A resolution is now pending before the Board of City Commissioners which proposes to relieve from taxation, for ten years, all woolen and cotton factories left hand. which may be established in Raleigh. The resolution will no doubt be adopted, Is this not an indocement for some of our monied men to invest in factories !

Trinity College,

We learn that the present session of Trinity College opens with an increased number of students, the Freshman class being much larger than ever before. The town of Goldsboro' has a larger representation than any other town in the State We are glad to hear of the presperity of this coble old institution,

Captain R. A. Shotwell

We received a copy of the Albany Evening Times, of the 26th inst, from this gentiemen. We had seen it stated that h had been released from the Albany Penltentiary, but we lear the story is untrue, We return him our thanks, and hope he will soon be re-tored to liberty and his home. He lass the sympathy of many wei - rishers and triends.

We see that our worthy townsman Hon, T. C. Fuller, met with a public reception on the occasion of his recent visit to the town of Fayetteville. He was received at the depot by the LaFayette Light Infantry and escerted to the residence of Mrs. M. A. Fuller, where he was stopping. Mr. Fuller recognized the compliment in a short pithy, eloquent speech, which was received with great applause.

We hope no one, after reading the following, will accuse us of being a communist or an international: The population of Raleigh is between eight and ten thousand; the real estaste of the city is valned at $2,555,180. Placing the population at 8,000, and dividing the $2,555,180 equally would give every -man, woman, $3,193 97 1-2.

Old Pair Grounds—The Question of Cotton and Woollen Pactories.

On Wednesday night the Commissio era held their regular monthly meeting Mayor Whitaker presiding. Present, Mesers. Clawson, Ellison, Gorman, Jones, Prairie, Ricks and White.

The suditing of accounts first claimed the attention of the Board. There was considerable discussion as to the propriety of paying an account of Dr. W. H. Mc-Kee for dressing wounds of prisoners in Commissioner Jones was opposed to th We regret to accounce that Mr. John payment of any such bills, and did not think it was expected that the city should rious accident a few days ago, by which pay for dressing the wounds of prisoners he is temporarily deprived of the use of his who happened to fall into the hands of the police.

Commissioner Ellison favored the payment of the bill in a speech of some length. an accomulation, mainly of carbolic acid, He said it was expected that the city should eare for prisoners in the hands of trolled by reflex action of the nervous systhe police. In all the cities that he knew tem, which thus protects the organism anything about, wounded prisoners were from oxidation, and allows the organism cared for at the expense of the city. When a wounded man was put in the guard house he was helpless and could not secure medical attention for himself, and he thought it would be a lasting disgrace to the city if the man should be allowed to remain in the guard house and die for the want of medical treatment. If the common feelings of humanity did not prompt the city to care for wounded and suffering prisoners he thought the city should do so as a matter of policy, for should a man be allowed to die in the "lock-up,"

> Commissioner Jones moved to lay that motion on the table. He insisted that the commissioners had no right to allow a doctor could send a policeman for the one he preferred, and if the doctor failed to come and the man died, he, (the doctor,) and not the city, would be responsi
