PANIC IN THE MONEY MARKET. Our dispatches from New York on Monday night brought the intelligence of a our people to the Republican party in the sight; men and women of refisement rare panic in the money market, during future." The injustice has been perpetralooked upon the debauched hero of this moved from any position which she has which gold went no to 18 1.2 and money ted. The Senate has adjourned and humiliating exhibition with undisquised been laid, has never opened her eyes to which gold went up to 18 1-2, and money to one cent per day, or three hundred and Pinchback was not seated. What will and inexpressible contempt. A 'nigger ook about her, nor uttered any word or sixty-five per cent per annum. But they further say : settled down considerably, gold being easy at 17, and money at 1-8 to 1-4. Exchange, which was entirely out of the question on Monday was, at noon yesterlong. Cotton at the same time was dull and nominally unchanged, the prices being 20 for uplands, 201-3 for Orleans.

It will be noticed, however, that the money market is yet unusually stringent and unsettled, and it behooves our business men to proceed cautiously in their whole, is perhaps the dullest since the end of the war. Among the chief causes intercourse with leading men of all shades poor, disgraced South Carolina! To be intercourse with leading men of all shades poor, disgraced South Carolina! are the conflicts between labor and esp's of political opinion has impressed him tal, which tell injuriously open this city ; with the belief that a strong effort will be the great uncertainty attending building, made during the next session of Congress incident to the conflict | the tight money to bury forever all the calls growing out market, which prevents many business of the war. There can be no don't that ventures and speculation; the shackles the Pools and the Abbotts of t . South put upon freedom of trade through ex- --corrupt scalawage and my incipled penses and high taxes; a season of unusual cold and hindrances to travel; the of the evils the Southern people those closer purchases which keep supply and demand in close secord; and in no ed in New York and elsewhere by the hardly to be deemed possible by these not acquainted with the facts.

Beyond all this is the still unsettled condition of a portion of the Southern States, and conflicts of authority, as in Still another cause is the small exports of the country, compared with the large see things for themselves and to ascertain imports. Countries no more than citizens the real condition of the people. We are can live beyond their means. We send plenty of bonds abroad, but too little of what we grow and make. Six months of steady pressure in the money market has abridged will receive. We are pleased to be able business in many ways, and ought to end of itself through a limitation or partial Merrimon has made a most favorable im ending of the causes which originally pression in the Scoaty and in public caricreated the pressure, A country that has mation generally. had to pay its differences between imports and exports in bonds, money, or credit, is not doing what it ought; nor is a country that healtates between specie payments and limited issues of paper money nor one which administers its affairs in the uncertain ways of the Fresiony in Washington; nor one which increases its expenses $26,000,000 in a single year in a time of peace, when expenses, if ever, ought to tall off. It is clear enough that we need among other things a revival of coefidence, as well as a less stringent During all that time his conduct in the in hospital, who have ultimately overcome maney market. Specie payments may not now be the panaces required, for it is said with force that the panies of 1837, his continued conduct in this House-his '47 and '67 came when the banks paid specia. So in England, we are truthfully told that during the paper money era, from 1797 to the close of the war against Napoleon, there was no financial panic, while just after specie resumption, the British money market was convulsed with a regular return of these troubles in 1805, '37, '47 and '57, and again in 1566. What, then, is the class of present depecusion ! In it not in ourselvesour extravagant liables of business and living-rather than in anything which belongs to paper money, resumption, ures in its interests. And there were cag sentucks, or gold ! The Government with a very limit example, and the people to what my duty was, and when he could same condition helors his demise, are only too willing to follow it. What a probably have influenced my action; or mother of the entranced girl has made autions, such as that when the House a second hardened my action? financial and morel record is that of the Congress just eleved! Besides increasing pay and expenditures at all points where it could, it pandered to demagriques and clap-trap and localities to an extent with hardly a parallel in public bodies noch examples exampt but he persicious. We see them in the State, in the family, in the bullits of the people, in the little work done comparatively, and everywhere. Let heads of families, business men and corporations see where the warts is and remarky it. Industry is not what it was, nor habits of fiving what they had the mercal civilities on mosting him out of the hours of labor are not in the House. One of the best practical illustrations of ration ball by Judge Samuel D. Melton (Melton) of South Carolina, who was see promenading the ball room for an hour with the wife of the Hon, R. B. Elliott, more than shows that our confidence was M. C., from that State, on one arm and one of the celebrated Misses Rollins on the other. Each of these ladies is a bright mulatto, fair to look upon, and the Judge undoubtedly consulted his taste as well as exemplified his devotion to the cause of teous attentions. After his promenade he returned to a group of colored ladies whom he made almost the sole recipient of his attentions during the entire evening. It is interesting to know that a South Carolina gentleman can so far ig-nore the prejudices of his class as to serve as Attorney-General of the State under such an Administration as the present, late'y regarded as chattels hardly possessed of souls,"

We do not blame the niggers. They of course were proud to be thus placed in juxtaposition with an individual, demoralized though he was, of the superior race; in presents of cotton, which were really algorithm and the New York Express, one of the best attention of this dirty-minded white official, "judge" though he may be, after this boldly manifested social position?
