An Interview with the Condemned,

Simpson Mordecai and Thomas Griffice both colored, have been sentenced to be hanged between the hours of ten and three o'clock on Friday next (to-morrow) for get to pouting when reminded of their the crime of burglary with intent to commit murder. The appeal to the Supreme Court in their behalf resulted in the judgdeserved as readily as to censure when ment of the Superior Court being confirmed, and Executive clemency alone can save them. A strong effort has been made and is still being made to have their sentence commuted to imprisonment for life the strongest sympathiser; asking nothing less than that. Up to the present writing, Gov. Caldwell has strictly kept his own counsel in regard to the course he may take-refusing even to intimate to the sheriff his final purpose. By some it is said the Governor is troubled by the difficulties of the case, the Solicitor who prosecuted and the jury, with one or two exceptions, who tried the case, refusing to sign the petition. The jury was composed of ten colored men and two whites Eight, we think, of the colored jurors reentence, as do also the two white jurors, Others, however, incline to the belief that the prisoners will not be executed at all . and others still think that whatever the final determination of the Governor in the matter may be, the execution will not take place to-moreow,
