Religious.

The pulpit of Edenton Street Methodist Church will be occupied to-day, both morning and evening, by Rev. B. Craven, D. D., President of Trinity College.

Kicked by a Mule.

Mr. William Andrews, while behind a mule in his stable, near the Central depot yesterday, was kicked by the animal. He was wounded just above the right groin. His injuries are supposed to be fatal.

Destroyed.

Major Dowd's saw mill, on the line of the Chatham railroad, blew up on Friday. The engineer was dangerously wounded, and Mr. Wm. Dowd, brother of the proprietor, slightly. The mill is a total wreck.

Escape of Mordecai.

There is a colored man named Mordecai, charged with burglary, and under the new law, he is sentenced to be hung. He took out his bucket, yesterday, into the yard to empty it into the sink, and while the jailer's attention was attracted to another matter, "bounced" the fence. The jailer went out the gate, soon overhauled him, and now Mordecai is in irons.

"Fire the Artillery."

We are to have an exhibition by the Berger family, to-morrow.

Anybody who has heard of "The Original and Only Berger Family," knows perfectly well they evoke musical sounds from bells, in an unsurpassed manner.

The evocation of musical sounds is done even from stone; and we have Prof. Tyndall's statement that there are "Singing Flames," which, Patti like, ought to be charming.

One of the reasons why music-teachers do not succeed, on all occasions, in "turning out" good pupils is, not that they do not teach correctly, but the pupils—sons and daughters of wealthy parents—believe the "slave" can impart information and practice which will stick.

It is said a shoddy aristocrat at the north said: "You will teach my daughter all you know?" "Certainly," replied the teacher, "if she has the capacity." "Oh! don't worry about that," the indignant father added, "I will buy it for her.

The Berger family have made the ringing of bells a specialty. And in connection with this, there is the rendition of some of the compositions of the most distinguished authors on other instruments, and vocal music.

Mrs. Ellen L. Putnam, wife of the murdered man, denies, through the New York World, that she has been bribed to beg of Gov. Dix the life of the murderer of her husband. And Mr. John Foster, (who has not been so charged, so far as we have seen,) denies having paid that lady any money for her letter to the Governor. On the other hand, a brother of the murdered man, in the same issue of the World, thinks it mock sentimentality in Mrs. Putnam, in asking that her wounds should not be re-opened, for they never should have been closed. It is, to to say the least of it, an ugly business.

Sensation.

A difficulty occurred yesterday between Mr. Robert Sewell and a colored man. The following is the testimony:

TESTIMONY OF ELI HAYWOOD (COL).

The Mayor. Tell how this occurred.—All about it.

Eli Haywood. There was a black dog. He kicked it twice. I asked him please not kick the dog. Then he run his hand in his bosom. Right here (witness motioning).

The Mayor. Why did he run his hand in his bosom?

Eli Haywood. He pulled out a pistol. I saw it. And then I made at him and got him by the arm. As I threw him the pistol went off, shot off twice.

The Mayor. Who did he fire the pistol at?

Eli Haywood. I did no hear him tell.

The Mayor. Was the pistol fired at you?

Eli Haywood. It was not fired at me that I saw.

The Mayor. But, Mr. Seawell presented the pistol at you? That is, he shot at you—in the direction where you were?

Eli Haywood. No, sir; he did not, because he could not. When he pulled the pistol out I caught his arm.

The Mayor. In what position was Mr Seawell when the pistol went off?

Eli Haywood. I had him going towards the ground. I was standing in the door at the time; before it commenced.

The Mayor. Was there anything said before you told him not to kick the dog?

Eli Haywood. No, sir; no words; noe at all.

The Mayor. Did you take the pistol away from Mr. Seawell?

Eli Haywood. No, sir; I did not.

The Mayor. Who parted you?

Eli Haywood. Mr. Pepper.

The Mayor. After being parted, did Mr. Seawell have any pistol?

Eli Haywood. I do not know whether he did or not. I went into the house.

The Mayor. That is all you know?

Eli Haywood. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF W. R. PEPPER.

The Mayor. What do you know about this affair?

Mr. Pepper. I heard the firing of a pistol. I was just around the corner. I was not in the house at the time. I ran around there; ran to the corner and asked where the pistol was fired? Who it was that shot it off? They said it was shot at my boy Eli. I ran up as quick as I could. I ran up and took the pistol out of his hands and told Eli to go into the house.

The Mayor. Did it seem as though Eli and Mr. Sewell had had any difficulty? That there was any controversy between them?

Mr. Pepper. He seemed to be mad, sir; sort of angry. He made some remarks. Mr. Watson came up about that time. I do not know whether Mr. Watson took him off or not.

The Mayor. That is all you know about the affair?

Mr. Pepper. Yes, sir.

TESTIMONY OF AUSTIN WILLIAMS.

(This witness is a young colored boy. He was properly interrogated as to the nature of an oath and made aware that if he told a lie he would be punished.)

The Mayor. Tell all you saw?

Austin Williams. I was going by. I heard a pistol fired off twice. That is all I heard. Mr Pepper came up and took the pistol away from him. Then I saw no more.

TESTIMONY OF JOSEPH WATSON.

The Mayor. State all you know about this affair?

Mr. Watson. Well, sir, I was going up past Mrs. Smith's—the Club House—on Hargett Street. I heard two pistol shots fired. I saw the crowd run. I ran up to the crowd. Just before I got there, Mr. Pepper had hold of Mr. Sewell, raising him up. When I got up I did not know but what Mr. Sewell was shot. I saw Eli go into the house. Mr. Sewell was saying he would get even with him. I found it was Mr. Seawell who had fired the pistol. I arrested him. He told me to let go of his collar. I told him I was an officer and summoned Mr. McGuire. Meantime, Mr. Suggs came up. This is all I know about it. I did not see any of it at all.

Mr. Seawell, prisoner. After you satisfied me you were an officer did not I submit?

Mr. Watson, yes sir, when Mr. Suggs came up.

Mr. Sewell was bound over in $500. His bondsman was Mr. Mordecai.

St. PATRICK.

"Let Erin Look to the Days of Old."

"When her kings, with the standard of green unfurl'd,
Led the Red Branch knights to danger,
Ere the Emerald Gem of the Western World
Was set in the crown of a stranger"

The celebration of St. Patrick's festival will take place to morrow. There is no true Irishman but feels a deep interest in it. In view of the present situation in Europe, the occasion may prove one, in connection with the fond hope every true Irishman entertains, of more importance than mere superficialists can imagine. The tendency towards Republicanism, in Europe, now practically manifesting itself, no true Irishman but is glad to see. The cause of Ireland is connected with it and, perhaps, free Ireland may come equally as soon as free Cuba. The present situation in England is looked at from this city, as from others all over the world, where Irishmen are ruled, love their country with "an eye to business," when this can be accomplished.

PROGRAMME OF EXERCISES.

There will be divine service in St. John's church, commencing at eight, a. m.

In the evening there will be a supper at the Yarbrough House. The following is the form of the tickets issued:

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

Many of the most prominent gentlemen of our city and the State have already signified to Father McNamara their intention of participating in the doings at the Yarborough House on the evening of "St. Patrick's" Day. We may mention the following: William Grimes, Esq., Dr. E. Burke Haywood, Hon. D. M. Barringer, Henry Mordecai, Esq., Dr. W. Royster, R. C. Badger, Esq., Judge Manly of Newbern, the Doctors McKee, Hon. Kemp P. Battle, Dr. F. Haywood, Jr., Gen. Cox, A. W. Lawrence, Esq., Dr. Wm. Little, John G. Williams, Erasmus P. Page, Esq., Dr. E. Grissom, J. C. Gorman, and a host of others. The speaking will be of a high order. The names of the orators give a sufficient guarantee for the intellectual and the oratorical part. Major Seaton Gales, that flower of North Carolina orators, Judge Thomas Settle, who enjoys a national reputation for oratory, Charles Busbee, Esq., a rising light at the bar of North Carolina, Hon. Wm. A. Smith, whose name speaks for itself, and Mayor Whitaker, to account for the growth and prosperity of our Oaken City. All this promises an evening of immense enjoyment.

Besides these orators, we know others who had better be tuning up their organs to the speaking pitch. It is just impossible they could be allowed to keep silent in a popular gathering of this kind. We tell them in time they had better be ready for at least a little say, as they may expect that the Knights of "St. Patrick's" will call them to give an account of their feelings from time to time during the evening. On the whole it is expected that this will be one of the finest occasions ever witnessed in our city. X. X.

The following is from the "New American Cyclopædia":

"Patrick (Patricius), saint, the patron saint of Ireland, born, according to most authorities, near the site of Kirkpatrick, at the mouth of the Clyde, in Scotland, in in 372, died at Down, Ulster, probably 464. At the age of 16 he was taken captive to Ireland by a band of marauders, but made his escape after six months and reached Scotland. Carried off a second time, and again escaping, he resolved to become a missionary to the Irish, was ordained in Scotland, and after a long preparation was consecrated bishop. Having previously, according to some accounts, visited Gaul and perhaps Italy, he passed over to his chosen field of labor about 432, and preached the gospel with such extraordinary effect that although not absolutely the first to introduce Christianity into that country, he has always received the credit of its general conversion. He baptized the Kings of Dublin and Munster, and the seven sons of the King of Connaught, with the greater part of their subjects, and before his death had converted almost the whole island to the faith. St. Bernard testifies that he fixed his metropolitan see at Armagh, and it appears he appointed several other Bishops, with whom he held councils to settle the discipline of the Church which he had planted. In his old age he wrote his "Confessions," the authenticity of which, however, is doubted. It may be found in Sir James Ware's edition of the works of St. Patrick (8vo, London, 1656.) The Roman Catholic Church keeps his festival on March 17th. A popular legend ascribes to him the banishment of all venomous creatures from the Island by means of his crozier or staff. Which Ralph Higden in his "Polychronicon" mentions as being kept with great veneration at Dublin, 1350."

COURIER JOURNALISMS.

Tom Scott controls sixteen thousand miles of Railroad and sixteen acres of Legislature.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "Interesting rumors are in circulation touching the charming songstress, Mme. Nilsson Rouzaud." Ah, indeed! And do they think it will be a boy or girl?

Just before it adjourned the Senate passed a resolution to print 50,000 copies, of the Agricultural Report and sell them at 50 cents a copy. It will be easy enough to print the 50,000 copies, but that baby will die of old age, if he can contrive to die at all, who lives to see them all sold at 50 cents a copy.

The Springfield Republican declares that the sewing machine ring has pooled nearly half a million of dollars to carry through a renewal of its patents." Unless there should be an unexpected rise in the price of Congressmen we should think that sum will be amply sufficient for the purpose.

The Washington Chronicle says that, "in the Credit Mobilier investigation, there was more cry than wool." Perhaps so; but if that investigation had produced half as much wool as whitewash, the price of woolen goods would have declined at least two hundred per cent. already.

The Springfield Republican thinks that Senator Harlan's soul is just at present in some jeopardy. But isn't. If all men's souls were as worthless as Harlan's the devil would convert his establishment into a brass foundery and quit the demonition entirely.

EXCHANGE ITEMS.

St. Patrick's Day is to be celebrated by a cock fight in Wilmington.

A broken rail on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, near Enfield, threw six cars of the mail train from the track, on Tuesday last. Nobody hurt.

A smash up took place on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad near Brinkley's depot, on Thursday morning last, resulting in the smashing of two engines and several cars. No lives lost.

Samuel Robinson, col., on Thursday morning last, beat Hayes Devane, col., with a monkey-wrench over the head, at Washington Pump Station, on the Wilmington & Weldon road, to such an extent that the injured man is not expected to live. The difficulty was a dispute about measuring wood.
