EDITORIAL ENTREES.

We agree with Brooklyn Bagle that the large prize recently drawn by some Northern man in the Royal Havana lettery, a half million of dollars, will do a great deal of harm. Hundreds of persons wi'l now spend their money hoping to gain a prize too, and of the number, all or nearly all, will be doomed to disappointment,

The distinguished English scientist, Prof. Tyndell, whose lectures in the Northern cities attracted so much merited attention, has given the net proceeds amounting to $13,033.34 to the people of the United States,-the fund to be held by trustees and to be carefully invested, the interest of which is to be used in promoting physical research in this country. A generous benefaction !

Whilst President Thiers' candidate was defeated, the successful candidate is not a monarchist. So far from it he is an ultra republican-an extremist in regard to the rights of the people-a true radical. The voe of Paris is gratifying, for it shows that the Bourbon candidate only received 27,058 votes out of 342,610. The ultra Republican received 180,146.

Senathor Anthony, of Rhode Island, is a Grantite of "the most strictest sect." He is editor of the Providence Journal of the Louisiana embroglio :

"Undoubtedly there is no government in Louisiana, actual or pretended, that is entitled to the respect of the people, al-though there be as many pretenders as to the government of France. The politics of that unhappy State, on both sides, are a mass of reeking corruption.'

Holland is just now engaged in a little the editorial of the Appeal. war of its own. There has been an insur rection in the island of Sumatra, and she is bent on bringing her rebellious subjects to terms. She is now sending out a large amount of the mgnitions of war for the troops already on the Island. The Dutch army may find as much trouble in subduing the Acheenese as Genl. Gilhem does in "annihilating" the Modocs.

We would be glad to hear from some of our Rockingham friends about the discoveries lately made in that county. There are some gentlemen hereabouts who behere it to be a first-class hoax. Well, we confess " we are sold " if it is a hoax. It is as good as Poe's "balloon hoas," the claimed that the whole railroad system the recent Natural Bridge hoax. So we wait for news from Rockingham.

A TORD OF ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN

Ever since the war coded there has been a great such to altice by our young men. Many who have not gone have un overweening desire to do so, fancying that life will be ensier and possiby un Elderdo may be found. The whole thing to die-prive. We dould not fifty, presibly a hundred, young men have been to they serve the people in their places. Baltimore and been disappointed sadly. Some of them become levelyed in debt, could not pay their board even, and have been compelled to leave at last. Others have become dissipated and thriftless, and many who remain barely live. That this is so, there are domine of incelligent Bultimore men who will bear witness. Besides the life of a "drammer" is disagrees. his very, and sometimes, as it is carried on by some, very disreputable. Our adrios then to young men is to keep away from the cities. #### RAILROAD MONOPOLIES.

We copy from the Petersburg Appeal timely warning to the people of Virginia against railroad kings and monopolies, North Carolina may well take the warning which the Appeal gives to Virginia. The cry of the editors seems directed entirely against Tom Scott. We know editors who abuse Tom Scott, but open not their mouths, and lift not their pen against Tom's agents, who do his work and bidding.

We must remind the Appeal that he has a railroad president nearer to him than Tom Scott who has been detected in running two newspapers in North Carolina. We mean President Buford of the Richmond & Danville road. Tom Scott of himself, can do but little; it is his subpresidents, and editors and legislators who do his work.

It is a little remarkable that the Virginia and North Carolina editors should and in a recent issue of his paper he says be so reticent on the subject of President Buford's running two democratic papers in North Carolina, Brother editors, while your notes of warning are heard against Tom Scott, let them also be heard against President Buford. President Hawkins is said to have aided in buying out President Buford's paper. Speak out brethren if you lose your free passes. But here is

TAKE WARNING IN TIME. The struggle between the people and the railroad monopolies which has been going on in the Northwest, and notably in Hunois, has attracted the attention of the whole country. For protection against the insolence, plunder and aggressions of these new dictators, the railroad kings, the people have been forced to combit into societies, in order by united action to punish their insolence, and reduce them to their proper position, to-wit a inter Washburn writes from Paris to a ominent organization of this character in Illinois, as tollows :

For the Festinal NOTES OF TRAVEL.

BY OUR POREIGN CORRESPONDENT.

DEAR SENTINEL: It is good to travel foreign parts. It you go away from home ignorant, you are pretty sure to learn something. If you go prejudiced and narrow, you become liberalized. It you go in a fit of discontent with your lot in life and your situation, ten to one but you come back thinking there is no house like your own. VISIT TO GRANVILLE.

Impressed with these views, I made my will a week or two ago, sharpered my pencils, prepared a note book, and set out or Granville county. My time was limited, but as my means exactly corresponded, that gave me no concern. I thought could study the character of the country, its climate, soil, products, animals and boriginal inhabitants as well in four or five days as in so many weeks.

AT HENDERSON.

Most people enter Granville county through Henderson. I landed at Hender-son and was swiftly conveyed to the prin-much about such shining. Quite other cipal hotel, where I sat alone two mortal radiance surrounds her who gives the cup hours in company with Hannah Widdi-comb's Cookery, a Dictionary and a somewhat dilapidated copy of the New Testa-ment. I read all three diligently during the space of time above mentioned. I inspected all the little china shepherdesses and dogs on the mantelpiece. I got up and sat down. I walked about the room and counted the spots on the carpet. On careful review of all the circumstances it appears to me that Henderson is a lone-

When the back that was to convey me o Oxford drove up to the door, presentng the appearance of a cross between an imbulance and a hearse, I was in an en-lively proper frame of mind to appreciate and enjoy its accommodation. I climbed into it the back way, sat down on my truck and resigned myself to self-examination and contrition

However, the day was too bright and he general aspect of Granville county much too gay and beautiful to encourage anything like a lengthened despondency could not feel in a critical frame of mind Life was sweet, I knew not why," and it seemed simply good to be in Granville unty. I took out my note-book. HER IMPRESSIONS.

The natural features of Granville coun are not unlike those of Orange. Inrying to recollect all the time that I was a foreign principality. Of course all omparisons when made were decidedly a favor of Orange, yet I "kept forgetting" as the children say, that I was a good sixteen leagues from home, and that the waters of the Tar, the Neuse, and the New Hope rolled proudly between me and my own dear native hills. The traveller in Granville appears to enjoy the tscilities for enjoying her geologically and mineralogically that Orange so liberally fords. In fact she positively optrades er treasures in this way upon onc's noce, and whether I would or not. I am confident I gave every rock in her territory a good going over that day. One gets rather impatient of all formations when the acquaintance is compulsory. Primary, or Secondary, or Tertiary I felt a and and indifference since they were all qually in the way, and country obnoxrule in Granville—and the exception.

I heartily endorse the general opinion that

The beginning has been made on the alenderest scale-but with firm and hearty faith in God for ats future. The poor little ones have gone there, many of them without even a change of clothing. The warm-hearted and gen-erous people of Oxford have gone up to the rescue. STIC SCHOOLS ner was a good one, wholesome and suffi-

I had the pleasure of seeing both Mr. Horner and Mr. Graves, and of learning that their famous school is still prosperous. To have even two such schools as tiorner's and Bingham's in our State, and so well sustained is a good sign and cheers the spirits of any one coming from the neighborhood of the abandoned University. Oxford has always been noted for its good schools and I can imagine no more pleasant or saler place to send boys or girls to, especially from the eastern part of the State. There is something ample and dignified in the look of the place, recalling the pride of former days when its wealth and large handed hospitality made it conspicuous among our inland towns, I longed to see a train of cars gliding among the hills that lie around it. A Railroad from Oxford to the coalfields, running by Durham and Chapel Hill is one of the improvements which I expect to live to note,

Coming away from Oxford is not as pleasant as going to it. One leaves it with regret and a solemn promise to go at some ppt, remote future, think the traveller who goes abroad with a will to see pleasant and cheerful things will say that there certainly is apparent in North Carolina a greater expres son of activity and enterprise than formerly. This is especially noticeable as one nears Raleigh, and Raleigh herself is expanding at a rate that would be very gratifying to our State pride if one were sure of the grounds. I should like to see something a little more solid than mere speculation in real estate. A few cotton factories for instance. The mere fact that lots and taxes are high, and rents enormous in Raleigh will not attract population, nor be held as a sufficient guarantee for her prosperity.
