There are at present seventy-five Granges in the State already.—Magnolia Monitor.

A BIG FORTUNE.—John Ellwood, an old English miner of Rutherford county, died last week. Ellwood had just gained a suit in the English Court by which he would have come into the possession of $300,000.00. His family however, will get it. A portion of the money is already in New York. The fortune was recovered through the exertions of that distinguished soldier and gentleman Gen. Leaventhorpe, and we are glad to hear, that, according to the terms of agreement, the Gen. will get one fourth of the money which will be $75,000.00. Since Elwood's death, his family have been notified of the death of a relation by which they will come into possession of another large fortune.—Piedmont Press.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Personal.

Mr. H. A. Foote, editor of the Warrenton Gazette, called to see us yesterday. Blair of the National, has him in charge, and we feel he is safe and will be well kept.

Omission and a Mistake.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Robesonian, does us the honor to copy one of our recent editorials—over a column long—but fails to give credit. We are satisfied it was unintentional. The editorial attributed to the News, headed, "Pity for Pool," appeared in the SENTINEL.

Highly Commendable.

The two young ladies who are giving concerts for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Home met with an appreciative audience at Statesville, according to the Charlotte Observer. They netted upwards of sixty dollars. Good!

"The Living and the Dead."

We advise you to send $2 to Col. S. D. Pool who is rendering the State service in publishing his war record with the above title. Every man who has ordinary State pride should subscribe, and all the ladies (God bless them!) who are always ready to do their duty, should aid this worthy enterprise. We hope our people will take hold of the matter vigorously.

The Woodfin-Carter Libel Case.

We publish to-day from our special reporter, the first day's proceedings of the interesting libel suit of Woodfin vs. Carter now being tried at Marion, McDowell county. Our reporter is a legal gentleman and a disinterested party, and we assure our readers he will give them an unvarnished statement of the facts as they are developed on the trial.

Singer's Sewing Machine.

We take pleasure in directing the attention of our readers to the merits of this excellent machine. Take it all in all, there is probably no superior to it in the world. It is very popular, and immense numbers are sold annually. The manager for Raleigh is an energetic and intelligent gentleman. We refer you to the advertisement in another column.

The Great Balloon.

The editor of the New York Daily Graphic has sent us a small piece of the material used in the manufacture of the great balloon which is to take Messrs. Wise and Donaldson across the Atlantic Ocean. We have never seen anything like it before and hardly know how to describe it. It is something between India-rubber and oil cloth. Those who have a curiosity to see it may do so by calling at this office.

Rain in August.

In yesterday's SENTINEL we gave from the Journal the rain fall in Wilmington for the month of August—7.42 inches—and gave as our opinion that more rain had fallen in this section than had ever fallen in any previous August. A gentleman who has made the measurement furnishes us the following statement for August: For the first twenty days 7 inches, and for the entire month more than 10 inches fell.

B. F. Rogers, Esq.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of seeing in our office B. F. Rogers, Esq., of Salisbury, Secretary of the Western North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Fair Association. He gives us every assurance that their approaching fair will be a perfect success. The Association has made arrangements with the railroads for the free transportation of articles to and from the fair. If we can find time from our duties we will accept his invitation to be present on the opening day, October 7th.

Milton's Last Poem.

There is a very beautiful poem going the rounds of the press that purports to be from the Oxford edition of Milton's works. This is a mistake. The poem was not written by Milton, and is not in the Oxford edition. It was written by a Philadelphia lady more than twenty years ago. We doubt not that fifty years hence some misled bookseller will incorporate this very fine American poem with Milton's poems, and the generations far in the future will read it and give the grand old singer credit for it. It is truly Miltonic—thoroughly toned and saturated with his genius. Milton has a poem on his blindness, but it is a sonnet.

Petersburg Tobacco Market.

The breaks were again large to-day and the market continues steady, with a good demand from both manufacturers and shippers. Dard strong tobacco and fine, fancy, bright wrappers are in demand at full prices. We quote:

Lugs $6.00 to $8.00, working lugs $8.50 $9.25; shipping leaf, common to very good, $9 to $13; fine $13.00 to $14.00; filler leaf, common to good, $6.50 to $10; very good $10.50 to $11.50; dark strong wrap leaf, (hooky leaf,) suitable for black work $9.75 to $14 for common to fine; mahogany wrappers $15 to $73; sundscript leaf $6.50 to $11.00. Monday, warm and funkoh tobacco is selling very low.—Appeal.

FINE CUT.

The law firm of Argo & Harris has been dissolved by mutual consent.

A baby has been born at Wilton Junction, Iowa, with a full set of teeth.

The ladies at Vienna dress just like the ladies in America, except that they don't wear any bustles, and do wear their own hair.

There is one summer house at Long Branch where, it is said, that over 100 engagements have been entered into since it was built last season.

The little Italian boy who fiddles about the streets, had a narrow escape yesterday. Going too near a vicious horse he was kicked at and his fiddle shivered to atoms.

The girls all declare that next winter they intend to use extreme measures to put a stop to the nuisance of having men join them when they are out on shopping expeditions.

One young lady at Saratoga creates a sensation by wearing diamond buckles in her shoes. She is awfully careful about holding her dress up when the walking is wet or dirty.

A flowery advertisement of a certain kind of "bitters," which appeared in a New England journal, was rather weakened by a mistake of the type-setter, who read "strychnine" for "saccharine."

Called Meeting.

There will be a called meeting of Hickman Lodge, I. O. O. F., at their Lodge Room this (Friday) evening at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of giving a reception to T. N. Ramsay, Esq., who has recently returned from the Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of the World. All members of the Lodge are requested to be present, as other matters of importance will claim their attention.

School Matters.

There will be a called meeting of the Board of Education in this city on Saturday the 13th inst. for the purpose of apportioning to the several townships the school money recently paid to the county treasurer by the sheriff. School committeemen who do not return a census of the number of school children now in their townships must expect their apportionment to be made according to the last census.

Complimentary.

The local, without the knowledge of Mr. Kingsbury, takes the liberty of transferring to his columns the following complimentary paragraph from the Petersburg Appeal:

Mr. T. B. Kingsbury, of the Raleigh SENTINEL, proposes to revive the "Leisure Hour," once a popular literary weekly. Mr Kingsbury is an elegant writer, and his project, we hope, will succeed.

Late English Papers.

We are under obligations to our friend Mr. Theo. N. Ramsay for late English papers—including the famous London Times. Ramsay comes back looking fully the Englishman, with English clothes and whiskers. He is well, had a delightful time, visited England, Ireland, Scotland and France, and is back in Raleigh, his total expenditures not exceeding $275. The vessel he returned in encountered a terrific gale, which did immense damage to shipping. Ramsay rather thinks he has had enough of "old ocean."

The Vienna Prizes.

Whilst the various sewing machines are quarreling over who got the highest prizes at Vienna, we copy the following awards taken from the "Reghlar Vienna Correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune," (Bayard Taylor):

THE MEDAL OF PROGRESS.

From the fact of the relatively small number of this medal awarded and from its peculiar signification, it may fairly be considered a higher prize than the medal of merit. The following machines obtained this medal:

Singer Manufacturing Co., New York; sewing machines.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Co., New York; sewing machines.

Wilcox Sewing Machine Co., New York; sewing machines.

Hartford Sewing Machine Co., Hartford, Ct.; sewing machines.

E. Remington & Sons, Ilion, N. Y.; sewing machines.

Howe Machine Co., New York; sewing machines.

THE MEDAL OF PROGRESS.

The following awards were made:

Singer Manufacturing Co., New York; machine embroidery and stitching.

Wood Sewing Machine Co., Hartford, Conn.; embroidery and stitching.

Wilson Sewing Machine Co., Cleveland, Ohio; embroidery and stitching.

Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine Co., New York; cabinet work.

This settles the question, and we hope all are pleased.

Testimonial.

The following letter relative to Prof. Myerhoff, of the Baptist Female Seminary, has been handed us for publication:

CHARLOTTE, Aug. 25th, 1873.

Prof. L. Von Myerhoff, Raleigh, N. C.:

DEAR SIR: It affords me pleasure to express my great admiration of your exalted musical genius and exquisite artistic skill, and to add the hope that you may receive such encouragement in your profession as to induce you to make North Carolina your permanent home.

Very rarely have students of music such an opportunity of instruction as your presence affords them.

Respectfully,

W. A. MYERS.

A Negro Fiend.

On yesterday morning Sol. Buffalos, a big black negro, was committed to the county jail, having been arrested for attempting the life of his wife, whom he suspected of infidelity. From his brother we learn the following facts: Sol. and his wife live on the premises of Mr. Simon Williams, in Swift Creek township, about eight miles from this city. Sol. claimed to have had reasons for believing that his wife was untrue to him, and on Saturday morning he charged it upon her and abused her in a most shameful manner. On Saturday night he appeared to be very penitent and desirous of making amends for his harshness in the morning. He soon succeeded in persuading his wife that he was sorry for what he had done and wanted to make friends. The wife was only too anxious to be restored to favor with her husband and meeting him in that spirit permitted him to take hold of her, and while pretendingly caressing her he took from his person a large butcher knife, and plunged it into her abdomen, literally performing Japanese harakari. For three days her condition was very critical and it was thought she could not live, but she is now able to sit up and hopes are entertained of her speedy recovery. This modern Othello will have a hearing this morning before his Honor the Mayor.

General William Davidson.

A correspondent, writing from Clover Orchard, asks why the resolution passed by the Congress of the United States in the year 1781, in the following language, was never executed:

Resolved, That the Governor and Council of the State of North Carolina be desired to erect a monument at the expense of the United States, not exceeding in value five hundred dollars, to the memory of the late Brigadier-General Davidson, who commanded the militia of the District of Salisbury, in the State of North Carolina, and was killed on the 1st of February last, fighting gallantly for the defence of the liberty and independence of these States.

Yesterday we visited the State Department and searched through the documents, but found nothing that could throw any light upon the subject. It may have been that the sum appropriated ($500 Continental money) was considered by the Governor and his Council inadequate for the erection of such a monument as Gen. Davidson's services entitled him to, and the project was consequently abandoned.

BITTEN BY A HORSE.—Yesterday afternoon as Mr. Thos. H. Smith was passing near Wooten's express wagon, he was suddenly seized by the horse attached to it and bitten on the left arm. INCENDIARISM.—We regret to learn that the Academy at Little River was burned on Sunday morning last. Our informant states that it was doubtless the work of an incendiary; as there had been no fire in the Academy. At present no parties suspected. IN ERROR.—The 9th of October instead of September, as stated in the last week's Press, is the time Caldwell county votes on the Narrow Gauge Railroad tax. Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston will vote the same day. (The time has been changed in Catawba from the 9th Thursday in September to the 9th of October.) This information is derived from Dr. Durgan.—Piedmont Press.

THE WOODFIN, CARTER LIBEL CASE.

Trial of the Defendant Carter.

FIRST DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

[From our Special Reporter.]

The trial of one of the most interesting and important libel cases ever tried in North Carolina, commenced on Monday, September 1st, before Judge J. L. Henry, at Marion, McDowell county. Our special reporter sends us the following concerning

THE CASE:

The case, as I understand it, is as follows: The Legislature in 1870, appointed a commission consisting of the prosecutor, Mr. N. W. Woodfin and others to make settlement with Geo. W. Swepson and Milton S. Littlefield, President, and ex-President of the Western Division of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, who were charged with gross mismanagement and fraud in the sale of several millions of dollars of N. C bonds. Mr. Woodfin, as chairman of this commission, made various compromises with Swepson and Littlefield in Washington City, New York City, and in London. These compromises were made in 1870 and 1871. The defendant, Thos. D. Carter, Esq., now editor of the Western Expositor, soon after these compromises were made public by Mr. Woodfin's reports to the Legislature, published a series of articles in the North Carolina Citizen, severely criticising the conduct of Mr. Woodfin in the said several compromises. These articles in effect, charged that Mr. W. acted all along, either as dupe or accomplice of Swepson and Littlefield, and of course were quite damaging to that gentleman. So, at the Spring Term, 1872, of Buncombe Superior Court, an indictment was found, Mr. Woodfin being the prosecutor against both Mr. Carter and Capt. Natt. Atkinson, then editing the Citizen. At the succeeding term of the court, the case was continued at the instance of the prosecutor till the Spring Term, 1873, when all parties agreed to go to trial. After the trial had progressed for seven or eight days, the counsel for the defendants having all addressed the jury except Col. David Coleman, who was then making the concluding argument, the counsel for the prosecution made affidavit, that they were surprised at the attempt of Col. C. to justify, under the statute, and the Judge thereupon withdrew a juror and made a mistrial—and this, notwithstanding, the Colonel agreed to abandon the line of argument pursued by him. But this ruling of the court having already been commented on by the Sentinel, I will only say of it now, that it had the effect of continuing the case to the late Special Term of Buncombe court, when it was removed upon Mr. Woodfin's affidavit, that he could not obtain justice in Buncombe, to this county for trial.

On Friday, of this term, the case was called and the trial of the defendant, Carter, (a nol. pros. having been entered as to Capt. Atkinson) fixed for to-day.

THE COUNSEL

for the parties are quite numerous and respectable. The prosecutor is ably represented by Messrs. G. N. Folk, A. T. Davidson, T. F. Davidson, A. M. Erwin, Fab. H. Busbee, W. W. Flemming, C. M. McLeod and Lawrence Pulliam. The defendant is quite as ably represented by Ex-Gov. Z. B. Vance, Hon. A. S. Merrimon, Col. David Coleman and Messrs. A. C. Avery and W. H. Malone.

THE TRIAL

was fully opened this morning (Monday) at 9:30. The jury having been selected with but little delay, Col. Davidson opened the case for the prosecutor with a brief and pointed statement of what the State expected to prove, the law bearing upon it, &c.

The indictment was then read. It charged, substantially, that the prosecutor undertook, as one of the Commission to make settlement with Swepson; that although he acted, as he conceived, in the best interests of the people, the defendant made certain publications with malicious intent to defame him, &c., &c. As tending to prove these allegations, the prosecution introduced the publications themselves. For the purpose of showing express malice on the part of the defendant, Maj. W. W. Rollins, one of the Commission, and G. M. Roberts, Esq., Secretary of the Western Division of the Western N. C. R. R., were then introduced. These gentlemen testified that they had heard the defendant speak in severe terms of the prosecutor; but the details of this testimony will not be interesting. The prosecutor himself then took the witness stand. He testified that the defendant quarrelled with him in New York city, because he, the witness, refused to purchase the Cranberry Iron property for the benefit of the West. Div. W. N. C. Railroad, and because he would not bring a suit to enjoin the sale of the special tax bonds offered on Wall street by Swepson, and that the defendant intended to blast his reputation if it took all his life time. On the cross examination, he stated that he was of counsel for Swepson, as President of the road, when the Legislature appointed him as one of the Commission, and that he favored the passage of the bill, although he knew at the time that his name was in the bill. When asked why he did not take steps to arrest Swepson at Washington City at the time the first compromise was made, he replied that it would have looked bad, or would have been bad faith, to arrest a man at a time when he was approached for a compromise.

The State here rested its case. Thereupon Judge Merrimon and Col. Coleman urged with much earnestness and ability that the State had failed to make out a prima facie case, inasmuch as the allegations of the bill had not been proved as charged. But the Court ruled otherwise, and here ended the first days' proceedings.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.—There came very near being a bloody affray near Bridletown, Burke county. Thomas Johnson had attacked some of the Lanes when they were very drunk and beat them up pretty badly. At a shooting match last week the Lane boys met Johnson and commenced shooting at him—fired several shots, but fortunately none of them took effect.—Piedmont Press.

THE SINGER STILL AHEAD.

Sold in 1872, 212,650, forty-five thousand more than any other company, and nine out of ten of said Singer Machines were for family use, proving the great popularity of the Singer in the household.

We claim and can show that it is the cheapest, most beautiful, delicately arranged, nicely adjusted, easily operated, and smoothly running of all the Family Sewing Machines. It is remarkable not only for the range and variety of its sewing, but also for the variety and different kinds of texture which it sews with equal facility and perfection, using any kind of silk twist, linen or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the Inter-Locked-Elastic-Stitch, alike on both sides, demonstrates, using the "tricks of trade," by its persuasive purchasers that our Family Machine is not equal for family sewing to our manufacturing machines for manufacturing purposes.

Try and see for yourself that our new family sewing machine embodies new and essential principles, to wit: simplicity of construction; ease of operation; uniformity of precise action at any speed; unparalleled durability; capacity for range and variety of work, fine or coarse—leaving all rivals behind it. We do not make an additional charge to our Machines, but sell them as low as they can be bought south of New York.
