THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., Editor.

RALEIGH, N. C.:

WEDNESDAY, MORNING, JAN. 15, 1873.

COULD NOT FIND HIM.

The Governor in his inaugural promised to appoint Republicans to office if he could find them capable. Having searched in vain, in his own party, for a Superintendent of Public Instruction, he has found one in the Conservative party in the person of Hon. Kemp P. Battle.

We publish the correspondence between the Governor and Mr. Battle. We subjoin what the Era has to say on the subject:

The Raleigh News has been much exercised of late, for fear that Gov. Caldwell would appoint some Democrat Superintendent of Public Instruction. The News was neither so factious nor apprehensive about the time it was receiving the State Printing through the aid, co-operation and management of leading Republicans, in and out of the Legislature."

We did hear, long before the Legislature met, that the radicals and certain Democrats in this city were arranging matters so as to give the State printing to the News at 80 cents per thousand ems. The price even was stated and the member who was to introduce the bill. We received this information through Democrats and we now give the evidence from the Republican side of the house, to be taken for what it is worth.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

For some months we have been collecting the facts connected with this road, its mortgage and its management. At last Gov. Caldwell has waked up to the fact that the State has an interest in the road. To-morrow we propose to give such facts and figures as we have been able to collect. The mortgage was the ruin of the company. Gov. Caldwell was a leading member of the board of directors when the mortgage was made and the money borrowed.

When we give our facts and views to the Legislature concerning this great work, we shall then leave it in the hands of the Governor and the Legislature to fight out with Swepson's ring and the Pennsylvania Central.

If the Legislature makes no provision for paying the State debt, it can surely raise, if needs be, in sixty days, by immediate taxation, two or three hundred thousand dollars to save from loss and ruin six millions of property.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

We have a letter from an old time Democrat, giving us information of the conspiracy entered into by Democrats with Swepson's Ring to buy out or break down the Sentinel. He says that a member of the old Executive Democratic Committee stated to a leading Democrat of the State, that the SENTINEL had to be broken down and the conspiracy was entered into last session by Swepson's Ring and certain Democrats. The letter was rather fierce upon the Speakers and the Committee and as it did injustice to some persons, we decline for the present to publish it.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature convenes to day after a month's holiday and mingling with their constituents. A number of members arrived on yesterday.

We regret to state that Capt. Welch, the Senator from the 41st district, has lost his wife and is detained at home seriously ill.

We welcome the members again to the city and their seats.

THE SENATORIAL MUDDLE.

The Southern Home of the 13th contains a long letter from Governor Vance in reply to the card of Dr. Love and Col. Humphrey. Having published the card, to-morrow the Sentinel will contain the reply of Gov. Vance.

HILLSBORO', Jan. 13, 1873.

MR. EDITOR: What will the Legislature do on the subject of usury and interest?

To make eight per cent lawful and allow parties to contract for as much more as suits them is to establish eighteen per cent as the lawful interest. Who has borrowed of banks at less than eighteen per cent? I will vote for no man who allows a money lender more than eight per cent., and that is too high by half.

As many robbers as we have banks in North Carolina could not do more mischief to morals and property that banks who loan money at eighteen per cent.

Put this in your paper for two weeks and advertise me and send me the bill.

Yours,
AGAINST USURY.

We will insert twice and no charge, if it is all the same to our correspondent.

REMARKABLE MEMORIES.—Dr. Johnson, it is said, never forgot anything he had seen, heard, or read. Burke, Clarendon, Gibbon, Locke, Tillotson, were all distinguished for strength of memory. When alluding to this subject, Sir William Hamilton observes: For intellectual power of the highest order, none were distinguished above Grotius and Pascal for not anything they had ever read or thought. Leibnitz and Euler were not less celebrated for their intelligence than their memory, and both could repeat the whole of the "Æneid." Dentilus knew the 'Corpus Juris" by heart, and yet he was one of the profoundest and most original speculators in jurisprudence. Ben Johnson tells us that he could repeat all that he had ever written, and whole books that he had read. Themistocles could call by their names the twenty thousand citizens of Athens. Cyrus is reported to have known the name of every soldier in his army. Hortensius (after Cicero the greatest orator of Rome) after sitting a whole day at a public sale, correctly enumerated from memory all the things sold, their prices, and the names of their purchasers. Nebuhr, the historian, was no less distinguished for his memory than for his acuteness. In his youth he was employed in one of the public offices of Denmark. Part of a book of accounts having been destroyed, he restored it by an act of memory.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

RALEIGH, 14th January, 1873.

KEMP P. BATTLE, Esq.:

Dear Sir—The office of Superintendent of Public Instruction having became vacant by the death of Rev. James Reid, it devolves upon me to fill the vacancy. This is an office of great importance to the people of both races, and the success or failure of our common schools is largely dependent upon the qualifications and fitness of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. After maturely considering the matter in all its aspects, I have determined to tender the office to you From a long acquaintance, I believe you possess, in an eminent degree, all the qualifications which are necessary and requisite to make our common schools a success, and that your appointment will give general, if not universal satisfaction. I am further persuaded that your freedom from political prejudice and intolerance will prompt you to take as much interest, and manifest as much zeal, in behalf of the education and moral culture of one race of our fellow-citizens as of the other; and that you will know, or favor, or ignore no one on account of his or her race or previous condition; but that you will administer this office, and discharge its duties impartially and without favor or fear. I trust, sir, that you will accept the accompanying commission, and give me your valuable aid in an honest effort to build up and maintain a good system of common schools in our State.

I am, sir, very truly,
Your obedient servant,
TOD R. CALDWELL,
Governor.

RALEIGH, Jan. 14th, 1873.

His Excellency Tod R. Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina:

DEAR SIR:—After careful deliberation I deem it my duty to accept the position of Superintendent of Public Instruction in North Carolina, which you have so unexpectedly tendered me.

The course of popular education should be raised above all partisan considerations. Reciprocating and honoring your motives in endeavoring to effect this great object, as shown in the appointment of one not of your party, I shall labor with earnest desire, as the constitution provides, to diffuse the light of knowledge equally and impartially among all the youth of the State, without bias of politics or bias of race.

To aid in relieving the intellectual famine of the rising generation, in removing from the State the blight of ignorance, in rekindling the extinguished fires of our venerable University, once so honored and useful, in placing North Carolina abreast with the most cultured of English speaking people, is surely worthy the ambition of any man.

Deeply impressed, notwithstanding your favorable opinion, with a sense of my want of the requisite qualifications to accomplish the task, yet intending to bring to the work industry and zeal, I will enter on my duties, relying on your efficient aid, as well as on the co-operation of the Board of Education, the Trustees of the University, and most of all of the Legislature of the State.

Thanking you for the kind terms of praise with which you accompany my commission,

I am, very respectfully yours,
KEMP P. BATTLE.

For the Sentinel.

ORANGE COUNTY, Jan. 10, 1873.

MR. EDITOR: The interest I feel in the success of the Democratic party and the prosperity of the State, induces me to say a word or two to the Legislature through the SENTINEL.

The questions disturbing the harmony of the party are two: the senatorial and the public printing. With a majority of twenty four in the Legislature, I feel that the Democrats should have elected the senator without the aid of the Republican party. When it was ascertained that neither Vance or Merrimon could be elected by the party, the proper plan was to have given up both and elected a new man. Neither side could have claimed a victory. When Wm. B. Meares and Judge Donnell divided the party, nearly forty years ago, as to who should be Senator, after a fierce contest, the party took up and voted for Hon. Bedford Brown. This healed the breach, neither side could crow over the other.

But my purpose was rather to speak of the printing than the Senatorial question. A committee, but not the Legislature, have awarded the printing to the News.

We copy the following from the News of December 23d:

"FRAUD TO PARTY.

"We bow to the will of the Conservative party alone. Our paper was not established to advocate the claims or promote the interests of any individual or individuals, who may aspire to office or desire to test public sentiment.

"We profess to have in view the interests of the Conservative party—which we place above the interests of any man's ambition.

"So long as we have a Conservative party—so long as that party has any organization, we propose to adhere to that party and to stand by that organization—even if in doing so we should be compelled to yield our private judgment and do violence to our individual feelings.

"Occupying this standpoint, we shall do all in our power to preserve the Conservative organization and to silence the voice of faction and discontent in our ranks.

"It will be folly to close our eyes to the fact that there are causes at work which threaten to disturb that harmony and good feeling which are so essential to our political success in the future. Realizing this condition of affairs, believing that the welfare of North Carolina depends upon the maintenance of Conservative principles, we deprecate the evils that will follow the dissolution of our party.

"But, whatever the errors that may have been committed in the past, it is time to look the future in the face and to inquire as to the policy that duty, common sense, judgment and patriotism demand at our hands. These teach us to stand strictly by party organization—to yield to the will of the majority—to deal leniently with those Conservatives who have differed with us in the past to refrain from abuse and denunciation—to sacrifice passion and feeling on the altar of the party—to learn individual interest and sight view in a common effort to restore harmony and kind feelings in our ranks, and thus preserve the party from utter ruin and demolition.

On the other hand the editor of the Sentinel says that he never bolted a party nomination. He says nine out of ten of the Democratic members were for giving the printing to the Sentinel. Yet it was given to the News. We say the proper and only way to settle the question is by the party in caucus. Who objects to this? Not the News, for it says: "We bow to the will of the Conservative party." Not the Sentinel, for its editor says he never bolted a nomination. Who, then, but the Legislature can make mischief to the party out of the public printing?

It was destructive of party organization when eighteen members refused to abide the nomination for Senator. I have no hesitation in saying that it is more destructive of party organization to have the Speakers appoint a committee who, against the will of the majority of the party, give out and dispose of the public printing. The manner of doing this will be considered in every township of the State, and no man can justify it. If the party will give the printing to the News, that settles the question. If they will give it to the Sentinel that settles the question, or if they will give to neither, but to one of the party editors who have served the party and the State, that settles the question and punishes both the News and the Sentinel.

Six years may heal the breach made by the Senatorial election, for the bolters were open, bold and defiant, and they dare to justify themselves. The action of the committee on printing was wanting in candor and frankness to say the least of it.

Having said all I wished upon the subject, I must leave the matter where it properly belongs, with the Legislature, subject to the approval or condemnation of people.

I am respectfully yours,
WM. N. PATTERSON.

THE CREDIT MOBILIER INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1873.

The Credit Mobilier investigating committee resumed its session this morning, and the examination of John B. Alley was continued. Witness testified, in reply to question by Judge Poland, that the list of dividends exhibited heretofore to the committee included the list of dividends on the $47,000,000 contract of Ames, dividends on the latter did not appear on the Credit Mobilier books. In December 1867, Credit Mobilier shares were 95 cents; late in the month they rose to $1 60; before January they were up to $2, and later as high as $2 25; did not know of any being higher than that; did not know Nelson; knew nothing of the stock owned by Nelson; except what appeared on Credit Mobilier books; does not know who paid for Nelson's shares; the books showed they were paid for by him; the latter fifty shares he had a right to purchase by virtue of having purchased a hundred before; witness never had anything to do with the books.

By Mr. McCreery—Did not known how much Credit mobilier stock was disposed of to members of Congress; Senator Wilson agreed to take twenty shares and Mr. Dawes ten shares; witness for five hundred shares, not all forthcoming, however; two hundred and ninety of them belonged to him; got them at par; did not know if the stock was sold to members of Congress at par after January, 1868; did not know if any of the stock in the name of Mr. Ames had been transferred to any other person; had the impression that it stood in his name as trustee.

Question. Can you explain why the transfer was not made?

Answer. I do not know.

Question. That is not the usual way to do such business is it?

Answer. Yes, sir; it is frequently done, and Mr. Ames being a responsible man could hold stock for others in trust.

Witness knew nothing of Mr. Ames' reason for holding the stock in trust; suppose Mr. Ames drew the dividends on the stock which stood in his name as trustee; the Union Pacific road cost sixty-eight or nine millions of dollars were received from the Government; did not think that the Credit Mobilier stock would be affected by legislation of Congress towards the Union Pacific railroad; there was a talk of investigating the affairs of the Union Pacific, but honest men expected to keep their stock and make their money out of the earnings of the road; such was the intention of Mr. Ames; witness had always been in favor of the fullest investigation.

In New York Judge Barnard had granted an injunction, and Fisk had the control of matters, hence the office of the company was removed to Boston. Fisk threatened to damage the company a million of dollars unless certain money was paid to him. Witness refused to pay him any money, and he (Fisk) did damage the road to the extent of several millions of dollars.

Mr. McCreery—I am requested to ask you a question which you can answer or not as you like.

Question. Did you or not get or have put into your possession $100,000 in money to be expended in order to get Congress to modify the ruling of Secretary Boutwell in regard to the payment of interest to the government?

Answer. I can say, as far as I am concerned, I challenge the fullest investigation; I say now I never had a dollar in my hands for that purpose or spent a dollar to induce Congress to make any legislation.

By Mr. Merrick—Witness believed that he could have built the road for $50,000,000; some of the ties cost $3 apiece, and they should not have cost more than 50 cents apiece; the government was not robbed, however, only those men who had stock in the Credit Mobilier; they should have received more money; sold some shares of his Credit Mobilier stock at $200 that never received any dividends on that sold; it was said to Peter Butler, of Boston, who bought it for Mr. Bardwell.

By Mr. Niblack—The Credit Mobilier as a corporation never made a dollar; the only money made was on the Oakes Ames contract of $47,000,000, which was divided between various parties, as already described.

Mrs. Susan B. Anthony still clings to her little cell and refuses to give bail. She is one of those women who should

"Bring forth man-children only,

It was Burke who said, "What shadows we are and what shadows we pursue."

FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG LADIES.

HILLSBORO' STREET,

RALEIGH, N. C.

The first session of this Institution will begin on the 20TH OF JANUARY.

The building is new, erected for School purposes, and is situated in one of the most desirable neighborhoods in the city of Raleigh; therefore one of the most desirable in the state.

The Instruction will be thorough and systematic.

The course of study will be well arranged and may embrace the whole regular Collegiate course, and all the Ornamentals, if desired.

One of the Principals will devote special attention to MUSIC and the FINE ARTS, in which she has had much experience and success. The others to the LITERARY and MATHEMATICAL STUDIES, which she has successfully taught for several sessions. Both will pay strict attention to the culture of refinement, polish of manners, and purity of morals.

We intend this to be a permanent institution, wherein young ladies may complete a thorough, practical education, or from which they can enter any class in College.

The Boarding Department will be under the personal supervision of the junior teachers and their mother, who will use their best efforts to make it a pleasant home for those who may board in the school building. Those who may prefer, can get accommodations in the immediate vicinity, with excellent families.

NOTICE

PIEDMONT SPRINGS

FOR SALE.

A suit involving the title of a tract of land in Orange county upon which is located that well known watering place Piedmont Springs, having been compromised of the late term of Rockingham Superior Court it was by said compromise and a decree of said court in consequence thereto directed that the undersigned, as Commissioner, sell said lands. I therefore give notice that on Thursday, the 23d day of January, 1873, upon the premises, I will expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash, the said springs together with the two acres of land more or less, belonging thereto.

The improvements at this watering place consists of a Hotel 100x40 feet, well arranged with rooms, having a dining room and well fitted up Ball and Dining Room, two other buildings with 16 or 20 good rooms, together with a large number of Cabins, Bar Room, Bath Houses, Barn and Stables. It is believed that the high medicinal properties of the Piedmont Water has by long use become widely known and will with such satisfactory results to require no commendation at my hands. The Springs are located two and a half miles from Hillsboro, the terminus of the North Western North Carolina Railroad.

For further particulars apply to me in person or by letter at Dearing, Orange Co., N. C.
