No, sir; if the fair name of this nation is to be vindicated, let the work be begun at home by undoing the many wrongs inflicted upon the people of the South. A writer in the Augusta (fa) Constitutionalist, referring to the unmorfes of the U. S. flag, says:

My most vivid recollections of that flag the late past are associated with the smoking ruins of Southern homesteads and gross outrages upon defenceless Southern women and children. Its folds are still dripping with the blood of noble men-our own brothers—who dared to raise their arms in defense of their liberties and firesides. That flag and that government, for which Southern men sre, just now, discovering such a warm attachment, are to-day the symbol and repre-sentative of black domination and blacker attrocities in several of our sister States. Lonisians, South Carolina and Arkansas can each tell tales of blood and horror committeed upon their innocent citizens, with the connivance of the Federal Goveroment, which furnish fitting parallels to the cruelties inflicted by the Spanish volunteers upon the Virginius' adventurers. An "Old Rebel," in the Bichmond Dispatch, reminds the Southern people that there have been other " butcheries" before the late butchery at Santiago. He tells of the butchery of Missouri Confederates, by McNeil at the Fair-gounds in Palmyra, driven to the spot seated on their coffins, and shot with some features of nameless pollution; of the the indiscrimi nate massacre of Piegan Indians by Lieut. MR. C. P. KNIGHT—SIR: The paint came entity to hand as ordered, two keeps, five gaining each, and three buckets one gailou each. As practice is alack, I did the job muscil. Two weeks not constant work completed the house two coats, the last cost applied thick, and it is now generally conceved that for "Enamel" like hardness and tody and harmony of colors there is not a handsomer job in the place. I saved skry five dollars by the operallon, which is an item just now with "Southern People." It should be generally adopted in this Pizzic, any country lad can apply it. I have never dabbled in such stock as Testimonials but I fed so forcibly the great adaptability of your Enamel Paint to the wants of 6th people in excellency of material, in beauty of color, and the fact of its being ready-alrea, that i give you full permission, if it is desirable, to make what use you think proper of this latter.
