EXCHANGE ITEMS.

Warren county jail is without a boarder.

Watrauga township has 778 white to 2108 colored people.

A negro man was arrested in Halifax on Tuesday night endeavoring to pass a knife into the jail to a prisoner.

A violent wind storm passed over the portion of Warren county between the railroad and the Roanoke, on Thursday last, doing considerable damage to buildings.

A patent tar kiln has been put into operation at the foot of Castle street, Wilmington. It is claimed that, by it, 100 barrels of tar can be "sweeted" from 27 cords of wood.

James Martin, son of Henry Martin, of Warren, died on Sunday evening last, after but a few days' illness of pneumonia. He was an exemplary young man, just arrived to manhood.

We are glad to learn that little Johnny Reeder, who was run over by a Wilmington street car, a day or two ago, is much better and that hopes are entertained of his ultimate recovery without the loss of his leg.

It is reported from Washington, N. C., that the health of Judge Warren is rapidly failing, and that his friends have little or no hope of his recovery. A similar report was in circulation some months ago and was promptly contradicted, as we hope to see this.

It is rumored that Rev. John S. Long, late of the North Carolina M. E. Church, and now a citizen of Newbern, will shortly unite himself with the Episcopal Church and enter the ministry. So says the Washington correspondent of the Tarboro Enquirer.

A Vermont farmer sent to the orphan asylum for a boy that was smart, brave, tractable, prompt, industrious, clean, pious, intelligent, good looking, reserved and modest. The superintendent wrote back that, unfortunately, they had human boys in that institution.

ABOUT CLERGYMEN.

Henry Ward Beecher made only $21,000 during his recent election tour, and says he is with the poor man against the capitalist.

An Iowa clergyman's moral insanity takes the form of stealing bibles, of which he has presented numerous elegantly bound copies to favored members of his flock.

The Macoupin (Ill.) Enquirer says that a Greene county young lady, who is worth $30,000, recently refused to marry a clergyman because she thought she was unfit to be the wife of a minister. He then abandoned his sacred calling and proposed again. The second time she declined his offer on the ground that she was too good to marry a man who would throw away his clerical robes to win a woman's hand.

Chicago ministers have a hard row to hoe, if the following confession from one, in the Advance is true: "My salary is too little, neither is it promptly paid; efforts to supplement it have injured my work, my breath and my spirit; I have sold my precious things from the house at less than half their value, that I might pay my bills; three times even books from my study library have gone to the auctioneers, selling for between thirty and forty per cent. of what they cost me. * * * Yesterday, in my pulpit, when taking out my tickety old watch to compare with the church time, my fingers burned against a pawn ticket, which only borrowed money will enable me to use. * * * My wife has seriously injured her health by over work. * * * The work is blessed and prospers. My people do not dream of my trials."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Value of Advertising.

Restaurant Pepper having lost a valuable tan-terrier carnally advertised in the SENTINEL. He has the dog.

A Fling at Boss Tweed—Unintentional.

A thief having been brought before the Mayor yesterday, was interrogated: "How do you plead?" "I resign," he facetiously replied.

Died.

In Amelia county, Virginia, on the 11th of March, 1873, John W. Love, Esq., aged fifty-five years—a genuine christian gentleman of the old school."—Rich. Whig.

Mr. Love was the father of Mrs. Wm. A. Graham, Junior, of Lincoln county, N. C.

Seriously Ill.

We regret to learn that Dr. M. C. Whitaker, a resident and formerly Senator from Halifax, and widely and favorably known throughout the north-eastern part of the State, is dangerously ill, and was hardly expected to survive Friday night.

U. S Military Matters.

Major-General Irvin McDowell, the commanding officer of this department, is out on a tour of inspection.

It will interest "the boys" out at camp to know, probably, a guard at Nashville (Tenn.) barracks, who had just been on duty, was cleaning his gun for inspection when it was accidentally discharged, killing two men.

The Concord Sun.

We have received the first number of a new weekly paper called the "Concord Sun," edited by Charles F. Harris, son of the late Dr. Kinh P. Harris, of Concord, Cabarrus county. The Sun gives promise of being a good paper, and should and we believe will be sustained by the people of Cabarrus, who though living in one of the smallest counties of the State—a chip off old Mecklenburg—have yet one of the richest counties to brag of.

Frightful Accident.

Yesterday morning, as Louisa Bartley, one of the colored domestics employed in the Exchange Hotel on Hillsboro' Street, was leaning out of a second story window she fell to the ground head first. Notwithstanding it would be presumed having struck on her head her injury would be almost if not fatal, nevertheless she was about, yesterday afternoon, in the hotel, complaining, it is true, she felt the concussion, but not by any means near dead.

Delightful Entertainment.

At the Peace Institute literary and musical entertainment, on Friday evening, the institution was brilliantly illuminated and in every other appropriate manner rendered unusually attractive. Misses Hanner and Waddell were among the soloists who won golden opinions of their skill in that way. A communication signed "Admirer," from one of the guests, is in part:

"The smaller children far surpassed the larger ones in their recitations and did honor to their school. Perhaps they did not think so much of self or the effects, as the larger did. The whole was a perfect success, and was witnessed and appreciated by a large and select audience."

Fine Smoking Tobacco.

We have received from the manufacturers, Messrs. J. A. McCauley and J. A. & W. H. Torrentine, "Alamance Tobacco Company" of Company Shops, samples of their celebrated brands "Mechanics" and "Merchants" Smoking Tobacco, fully equal to anything we have recently tried in that line, and superior to many of the brands we buy in Raleigh. The New York friend who recently asked for the address of those who keep first-rate smoking tobacco shall have added to the list the Alamance Tobacco Company. We are pleased to learn that this firm is doing a prosperous business.

The Storm.

The "little blow out," yesterday, was the cause of considerable damage. Many a tree, that would have been a proud monarch in the forest, was prostrated. And as for window blinds unhinged and fences levelled they were almost ad libitum numerically.

But, perhaps the most serious incident was that of a gentleman on the Barringer building in course of erection corner of Wilmington and Hargett streets, who had at one time, to lay down on a scaffolding to escape a "gentle puff" of wind for a few seconds that wanted to prepare him for the undertaker.

Answers to Correspondents.

To the Editor of the Sentinel.:—Is it not the custom of the insurance companies to assist in the sustaining of fire companies?

The above was submitted to the new Assistant Chief Engineer, Mr. Merrill, who says:

"I do not know there is any law on the subject but I am certain it is an almost universal custom for those companies to sustain the fire departments of cities in force as possible."

In answer to the interrogatory if there were not the names of persons on the rolls, in the various companies, not members, who never attended a fire, but pretended to be active members of the companies respectively on the rolls of which their names appeared for the purpose of exempting them from jury and militia duty, he answer he thought there were.

OUR MANUFACTURING INSTITUTIONS.

Improvement in Briggs' Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory—Work on Hand.

This establishment, owned by Thomas H. Briggs, of this city, was started in 1855. The steam engine was originally only seven horse power. The work has so immensely increased, a thirty-horse power engine will be substituted in a few days for the present one. The new engine will come from Talbot & Sons, Richmond, Va.

The establishment gives employment to thirty persons, the most of whom are heads of families. The most of the lumber consumed at this factory comes from Chatham county. This factory ships work to all parts the State.

Mr. Briggs has just commenced the factory work for an addition to the Yarboro' House, 153 feet long by 50 feet in width. The building will be three stories in height and partially of brick. And it will be completed, it is thought, in 1874.

He has also commenced the factory work for a wooden dwelling for Mr. Chas. Allen, in the Western Ward. The building be will completed this Fall.

They are also engaged on the factory work for a dwelling for Messrs. Cayton and Wolfe, to be erected in the Eastern Ward and finished next August.

A considerable quantity of work has been done, by the same establishment, for a colored female school in the Eastern Ward, to be completed early in '74.

The new wing of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum will be ready for occupancy by the 15th proximo. Mr. Briggs is doing the factory work.

Mr. B is one of the self-made men of our city. He served an apprenticeship at the carpenters' trade under his father, Mr. John Briggs, who, with a Mr. Joshua Allen, was the first builder located in Raleigh. Mr. B. started out in the world, as we are informed, with no other capital than a set of tools, honesty and an unusual amount of energy, and by his industry and perseverance has accumulated a goodly share of this world's treasure. He is about 50 years of age, honored and respected by all who know him.

KING COTTON.

The Late Depression—Gambling in Cotton—&c.

The dealers and brokers in cotton, in this city, have been more on the qui vive, during the past week, than for a long time previously, in consequence of the operations elsewhere. It is said in New York that "throughout the South there seems to be a feeling that at New York combinations of speculators are using all their power to depress the value of the great Southern staple." This inference is drawn from the fact that meetings of buyers and planters are being held throughout the cotton States, at which resolutions are adopted asking that buyers of "futures" will in all cases demand the cotton on their contracts, and advising producers to keep back their crops and prevent these combinations from holding cotton enough to meet their contracts; and so thwart their designs. "The outburst of feeling among Southern shippers," says an "exchange, seems to us without warrant. Before this 'future' business we had the same class of operations; there were 'bulls' and 'bears' as now; and the change recently adopted in the mode of conducting the business places the Southern interest at no more disadvantage than formerly; indeed, as the actual holders of the cotton sold by the 'bears' for future delivery, the South has now a very important advantage. Whether the 'bulls' or 'bears' will prevail remains to be seen; but it does seem that the 'shorts' (bears) have much in their favor." In Savannah they have had an excited, variable market, at times. One day, lately, there was something of a panic there and quotations for cotton on the spot were reduced 3-4., bringing prices back to where they were early in the winter. Thus, middling uplands, November 15, were 19 1-4c., and on the day of the late panic there they touched 19 1-4., having in the meantime been as high as 21 3-8. The Atlanta Herald cannot say it feels "any marked sympathy for the large number of persons throughout the South, who have been gambling in cotton 'futures,' and have lost heavily by reason of the recent decline in the price of the staple."

Lumber Trade.

The following is the new classification for lumber: First, clear; second, all heart; third, prime; forth, merchantable fifth, square edged; sixth, waney.

The definitions are: Clear—Should be sound and free from all sap, knots, pitch, shakes and all other defects. All Heart—Entirely free from sap-shakes, unsound and other defects. Prime—Two-thirds heart on each edge free, and free through or round shakes in one of plank. In selecting Merchantable with three quarters of heart. In selecting one face free from sap, and the opposite merchantable. Merchantable—Half heart on the most sappy face, and free through common shakes, square edge, regardless of sap. Waney—Of sound material, and not exceeding one and a half inches of wane on a corner for the upper half of the stock.

THE SEINE.

Two weeks hence comes Easter.

Next Sabbath will be Palm Sunday.

The newly organized temperance cadets are to have another meeting next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Street costumes elaborately embroidered with brilliant-colored worsted will be among the spring novelties of dress.

A lady, having lost an opera glass, was lamenting over the matter with a friend, and said she had only lately lost her husband also.

U. S. Senator Boutwell, late Secretary of the U. S. Treasury. Senator Cameron and others, in one party, are expected to pass through here soon.

Our photographers have discovered a new method of toning photographs which does away with the use of gold, produces a finer finish, and will revolutionize the business.

Mr. Samuel Merrill having been appointed Assistant Engineer by Chief Clawson has responded by accepting and saying, "I shall endeavor to discharge my duty, while in office, to the best of my ability and understanding."

The late celebrators of St. Patrick's day here will, no doubt, read with interest that at the St. Patrick's banquet in New York, Judge Brady would not allow an orator to abuse England. He said there were members of St. George's Society present as guests, and their feelings must be respected.

An invalid went to church last Sabbath for the first time for several months. "Did you not enjoy the sermon?" said her husband, thankful to see her in his pew again. "Enjoy it? I guess I did, immensely, until I looked at the lady in a front seat, and all at once I was unhappy, for, would you believe it, my back hair wasn't up high enough."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Loss Two Thousand Dollars—No Insurance.

The high wind, yesterday afternoon, was the cause of a fire in Mr. Robert Seawell's residence on Newbern Avenue, opposite Dr. Menninger's dwelling. It originated from the sparks passing from one of the chimneys and settling on the roof. The lack of water was the sole cause of very nearly the whole of the building not having been saved. The entire fire department was soon at the scene but could do no great, quick practical execution for the want of a suitable supply of the aqueous element. A well on the property gave out almost as soon as utilized. And water had to be obtained, as far as possible, from the premises of Dr. Menninger, opposite. In the course of the work done by the Hook and Ladder Company a Mr. Thomas White, member of the Rescue Company, was injured by the breaking of a chair but not dangerously. And a gentleman named Lewis Habel burned one of his hands.

The furniture of the house was saved. The total loss was about $2,000, valuing the dwelling at $1,500. The property belongs to a Pennsylvania company, but is in the hands of Scott & Co., as agents. The dwelling was occupied by Mr. Lambeth, formerly of the firm of Williams & Lambeth.

The Deaf and Dumb

Have a new contrivance, in the shape of an alphabet. It consists of characters which stand for two or three, and even four of the ordinary English characters. These characters are supposed to represent the position assumed by the different organs of speech in the enunciation of words. By this contrivance it is thought that the deaf and dumb, by noticing the motion of the lips, can arrive at what particular word or words that may be uttered in ordinary conversation and having characters which are supposed to represent these methods by which articulate sound is produced, by practicing themselves often, may in time not only acquire a complete idea of the theory of speech, but what is far better, the faculty of uttering it.

Piscatorial.

Shad, last night, ranged from 75 cents to $1 a pair. The latter were very fine. Herrings commanded 25c and perch 20c a bunch.

It will, perhaps, interest many to know that the sounds of North Carolina afford an immense number of fish for the markets of the country. Steamers and sail vessels are now conveying away the finny tribe—mostly white shad at this time. The great bulk of the fish are shipped to New York and Boston, whence they are distributed over the country. The steamer Sparkle, which arrived at Norfolk a few days ago, had on board 30,000 shad packed in boxes, taken from the waters of Eastern Carolina. The barges are repacked in ice at Norfolk. So large are the nets used in catching these fish that steam engines are employed in hauling them ashore. The number of shad received at Norfolk, in one day, not long ago, by sailing crafts and steamers, from fisheries of North Carolina for shipment North was estimated at from fifty to seventy five thousand.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An exchange says there were but two black men in the last Congress, but this is not true. There were dozens of them—two with black faces, and the rest with black characters.

A letter from Winton, Hertford county informs us that our friend J. L. Mitchell, of Windsor, Bertie, has concluded to make Winton his home in the practice of the law. Mr. Mitchell will, however, spend a portion of his time in Bertie, and practice in that and the other counties as usual. His address, however, will in the future be "Winton, Hertford county." We believe Mr. Mitchell will be the only resident lawyer at Winton. Success to him.

Maj. Jno. W. Dunham, the able and indefatigable Senator from Wilson, was in the city on yesterday. On enquiring his business here he said he was endeavoring to get home, and had been trying to do so since the adjournment of the legislature. We can inform his friends that he has been well taken care of in his perambulations and that he hopes to put in an appearance at Wilson on Tuesday next.

Rev. Dr. Brantley York, the celebrated blind teacher and preacher, called upon us on Friday; and it gratified us to see the healthy condition of mind and body in which this distinguished old gentleman is. His book, "The Man of Business," is in rapid progress, and will be a valuable addition to the literature of the State. Quite a large number of copies have already been subscribed for.

The New York Tribune, in bidding good-bye to the U. S. Senate says it has done several things during its short session since the 4th of March, very few of which are at all to its credit. It admitted Spencer of Alabama, whose right to a seat, to say the least of it, was very doubtful. It allowed Caldwell to slip through its fingers with a resignation. It whitewashed Clayton, and struck an average by overlooking Bogy, and it confirmed Casey. Among the few things that stand to its credit is the fact that it did not admit Pinchback.

CHURCH MATTERS.

An exchange says a converted horse-thief is lecturing to Sunday schools in Iowa.

The Rev. Father Gleeson, of the Redemptionist fathers, who for seven years had devoted himself to the advancement of the Catholic church in New Orleans, and by his eloquence, great learning and rare amiability, won for himself hosts of friends, has been ordered to Annapolis, Maryland.

At the Convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph, at Fleshing, L. I., last week, six ladies (four of them former residents of Brooklyn, N. Y., one from Virginia, and the other from Vermont,) took the black veil, and six other young ladies nearly all residents of New York, entered upon their noviciate and were invested with the white veil. This was the largest number of postulants ever received in any convent in this country. Bishop Loughlin performed the ceremony of investment, and Father Wayright preached the sermon.

Commodore Vanderbilt's gift of $500,000 to the trustees of the university to be established in Tennessee by the Methodist South South, it is said, is the first of any kind bestowed on the South by a citizen of a Northern State; that the Commodore's wife, is a sister of Bishop McTyeire's wife, and that Dr. Deems, of New York, through whom the donation was made, has been for years the confidential friend of the great railroad king, who built for him the church of the Strangers, in New York city. The Commodore had previously given half a million to a Methodist institution at Bethlehem, Pa., and he has also given an equal sum to a Moravian society in the North.

VIRGINIA SCHOOL REPORT.—The second annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for Virginia for the year 1872 shows that the number of high schools maintained in the State during the year was 1,921, attended by 7,701 pupils, many of whom will shortly enter colleges. The number of public schools in the State is 3,795 white and 907 colored; total 3,955. Number of pupils, 119,641 white and 45,736 colored; total, 166,377. The number of teachers—white, males, 2,340; females, 196. The average salaries are, for males $30 38 per month; females, $26 33.

No objection to the laying of eggs, for Easter, on LOCKE'S table. No eggs for bid.

MARRIED

At Gold Region, Moore county, N. C., on the morning of the 26th of March, 1873, by Rev. S. D. Pooler, of the N. C. Conference, Capt. J. George Hanner, of Chatham county, to Miss Annie J. Shamburger, only daughter of Peter Shamburger, Esq.

THE LAWS OF HEALTH.

It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health, if the great law of self-preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter. There is scarcely an adult member of the community, of either sex, in this country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature, art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most explicit terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable anti-bilious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good acclimating medicine, a strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person, who, either by reason of inherent debility or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of losing the greatest of all temporal blessings, health, the importance of using the Bitters as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion in all its forms, and the bilious and nervous will find nothing in the whole range of official and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief.
