NORTH CAROLINA.

From the Piedmont Press:

The production of ingot copper from the works at Ducktown, in 1872, was about 750 tons, or 1,500,000 pounds. This was extracted in great part from a single opening, known as the East Tennessee mine, which has been wrought to a depth of over 400 feet.

The Railroad tax in Buncombe was voted on last week and carried almost unanimously—only four votes against it in Asheville Township, and none in Swannanoa. The only fear is that a majority of the qualified votes have not been cast.

Harvey Hudson, of Catawba county, was found dead in the road leading from Morganton to Newton, near John Martin's, in Burke, on the evening of the 31st of September. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "accidentally killed by falling from his horse."

IN INDIAN.—There will be about thirty or more Cherokee Indians here this week, who appear before the Federal Court in the case of the United States vs. J. G. Bloom, J. T. Dowese and others, charged with conspiracy against the Cherokees.—Greensboro Patriot.

The mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee have attracted much attention this summer. They promise in time to become almost as fashionable as those of Virginia. The Appletons in their Journal, and in "Picturesque America" first drew attention to them in scenes at Chattanooga, along the French Broad, and at other places. Correspondents this season have been more busy than usual with the scenery of this section, and we notice among them the name of a North Carolina authoress well known as a pleasant writer, Mrs. Mary Bayard Clark. This mountain region must be worthy the eulogiums lavished upon it. Some of the peaks there are said to be the highest east of the Mississippi, surpassing those of Vermont and other Northern States, and being at the same time their equals in grandeur, wildness, and beauty of scenery.—Baltimore Gazette.

THE FAIRFIELD CANAL.—This canal, in Hyde county, N. C., now under construction by the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company, is fast approaching completion under the supervision of Mr. John W. Parks, constructing engineer. The canal extends from Alligator river to Lake Mattamuskeet, a distance of four and a half miles, and is now so far completed as to be navigable for vessels within two thirds of a mile of the lake.

The country adjoining the lake is celebrated for its productive qualities, the soil not being excelled by any in the Western States—corn in vast quantities being raised which has heretofore found a market in Charleston, Savannah, and other southern cities. When this canal is completed and a fine steamer placed on the line from this city making regular trips, it is expected the grain and other products of the country will find a better market here.

This canal, like the Albemarle and Chesapeake, is being constructed especially for the use steam—no towpath on its banks—and, moreover, it is being constructed entirely by steam, no spade or pickaxe having been used in its construction. Although it passes through a finely timbered country abounding in wood it has been found cheaper to transport coal from the mines at Cumberland for fuel than to use wood for that purpose. We mention this as a fact to show the intelligence of the products of the country. While millions of feet of timber and thousands of cords of wood go annually from that section of the Old North State to the northern sections of the Union, coal can be brought from Pennsylvania and Maryland and used with greater economy for fuel.—Norfolk Journal.

The salary of the Lord Mayor of London is to be fixed hereafter at £10,000.

Lent's Circus.

Walter E. Coyle, press agent of this mammoth establishment, favored us with several calls during his recent visit to our city and exhibited telegrams from disinterested parties (to our own knowledge) of the successful visits to Charlotte, Salisbury, Lexington and Greensboro' of Lent's great show. Mr. Coyle was of late a member of the "presgang" and assures us we may confidently recommend the exhibition. Two performances to-day—afternoon and night.

The Central Baptist Association.

Yesterday this Association convened in this city at 4 P. M., and organized by electing N. E. Connody, of Granville, Moderator and N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, Clerk.

The introductory sermon was preached last night by Rev. Jas. S. Purefoy, of Wake Forest, subject Faith. The Association meets this morning at 9 o'clock. Half hour will be spent in devotional services, conducted by Rev. J. C. Marcom.

Rev. Jas. B. Taylor, of Virginia, will preach to-night.

Title to the Courthouse Square.

Much inquiry has recently been made about the lot occupied by the Courthouse of this county. A gentleman who has investigated the matter says, that the entire lot from Martin to Davie streets, consists of two acres, being lots 82 and 90. In 1793, soon after the city was laid out, these lots were severally owned by James Woodworth, of New Hanover county, and Theophilus Hunter, Sr., of Wake county. These gentlemen, by their separate deeds of 23d June and 15th July, 1793, conveyed each the inner half of said lots—making the whole space surveyed one acre.

One of the conveyance was made to Josh Lane, Tignal Jones, John Williams and Richard Banks, justices of Wake county, together with the other justices thereof, and their successors in office. The other deed was made "to the chairman and justices and their successors"—the consideration of each five shillings. The original deeds are in the Register's office.

F.NE CUT.

Our Senior put in an appearance at Greensboro on Tuesday last.

Greensboro' is undergoing a washing process. They have a laundry there.

The Sha will not attend the Hickory Tavern fair! That's just like him.

Jno. Kincaid, of Burke county, aged 81, died on the 1st inst.

O. A. P. Shell, of Warrenton, has a 725 pound hog, and he is not fat at that. So says the Weldon News.

Hon. Burgess S. Gaither and Col. Jno. G. Bynum have formed a law co-partnership.

The hog cholera and cattle distemper rage in portions of Burke. Also the army worm.

The Observer says they had frost in Charlotte on Tuesday last. Also in Lincolnton.

"Old Whitey," Gen. Zack. Taylor's celebrated war horse, was a native of Caldwell county in this State. So claims the Piedmont Press.

The case of the Western N. C. Railroad—to force it into bankruptcy—has been continued by the Federal court now in session at Greensboro'.

Fifty-nine criminal cases on the Federal district docket at Greensboro, 10 on the civil docket, 4 libel suits, 16 equity cases and 20 civil suits.

Key Found.

A brass store-key, 6½ inches long, was yesterday picked up in Martin Street, in front of Mr. Weatherly's residence, near the corner of Nash Square. The owner may recover it by calling at this office.

Friends of the Sentinel

Who are indebted to the establishment and who may happen to be present at our Fair next week, will confer a favor by calling and demanding receipts. We need money to carry on our business. We have due us a large amount in small sums which we cannot afford to send a collector after. These small sums of easy payment would make an aggregate which would render us easy and comfortable. But with money or without the friends of the SENTINEL are always welcome visitors.

Stylish Marriage.

Elsewhere will be found the usual notice of the marriage at the New York Hotel, on the 2d inst., of our friend C. M. Parks, Esq., of Hillsboro', and Miss Henrietta S., daughter of the late John Davidson, of New Orleans. Among those present on the occasion, a townsman of Mr. Parks writes us, were E. J. Hale, Esq., John D. Brown, and Messrs. Throxton, Lyons, Kirkland, Dr. Henry Reid, Dr. Mac. Long, of Weldon, and Mr. J. G. B. Roulhac. He adds: "Parks acquitted himself creditably, and the bride looked superb in white satin and diamonds."

President Grant and the Fair.

The committee who visited Washington to invite President Grant to our Fair returned yesterday afternoon. In an interview with a member of the committee we learned that they were politely received at the White House by the President, who regretted his inability to attend in consequence of prior engagements. He has to receive the members of the Evangelical Alliance on Tuesday or Wednesday next. Then he was under an obligation to join the reunion of the "Army of Tennessee," at Toledo, on Thursday or Friday of the same week. The army of Tennessee was the first army he had commanded, and having twice before been unable to accept their invitation he felt it incumbent upon him to do so on this occasion. He seemed to regret his inability to visit Raleigh at this time and suggested to the committee that he should be reminded of the next Fair at an earlier day.

Henderson Fair.

The attendance at this Fair was small and the entries few, but among them we noted the following worthy of mention:

Some fine varieties of embroidery by Mrs. A. B. and Miss Ella Andrews.

Beautiful worsted flowers by Mrs. W. C. Lanier.

A very fine bed quilt and variation of wine by Mrs. Col. S. S. Royster.

Fine oil paintings by Mrs. H. T. Royster.

A beautifully embroidered child's dress by Mrs. James Harris.

Rare specimens of embroidery by Mrs. Col. L. J. Young.

A very beautiful counterpane by Mrs. M. W. Rems.

Specimens of fine needle work by Mrs. Col. Harris. Also by Mrs. T. H. Pinkham.

Wax and vegetables, fine varieties, by Mrs. James Lanier.

Elegant display of fine celery, by Messrs. Julius Lewis & Co., of this city.

Some very fine oil paintings by Miss Carrie Jenkins, of Williamsboro'.

Hours' celebrated cotton chopper was the great attraction.

The exhibition of cattle, though small, included some fine specimens. The horses also, were few but good.

The address of Judge Merrimon, as might have been expected, was an able effort and was attentively listened to.

EDITORIAL ROUGH-AND-TUMBLE

[SPECIAL TO THE SENTINEL.]

NEWBERN, N. C., Oct. 9

Hearne, editor of the Raleigh Era, committed an assault at the Gaston House, at noon, to-day, upon Nason, editor of the Republican and Courier. Hearne got the worse of it. Nason had him down sitting upon his belly, when he was taken off by Hearne's friends, who hurried him away, leaving Nason cock of the walk, in possession of Hearne's cane. At four o'clock Nason met Hearne at the same place and with a magnanimous spirit presented the cane to him, advising him to abstain from the disreputable business of fighting or attempting jobs larger than he was able to undertake. Hearne is thirty pounds heavier than Nason. M.

A Visit to the New Fair Grounds.

We visited the new Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon and were surprised and delighted with the prospect. It is some six weeks since we were last there, and the amount of work done since that time amazed us.

The buildings are all finished except the final touches by the painters.

The race-track we honestly believe is one of the finest, if not the very finest, in America. It is nearly all rolled in, is receiving its final coat of excellent loam and its last rolling, and will be turned over to the Executive Committee to-night—finished.

The Grand Stand is a splendid affair, very commodious and very convenient for all the purposes to which it is to be applied. The seating accommodation is ample and the seats very comfortable, but we fear it will be found to have been located too near the track. The entrances and stairway are spacious and convenient, giving ample facilities for rapid ingress and egress.

General Exhibition Hall is a great feature of the grounds and will afford abundant space for the great display looked forward to.

Machinery Hall is all that could be desired and has the railroad running into it, thus giving unusual facilities for unloading and reloading heavy articles of machinery.

We did not examine the stalls for horses, cattle, &c.; but they looked comfortable and convenient and the stretched out along the fences apparently by the mile.

The two grand entrances are handsome contrivances and produce a fine effect.

About two hundred and fifty hands were busily engaged upon the buildings and grounds—hammering, sawing, brushing, rolling, hauling, mowing off unused timber, clearing off rubbish, leveling and scraping and sweeping. A more animated scene we have seldom witnessed.

The county road from St. Mary's to the grounds by both routes has been graded and put in thorough repair, and is superior for traveling to even the streets of Raleigh. On this work there were engaged about fifty convicts under guard, but working diligently and cheerfully.

On the whole, the Fair Grounds are a great success, and too much credit cannot be awarded the gentlemen having the work in charge. With fine weather we are satisfied that the Fair as a whole will prove to be the greatest success of the South in that regard.

By the way we are indebted to our friend George Wynn, of the livery firm of Wynn & Yancey, of this city, for a ride to the grounds and back behind a pair of the finest match horses we ever saw. They are of Kentucky birth, dark bay, with black legs and not a white spot on either of them. They are quite young, of fine size, an excellent match, move well and rapidly, and when fully trained will command over a thousand dollars. Messrs. Wynn & Yancey would not take $700 for them to-day. Their horses will be entered for exhibition and for the highest prize.

The Mother to her Child.

The following was on yesterday sent greeting from the North Carolina Agricultural Society to the Salisbury Fair:

RALEIGH, October 9th, 1873.

Hon. M. W. Ransom, Salisbury:

The North Carolina Agricultural Society sends greeting to the Salisbury Fair. The State Fair promises to be the largest that has ever been held here. Mr. Vanderbilt will reach here on Thursday next.—Exhibitors and visitors from the West will receive a hearty welcome.

R. T. FULGHUM, Secretary.

In paying, on September 6th, the last portion of the indemnity to Germany, France has completed the raising in three years of rather more than one thousand million dollars, on which she has to pay on the average six per cent., which will be a tribute to Germany of $60,000,000 a year.

MARRIED.

In this city, at 9 o'clock, on the 7th instant, Mr. William G. Wolf and Miss Sallie Watson. Rev. A. W. Mangum officiating.

Last evening, at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. T. H. Pritchard, Mr. John Horton and Miss Martha Annie, all of this city.

At 3:30 o'clock, at the New York Hotel, N. Y., on Thursday, October 2d, C. M. Parks, of Hillsboro', N. C., and Miss Henrietta S. Davidson, daughter of the late John Davidson, of New Orleans.

No house in Raleigh can or shall undersell me, it matters not whether the goods are purchased in Europe or the United States, and for these important reasons:

1st. I am alone, and have no two or three partners to divide my profits with.

2nd. I have leased my store house at a mere nominal cost.

3d. I believe in the great principle of LIVE AND LET LIVE—QUICK SALES and SMALL PROFITS.

4th. I have large experience, buy at the lowest insane figures, and with the best facilities.

EXPERIENCE, the best of teachers, has long since informed the people that is the place to buy their goods, and as heretofore I shall always

Creech's

REPRESENT GOODS AS THEY ARE.

Returning thanks for past favors, I hope to secure your patronage in the future.

Respectfully yours,
ALEX. CREECH,
