The New Organ at the Presbyterian Church

This new proun, the erection of which was finished by G. T. Cadwallader, Esq., on Monday, was exhibited to a number of ludies and gentlemen assembled to see and hear it on Monday evening. The result was perfectly satisfactory. For its but few stops, but these when combined with the other mechanical arrangements, most ingeniously constructed, produre a very full body of tone. The stops when used separately are sweet, and mefodious. Take it all together, the organ does great credit to the builders, Messrs. Hook & Co., of Boston.
