A Good Day's Work.

A gentleman informs us that one of the Managers of the Great Eastern Circus informed him that their receipts in this gity amounted to the enormous sum of $9,000. He stated their expenses at $2,000, which left them $7,000 net profit. We call that a pretty good day's work.

David Settlemire found guilty of illicit distilling at the last term of the United States District Court for the district of North Carolina, and sentenced to pay a fine of one thousand dollars and to be imof September, on the recommendation of and unconditional pardon,

A Circus man Halled.

We learn from a special to the Richmond Disputch that just as the mail train was moving off from Clover Station, on the evening of the 2d inst., a man named Thompson, connected with Lent's New York Circus, fell between two cars in an attempt to get on the train, which ran over him, cutting off-both of his legs a little below the kness. The unfortunate man died to thirty minutes.

Intoxicating Laquors for the Fair.

Under this heading the last number of the Spirit of the Age reviews at some length the attempt at opening a mait liquors establishment on the Fair Grounds last Sabbath, of which mention was made in these columns on Tuesday morning. It endorses Secretary Pulghum's action in closing the gates against them, and adds : Would it not now be wise for the committee to recind their action whereby the privilege [of allowing malt liquor to be sold on the grounds during Fair week] was granted, and save themselves from reproach, as there are those who will not visit the exhibition if liquors are sold on the grounds." In answer to the Spirit and for the information of the public we will state that at a meeting of the com. mittee held on Tuesday night, their "action granting the privilege" referred to was recinded, at least so far as two of the parties are concerned.

Police Court,

Friday as stated in yesterday issue, was emarkably quiet, considering the large number of strangers in the city, and we had hoped to be able to state that the circus had come and gone and that the peace and quiet of the city had remained unbroken, but alse for human expectations, it was not to be. Before the circus got out of the city three arrests were made. Henry Harris, a country negro, who had come to see the show, was led to take a little too much rye and got into the calaboose.
