. Apply to J. H. GRIFFIN, 214-214 W. 2nd St. Auhu, N. C.

RALEIGH NATIONAL BANK OF N. C. JANUARY 1, 1873.

A Dividend of Six per cent. on the capital stock has been declared for the last six months, payable to the stockholders on Monday, 6th instant, at the Bank in this city. - C. DEWEY, Cashier.

CLASSES IN THE GERMAN LANGUAGE.

At the request of numerous persons desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the German Language, the undersigned will, as soon as a sufficient number have signified their intention to attend, open classes for thorough instruction in the grammatical construction and composition of the German Language. Application may be made to the undersigned at the "Centinel" office.

JAN 2nd AUGUST DOEPP.

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S OLIVE SOAP.

Is made from the best materials but sold at prices of ordinary soap. 5 or 1000 Families using it. All Grocers have it. J. T. BUZZY & CO., Baltimore, Md. Jan 1st.

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S "Light of Day" Soap.