LATEST STATE NEWS.

The Wheat crop was much injured in Anson county by the frost. Vegetables and cotton were much injured also. No rain in Anson for six weeks, but rain at last.—So we learn from the Wadesboro' Herald.

The name of Boon Hill disappears. That place will hereafter rejoice as Princeton.

The survey of the Wilson & Tar River Railroad has been completed.

Peter Eatman's steam saw mill, eight miles from Wilson, was destroyed by fire one day last week. Loss $2,000.

Dennis Gill, colored, formerly of this city, as we learn from the Wilmington Star, was drowned about 12 miles below Fayetteville on Wednesday last.

COURIER-JOURNALISMS.

Pomeroy, who last winter lost his character, his seat in the United States Senate and an immense sum squandered in fruitless bribery, has now lost a $10,000 law suit. If he has anything left he had better tie it up in a rag and sit down on it.

Donn Piatt expresses the hope that he may meet the editor of the Washington Chronicle in heaven. This is a worse than vain hope, for the editor of the Chronicle long since completed his arrangements to blast it.

Secretary Robeson is about to build or buy a house at Long Branch. We should think he would find it cheaper to anchor a United States steamship off the Branch and spend the summer in that.

Rhode Island is talking of building a railroad, and will probably do so if she can rent some land to build it on.

FOREIGN.

Mr. Henry Uakles, a magistrate of Cork, has been sentenced to one week's imprisonment for violation of the Ballot Act at Cork in December last, in declaring how an illiterate voter had voted.

British imports may roughly be divided into three classes—manufactured articles, raw material for manufacturing purposes, and food for the consumption of the people. The most important raw materials imported are cotton, flax and silk.

Speaking generally, says the London Morning Post, it is not to the United States that any of us would turn in search of the fruits of good government. The corruption recently disclosed in all the departments of the Administration point to a low moral tone, and the absence of that honor and integrity which ought to be the conspicuous quality of public men.

The London Times correspondent in Berlin sends the following dispatch: "The statements communicated through Reuter's telegraph agency that no American reporters are permitted to join the Russian expeditionary force is incorrect, unless, indeed, the American Secretary of Legation and the American correspondent, who recently left St. Petersburg for Khiva, are to be told on their arrival in the camp that they had better not send any letters to journals."

High toned gentlemen who throw pepper in the eyes of those they wish to rob are called "Cayenne artists."

A French provincial journal recently announced the death of "Pierre Kolron, aged two years and eight months, bachelor."

A man at Owensboro', Ky., cherishes a dry biscuit which Jenny Lind held in her hand at a concert there twenty years ago.

Two candidates for a local office in Illinois receiving an equal number of votes lately, "tossed up" to see which should have the office.

HOME AFFAIRS.

JOHN SPELMAN, City Editor.

The County Commissioners,

This body was in session at the Workhouse yesterday. In consequence of high water we could not hear from them.

Mad Dog Killed.

The rabid dog, reported in our last as being at large in the city, was killed yesterday towards the south of the Middle Ward.

Postponed.

In consequence of the inclement weather the meeting of the Board of Commissioners called for yesterday afternoon wa postponed till 10 o'clock this morning.

In Memory.

The most touching and eloquent tribute we have seen in any paper on the death of Jno. R. Thompson, appears in the Petersburg Appeal of May 2d.

More Boarders.

Sheriff Frizzell, of Beaufort county, lodged two of his constituents in the Penitentiary day before yesterday. They were colored gentlemen, stole something or other and were required to quit that nonsense for three years each.

Rowan County.

The "profession" of Rowan county have asked Gov. Caldwell to appoint a special term of the Superior court of that county, and to commission Judge Moore to hold it. The Governor being absent the time has not been decided upon.

Fine Tobacco and Florida Reeds.

Our friend Pink Hardie is not unmindful of the comforts of our editor. He has again sent us some Florida India reed stems, and with Powhatan pipes, accompanied with some delightfully fragrant tobacco. Many thanks.

Boarders Wanted.

Hotel de Lee has accommodation for several more boarders. Three inmates only claim the hospitality of sheriff Lee—Simpson Mordecai, Thomas Griffice and Lee Dunlap—all under sentence of death, the two former for burglary, the latter for murder. Lee Dunlap, we believe, has awarded to him a new trial.

Nat Brown's Store.

The store of Mr. N. L. Brown, Fayetteville street, just below the Express Office, is a perfect Ark, except that it contains a great deal old man Noah never dreamed of. It is filled with all kinds of varieties and notions and a more amiable and gentlemanly menagerie man Raleigh does not contain. See advertisement.

Yesterday.

For localizing yesterday was not good. It rained or was awfully dark and dismal all through. But what of that? What cannot be made known to day will keep for to-morrow; and then to think of the glorious season for farming and planting and gardening. The man who could complain of yesterday, is a narrow-minded creature who knows and feels little else than self.

Mayor's Court.

Henry Phillips and James Williams, ebony members of society, got drunk and were disorderly, on Thursday evening and were locked up, under protest, till yesterday morning, when Mayor Whitaker charged each $3 for his night's lodging, which they paid, not under protest, but hailing it as the result of Radical rule. "Whar does de fine go, mister?" one of them asked. We didn't tell him, because we could not guess, and like young Mr. Washington, we could not tell a lie.

John Lee, colored, misbehaved himself at Metropolitan Hall, during the Firemen's jubilee on Thursday, and was brought before the Mayor yesterday and fined $5.

Congratulatory.

On Thursday evening last the friends of S. W. Vick, Esq., one of the fortunate survivors of the ill-fated steamer Atlantic, and the only one, lost or saved, belonging to North Carolina, entertained that gentleman at a splendid banquet at the Purcell House, Wilmington. The banquet was a compliment from the proprietor of that excellent establishment, Col. J. R. Davis, and was highly creditable to him, judging from our Wilmington exchanges.

W. A. Wright, Esq., presided. The following toasts were drank: 1st. To him in whose safety all this rejoicing finds vent; 2d. "Our direct trade with Europe will increase with every inch of water on our bar;" 3d. "Our agriculture—the basis of our wealth;" 4th. "The Press, the guardian of public opinion; 5th. "Manufactures—the great hope of the South;" 6th. "North Carolina—God bless her." The last regular toast was "Woman—Heaven's greatest blessing to man." Four toasts were responded to in their order by Mr. Vick, Hon. A. M. Waddle, Col. A. A. McKay, Gens. W. Harris, Edward Kidder, Maj. Seaton Gales, and Col. Jno. W. Atkinson. A number of volunteer toasts were proposed and duly honored, and after a most delightful evening, the company retired.

Olive Logan.

The price of admission to Tucker Hall to hear Olive Logan, next Thursday night, has been reduced to the small sum of fifty cents. Reserved seats can be obtained at Branson's book store for 75 cents. No half price. Secure your tickets in time in order to avoid the rush at the door at night.

Religious.

This being the first day of the quarterly meeting at Edenton Street Methodist Church, the presiding elder, Rev. W. H Bobbitt will preach at 11 o'clock. To-morrow at 11 o'clock he will preach a sermon in the interest Especially of the younger members of the congregation.

Remarkable Prediction.

In 1781 an Englishman, named Darwin, made some remarkable prophecies, embodied in the following lines. Two of them have been verified, the third may soon follow:

"Soon shall thine arms, unconquered steam, afar
Drag the slow barge and roll the rapid car,
And, with wide waving wings expanded, bear
The flying chariot through the realms of air."

The State Fair

One of our exchanges, the Madison Enterprise, says of the Fair:

It has been at last decided that the State Fair shall be held at Raleigh. We are glad it has been so decided, because we think the State Fair should be held at the Capital, especially so in this case, as Raleigh is situated near the centre of the state, and is as suitable a place as any other.

We hope the people of Raleigh will go to work in earnest in making such necessary improvements in the grounds and buildings, for the accommodation of exhibitors, as will make the Fair creditable to the State.

Penitentiary Birds.

The sheriff of Pitt county, by his deputy, delivered at the Penitentiary on yesterday morning two live specimens of the convict species. One was a white man, a native of Pitt county, convicted of horse stealing and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The other was a negro, sentenced to four years for larceny. We did not learn the names of the convicts nor of the deputy sheriff; but we understand the white horse stealer is a terrible case. He has been everything and at all times, and was once much admired for his graceful acts, even here in Raleigh, as a shining light in the circus company of John Robinson.

Injury to the Capitol.

During the heavy rains of yesterday there was a constant shower of water through the lights of the dome of the Capitol to the passage below. This was caused by the breakage of the glass work a day or two before by wanton boys who are permitted to have access to the roof. It has long been a source of complaint that the keepers of the capitol should allow idle boys to go to the roof of the building at the risk of their lives and to the destruction of the metal covering. We hope the present keeper will inaugurate a reform in this respect. The entrance to the stairs leading to the roof should be kept locked. Should strangers or others desire to view the city and surrounding country from that place, the keeper should admit them and accompany them.

Splendid Stock,

Some of the finest stock ever seen in Raleigh was on our streets yesterday. It consisted of four steers and a cow and a splendid horse. This stock was raised by Mr. J. C. Fuller, residing on Carroway Creek, twelve miles west of Asheboro', Randolph county. By general consent the beef cattle was the best ever seen in the city. It was not large, but well fed. One of the steers only was weighed and it pulled down 1,496 pounds. Mr. Fuller demanded 12½ cents net for the beef, and we have no doubt he got it. The horse was an iron-grey, five years old, well broke to all kinds work, gentle and perfectly healthy, and was one of the most perfect models of a horse we ever saw. Mr. F. held him at $325, and we think that if he has not received that sum for him he will yet obtain it. Mr. Fuller will be satisfied with his trip to Raleigh. All kinds of good stock find a ready market and good prices here.

Contentment and happiness reign in all households where Dooley's Yeast Powder is used. Try it. Your grocer has it. Put up full weight.

The London Times has an account of the unjust imprisonment of a Frenchman, one Dossud, and his sufferings, that parallels very nearly the case of Edmond Dantes or the hero of Les Miserables.—Dossud was imprisoned for fifteen years, although an alibi appears to have been sworn to in his case by two peasants, who were not believed. Dossud served out the two sentences, and ever since, now nearly fifteen years, has been living an exemplary life among his poor neighbors, respected, in spite of his sentence, by all. Only the other day there died, at the Hospital of St. Symphorien, an old man, Rambin by name. On his death bed he confessed that he alone was guilty of the crime for which Dossud had suffered. And so, after twenty years, slow justice was done to an innocent man. Fortunately, unlike the victim of the celebrated Calas tragedy, he was alive to know that his good name had been vindicated. A companion, Lionet, involved with him in the same misfortune, had died, however, many years before, innocent, but in the galleys.

WAIFS.

The late Mrs. James Gordon Bennett was riding in the steam cars on one occasion, when Gen Scott entered and took a seat directly behind. As he appeared to be unoccupied, the lady handed the General a copy of the New Yord Herald, which she had been reading. "Madam, I thank you," said the General, returning the paper, "I never read the Herald." The General had one less newspaper to support him at the next election.

Washington Irving relates a beautiful instance of the quick and generous impulses to which the French are prone, in the case of a cavalier, in the hottest of the action at Waterloo, charging furiously upon a British officer, but perceiving at the moment of assault that his adversary had lost his sword arm, dropped the point of his sabre, and courteously rode on. Peace be with that generous warrior, whatever were his fate!"

In Georgia a preacher of the violent order—that is, one who thinks to take the kingdom of heaven by violence—was praying with great vehemence of lungs—fairly shouting in the ear of Infinite Mercy—when a little girl in the house drew her mother's ear close to her lips and said, "Ma, don't you think, if he lived near to God, he could make him hear without speaking so loud?"

North Carolina Railroad.

Col. T. M. Holt, of Alamance, has been elected President of the North Carolina Railroad Company, vice Hon. Wm. A. Smith, resigned. Col. Holt is a thorough going business man and is well qualified for the position.

PROF TUTT FALLING.

It is a great blessing to have by nature a strong constitution, but not more than one half of the inhabitants of the civilized world are thus provided. Many constitutions are feeble to begin with, many other, originally vigorous, are crippled by over-exertion, dissipation, unhealthy surroundings, grief, privation, or some other portentous cause, before the prime of life is attained. But is this evil without a remedy or a palliative? No; constitutions can be repaired. Hundreds of thousands of instances might be adduced in which constitutional decay has been arrested by the continuous use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an invigorant. It is constitutional strength that enables one man to recover from a disease which would be mortal to another. Destitute of this element of restoration. When ever a malady of any kind obtains a foothold in any part of the human body, and hence encroaches thereon, it is proof positive that the constitution has been rendered by the disease and urgently requires help. In such a case Hostetter's Bitters should be taken at least three times a day, until the natural powers of the system are recalled. Then the mental principle which generated and feeds the complaint will have to succumb to the influence of animal vigor, aided by the tonic regulating, purifying operation of the Bitters upon the organ or organs in which the disease is located. There is nothing like this mighty tonic to "grasp the feiling."

DIAMOND SPECTACLES.

The Spectacles are manufactured from "Minute Crystal Pebbles" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that Spectacles cut from Brazilian or Bavaria pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from Chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles. Manufactured by the improved Optical Manufacturing Company, New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union.

H. Belser, Jeweler and Optician, is Sole Agent for Raleigh, N. C., from whom they can only be obtained. Be prudent—economize.

Do not buy a pair unless you see the trade mark. dec 8-dawly
