HOME AFFAIRS.

We learn that Gov. Caldwell is confined to his room from severe illness.

DE COSTA TO-NIGHT.—Don't forget the opening night of the great De Costa at Tucker Hall.

DISORDERLY.—A great many of the "boys in blue" were on the streets last night with a good quantity of the "ardent" on board, and at one time were very disorderly. The interference of our police prevented several difficulties.

J. A. HARRALL, Esq.—We had a pleasant visit from this gentleman on Saturday. In ten days he expects to issue the first number of the Henderson Tribune. Mr. H. is an accomplished scholar and a graceful, ready writer.

WE call attention to the advertisement of the extensive raffle in to-day's paper. We can vouch for this raffle being carried out in good faith or the money will be refunded. The references and the names of the parties conducting the raffle are gentlemen of the highest character.

PITTSBURG TO GREENSBORO' BY RAIL.—Leave Pittsboro at 2 o'clock, p. m., arrive at Raleigh 9 o'clock, a. m., next day. Remain in Raleigh at $3 dollars per day not including drinks, cigars or $2 dollars omnibus fair, until 7 o'clock, p. m. Arrive in Greensboro' at one fifty a. m.

We have had business intercourse for several years with Messrs. Griffin & Hoffman, Advertising Agents, Baltimore, and take pleasure in testifying without solicitation to their promptness and reliability. —Waco (TEX.) Examiner, Jan. 4, 1873.

We endorse the above and add our testimony as to the worth and reliability of the above firm.

Our citizens will remember that Edward Carswell, Esq., the Canada temperance humorist, will speak at Metropolitan Hall this (Monday) night at 8 o'clock. We trust our citizens generally will turn out in large numbers to hear this distinguished orator. Go early and secure good seats.

ST. PATRICK'S CELEBRATION.—On the evening of the 2nd, a meeting was held at the Yarboro' House, for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration of this time honored festival. At that meeting the marshals and various committees were appointed. The assembly thereon named a number of citizens and friends of the Irish cause. As some have asked whether it was the intention of the meeting to give free tickets to the persons named on those various bodies, I wish to state that such was not the intention of that meeting; it was simply intended to designate the various committees and marshals for the occasion, and at the same time to make honorary mention of those friends whose names have been so employed. It would be impossible for Father McNamara or the managers to issue so many free tickets. It is evident they could not afford this; and they are well aware that gentlemen who wish to participate in the festivities of that evening, do not at all expect such exemption. There will be, of course, a few invited guests. Those are all the free tickets which the Patriot or the managers can afford to issue.

(Signed,) T. F. LEE,
Chairman Com. Arrangements.

For the Sentinel.

RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 4, 1873.

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

SIR:—We heartily congratulate you and the people of North Carolina upon your early exposures of the great "Pennsylvania Central Railroad Ring."

You have no doubt seen the flaming newspaper accounts of the six hundred and seventy five millions owned and controlled by this mammoth corporation, even before any of their money was sent to your State to buy up editors, lawyers and legislators, as they have done in every State where they purposed to monopolize the entire railroad interests thereof.

The action of your Legislature, in regard to the Public Printing, struck every one here, acquainted with the operations of the "Ring," as a ring manœuvre.

If your Legislature is not purer than all others heretofore tried by the "Ring," your railroads are certainly gone.

Our people are too poor to foot the daily presents and large bribes offered by this "Ring," with six hundred and seventy five millions, it is said.

We trust you will not cease your exposures until you have whipped and driven the "Ring" from your State.

Every honest man in the State endorses you here, so far as we are able to judge from the numerous expressions we have heard.

Yours very truly,
A.

That new shift of the Rescue is to be tried. That's what it ought to have been before.

For the Sentinel.

RALEIGH, Feb. 8th, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL:—I notice in your issue of to-day the republication of my letter of the 8th ult., addressed to John B. Hussey, Esq. I hasten to express my appreciation of this unexpected courtesy, and avail myself of the occasion to add a few words to the expositions in that letter.

It is true, sir, I am fighting the Swepson, McAden & Co. ring, and am grateful for all the support I receive from every quarter.

I am confident the public do not understand this question fully. The question of the completion of the road is, perhaps, the smallest part of it. The actual issue is, shall Swepson, McAden & Co., be allowed by trickery, to get possession of this road, and thus deprive the State and honest stockholders of it, or not? This is the issue, and every editor or public man who clamors for the sale of this road is either misled or directly interested in the "ring," or under its influence. I know the truth of what I am saying.

I am pleased to understand that the opinions of those who have to determine this matter are gradually but surely moulding themselves to its better appreciation. I want to see the road completed; but I will not consent to see it pass into the hands of a "ring" without a struggle, unless the clearest evidences are given of the protection of the honest creditors of the company, and the completion of the road at an early day. The question rests mainly with the Western members, and I hope for all our interests they will not give it up without one determined effort to defeat the influences of those who have hitherto ruined the credit of the State, and despoiled her of her best hopes. I refer to Swepson, McAden & Co.

If, in my opinion, the public interest demands it, I will, at the proper time, give a list of the prominent members of, and sympathizers with the "ring" referred to.

Respectfully, &c.,
T. D. CARTER.

HOW VACCINE VIRUS IS PROCURED.

In Baltimore, the Councils have passed an ordinance requiring every person to be vaccinated under a penalty of $20, and have detailed physicians to perform the work. The Sun gives the following particulars of how the virus is procured from calves:

Dr. Jones, the State vaccine agent, who is required to furnish vaccine virus to all physicians in the State, has been engaged for some time in inoculating calves and thus obtaining the best and most efficacious kind of virus, in the opinion of many of the medical profession, for vaccination. Dr. Jones has, within the past two weeks, for greater convenience, removed the scene of his operations on calves from his place, a few miles in the country, on the York road, to Stockman's stables, near Marsh Market space, in this city. A number of gentlemen, including Mr. John T. Morris, president of the board of public school commissioners, visited the stables Saturday afternoon and witnessed the modus operandi of procuring the virus in the form of lymph from the calf, as it is called, before incrustation takes place.

Upon entering the stable the calf, about six months old, was seen lying upon its back on a bed made of a table placed with the feet upwards on boxes. The legs of the animal were secured to the table, and it lay entirely quiescent. About forty incisions had been made, and virus, inserted in this subject in the neighborhood of the udder, on the 22d ult., and on the 29th the doctor began to obtain lymph. Fifteen of the inoculations "took," about the same proportion as take in human inoculations. The doctor, with a box of the quills properly cut at hand, covered them with the lymph at the rate of ten per minute. He had been thus employed some hours of each day since Wednesday. There is a certain stage at which the lymph is most energetic, and the inoculations are examined frequently that each may be availed of at the right time. The calf is always made slightly sick by the inoculations.

Dr. Jones has supplied 1,400 physicians in the city and State the past year. The virus used by him is obtained from the vaccine department of the New York dispensary. The non-humanized cow-pox virus thus furnished is directly descended through an unbroken series of calf inoculations, still kept up, from the celebrated case of spontaneous cow-pox discovered at Beaugency, in France, in 1866, and has never passed through the human system. One of the advantages of animal vaccination is that it enables the vaccinator to be certain that he runs no risk of unwittingly conveying the taint of any other disease.

AT NIGHT.—It is night now, and here is home. Gathered under the quiet roof, elders and children lie alike at rest. In the midst of a great peace and calm, the stars look out from the heavens. The silence is peopled with the past; a crowding romance for sins and shortcomings, memories of passionate joys and griefs rise out of their graves, both now alike calm and sad. Eyes, as I shut mine, look at me that have long ceased to shine. The town and landscape sleep under the starlight, wreathed in autumn mists. Twinkling among the houses, a light keeps watch here and there, in what may be sick chambers. The clock tells sweetly in the silent air. Here is night and rest. An awful sense of thanks makes the heart swell as I pass to my room through the sleeping house, and feel as though a hushed blessing were upon it.—Thackery.

A WARNING.

There is no case of consumption that did not commence with a cough. Therefore the slightest cold or cough should receive immediate attention. Take at once the great remedy of the age, DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT, and thereby save years of suffering, perhaps life itself.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 31, 1869.

DR. WM. E. TUTT:

Dear Sir—My little son, aged about three years, was attacked with pneumonia last winter, which left him with a violent cough, that lasted till within about a month since, for the cure of which I am indebted to you and your valuable Expectorant. I tried I believe every kind of medicine recommended for coughs, but none did any good until I tried your Expectorant, one bottle of which removed the cough entirely. With many thanks for your valuable preparation,

I am, yours truly,
JOHN M. WEIGLE.

SENATE.

SATURDAY, Feb. 8.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock, President Brogden in the chair.

BLACKJACK VS. THUNDER.

Mr. Respess rose to a question of personal privilege and said:

MR. PRESIDENT, I see in yesterday's Era a communication under the head of "Have we a Republican Party in N. C.?" in which the insignificant author attempts to cast reflections upon the course of Republican members of this General Assembly, and especially upon certain Senators, myself included, for voting for certain of the constitutional amendments. Sir, as a Republican, I challenge a single step of inconsistency in my whole political life. The Republican party, if the writer of the communication knew anything of their past history, have pledged themselves in their State Convention in favor of many of the proposed amendments to the constitution, and in the campaign of 1871 on every political hustings, they pledged the people their support in changing the constitution by legislative enactment; and there are many Republicans who are favorable to some of the proposed amendments and would vote for them but for such small-minded demagogues as "Linville," who only can or will be known as Republicans of doubtful value and of as little honor, integrity or consistency as he has common sense or wish for the success of the Republican party. And when he says that I am afraid to express my honest convictions on this floor, or that I have been made Democrats or by anything else above an honest conviction, his scurrilous article included, to support any measure except for the good of North Carolina and the best interests of the Republican party, the least I can say of him is that he is a base liar.

Mr. Cramer endorsed the remarks of Mr. Respess as a Republican.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. Love said it would be remembered that recently a question arose in the Senate as to which was entitled to precedence, a "special order," the hour for its consideration having arrived, or another bill then under consideration, on which the "previous question" had been called, the call sustained, and the ayes and noes ordered. The chair decided in favor of the special order. Mr. Love appealed. The chair was sustained, by a very decided vote—Mr. Love and three or four others, voting in the negative. Mr. Love stated that he was so well assured he was in the right that he had written to Washington, and now held in his hand a letter, in which Mr. Chisbee, and Speaker Blaine, accomplished, thorough parliamentarians, endorsed his position.

CAN ANY MEDICINE DO MORE?

The art of changing the base metals into gold has not been discovered, but the happy results of a discovery infinitely more important are familiar to the community, and have been so for the past twenty years. To exchange debility for vigor, sickness for health, apathy for energy, gloom for cheerfulness, is a much more desirable operation than to transmute lead into the root of all evil. And this is what Hostetter's Stomach Bitters accomplish, and have been accomplishing daily, evasince their introduction. Dyspepsia, billiousness, nervous affections, constipation, intermittent fever, rheumatism sick headache and general debility are no longer the bug bears that they were a fifth of a century ago. The Bitters, taken as a protective medicine, prevent them, and taken as a remedy cures them, and the people know it. Hence their overshadowing reputation and enormous sale. The fame of the great vegetable specific is even on the march, and at a pace that no competitor can live. It is to day the foremost medicine of its class in the civilized world. Every now and then attempts are made to rival it, and some mes a nostrum concocted in the idle hope of sharing its popularity, has a brief spurt of apparent success. But it is all illusion. One by one they sink like stones in the sea, while the great tonic, whose celebrity has been the cause of these blind ventures, continues to ride on the topmost wave of public favor, unapproached and unapproachable.

WESLEYAN INSTITUTE.

FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG LADIES.

HILLSBORO' STREET,

RALEIGH, N. C.

The first session of this Institution will begin on the 20TH OF JANUARY.

The building is new, suited for School purposes, and is situated in one of the most desirable neighborhoods in the city of Raleigh; therefore one of the most desirable in the State.

The Instruction will be thorough and systematic.

The course of study will be well arranged, and may embrace the whole regular Collegiate course, and all the Ornamentals, if desired.

One of the Principals will devote special attention to MUSIC and the FINE ARTS, in which she has had much experience and success. The other to the LITERARY and MATHEMATICAL STUDIES, which she has successfully taught for several sessions. Both will pay strict attention to the culture of refinement, polish of manners, and purity of morals.

We intend this to be a permanent Institution, wherein young ladies may complete a thorough, practical education, or from which they can enter any class in College.

The Boarding Department will be under the personal supervision of the junior teachers and their mother, who will use their best efforts to make it a pleasant home for those who may board in the school building. Those who may prefer, can get accommodations in the immediate vicinity, with excellent families.
