THE GREAT PHILADELPHIA CENTENNIAL Will be held in spite of the croaking of Hon. Mr. Bigelow, of New York, who by virtue of his having found in Paris a manuscript copy of Franklin's autobiography, thinks he must take charge of the American Revolution and its memorials. And it must prove a stupendous success! for Labor will unite with capital "to a man" to bring about the grand result, and with local and National interests so closely interwoven, it would be the supremest folly to predict otherwise. So good by Mr. Bigelow—au revoir; Biggy—au bon! whilst we hurry up the Rulings for the World's exposition, and "not cut our hobby"—the renowned "Barley Sheaf" Cooking Stove introduced—a Philadelphia manufacture, that will assuredly astonish and delight the assembled millions on that National occasion! Write to Messrs. Stuart, Peterkins & Co., the manufacturers, for their "Centennial ideas."

A CURE OF LIVER DISEASE.

BOSE, TEXAS, May 10, 1873.

DR. R. V. PIERCE,

DEAR SIR:—My wife last year at this time was confined to her bed with Chronic Liver Disease. I had two of the best doctors to put her, and he gave her up to die, when I came upon some of your medicine. I bought one bottle and commenced giving it. She then weighed 95 lbs.; now she weighs 140 lbs. and is in good and hearty. She has taken eight bottles in all, so can I am an advocate for your medicines. WM. MEARS.

The daughter of Senator Carl Schurz is to be married to Mr. Bates, of Bayside. The wedding will take place in Washington.

HOME AFFAIRS.

I O O F

The members of Manteo Lodge, No. 8, are hereby notified to meet at their Lodge room at 7 o'clock promptly this evening. By order of the Lodge.

T. W. BLAKE, Sec.

Ladies Fair

The ladies of Edenton Street Methodist Church, will hold a Fair at Tucker Hall on next Monday and Tuesday night, for the benefit of the church. The public generally are cordially invited to attend.

Metropolitan Hall.

Rev. Dr. Jno. E. Edwards delivered a beautiful and eloquent lecture last night to a small but select audience on "The World was not Made in a Day." We did not hear it, but give the impression of others.

Strawberries in December.

Mr. Theo. H. Snow, showed us yesterday a luscious ripe strawberry over one inch in diameter, grown by him. He left seventeen on the vines. If this weather continues he will be having strawberries and milk at Chrismas.

Odd-Fellows' Celebration.

Let our citizens bear in mind that Manteo Lodge, I. O. O. F., will celebrate their Anniversary to-night at Tucker Hall. Major Seaton Gales delivers the address. His high reputation for elegant rhetoric and impassioned declamation furnish an ample guarantee that a rich treat is in store for all who may attend.

Rev J A Trimmer

This gentleman, who for several months has been the very efficient pastor of the Person street Methodist Episcopal Church, leaves to-day for his home in New Jersey. Mr. Trimmer, by his gentlemanly deportment and christian zeal has made many friends in this community. He found his church weak in members, and he has built up a large congregation of earnest worshippers. He goes North to complete his studies. We wish him the utmost success and will be glad to see him again in our midst.

Hartley's Dramatic Readings.

Mr. J. W. Hartley, whose readings in Raleigh were so admirable, and who afforded so much gratification to those whose tastes led them to attend, gives one of his really delightful entertainments to-night at Warrenton. We advise our friends in that place to be sure to attend, for his rendering of Artemus Ward's lecture is alone worth the price of admission. Since he left Raleigh he has given two readings at Wake Forest College, and one each at Oxford and Henderson.

The Mecklenburg Declaration

Jas. C. Welling, President of Columbian College, Washington city, and formerly one of the editors of National Intelligencer, will soon deliver a lecture before the N. Y. Historical Society, on the subject of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. He is a gentleman of superior abilities and great accomplishments, and has been investigating the subject, he will discuss with great thoroughness and care. He will also publish the result of his investigations in the North American Review published in Boston. We are not advised as to what conclusion he has arrived.

That Suggestion.

Now that the committee to whom it was referred have reported adversely to Senator Flemming's bill appropriating $5,000 to the support of the Orphan Children of North Carolina, we renew in all earnestness our suggestion of yesterday, that each member of the General Assembly give the Orphans the benefit of one day's salary. Surely they have enough of "charitable charity" and love for the helpless orphanage of the State to make such a trifling sacrifice as that.

Whilst it suits the interests of $850 for each day's session of the legislature, it seems to us they could have wisely and prudently appropriated a few thousands for the support of an Orphan Home. The Constitution recognizes such an institution, and of course any provision for it would have been lawful. We hope, after the members have returned to their comfortable homes, eaten their Christmas turkeys and enjoyed the pleasures of the family circle—especially of their dear little children who have kind papas and mamas to take care of them and provide for the visits of venerable Santa Claus, that they will remember that there are hundreds of fatherless and motherless little children all over North Carolina who will have no one to fill up their little stockings with good things and present surprises, and who rely on Heaven to provide for their mental and moral improvement. And, we may add, that we hope they will return in January with expanded views and widened sympathies and tender hearts, and stand prepared to make the $5,000 appropriation.

In the meantime, as we have suggested, let the members give one day's pay to the Orphan Home at Oxford. It will do him good. We are not apt to feel special interest in those for whom we have made no sacrifice.

Appointment.

Bishop Lyman may be expected to visit the following churches and stations at the times indicated below. At all visitations, the collections made will be appropriated to Diocesan Missions:

January 17, Franklinton.
" 18, Louisburg.
" 20, Kittrells.
" 22, Oxford.
" 24, Williamsborough.
" 25, Henderson.
" 27, Ridgeway.
" 28, Warrenton.
" 30, Gaston.
February 1, Jackson.
" 2, Weldon.

Death of Hon. Weldon N. Edwards.

We are pained to learn that this venerable and distinguished son of North Carolina, died at his residence in Warren county, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18th, at 4 o'clock. He was, we suppose, some eighty-six years of age. His funeral will take place at his late residence on Saturday at 11 o'clock, A. M.

Mr. Edwards was indeed a noble specimen of a man, and was worthy to associate with the pure and elevated statesmen of the best days of our Republic. A fitting testimonial will be prepared by some one who is familiar with the events of his life.

A New County Project.

We copy the following from the Wilmington Journal:

"We learn that the names of some seven or eight hundred citizens in the limits of the proposed new county of Jefferson have been signed to the petition to the Legislature asking for it, and that the Committee on Propositions and Grievances in the Senate have reported favorably upon it. Our Board of County Commissioners, while declining from motives of delicacy to sign the petition officially, are in favor of the measure as citizens, says the Chairman, Mr. Martin. He also gives in writing his official opinion that the citizens of Wilmington generally are in favor of the formation of the new county. We have heretofore published the petition as signed and forwarded to the Legislature."

The Legislature.

The Monroe Enquirer does not think well of our legislators. It says it "would be imposing on our readers to give our space up to the publication of matter of no more interest than Legislative proceedings just at this time." It then goes on to say:

"We think if our public servants don't do better—State and National—it would be policy for us to give our Deborahs, Margarets, Pollys and Sal Anns a trial. A large number of bills prohibiting the sale of liquor in certain localities have passed the Legislature. We believe it to be the will of the people of the State that we shall have a general prohibitory liquor law, and we think the Legislature will not come up to the measure of its duty if it fails to pass it."

Our contemporary does our Legislature injustice. They have done good. Quite recently they have taken steps to checkmate the Billy Smith plans in regard to the consolidation scheme.

The Late Rev. A M Poindexter, D D.

Having published in our last Rev. Dr. Jeter's estimate of the late Rev. John Kerr, we reproduce his account of Rev. Dr. Poindexter, with whom we were personally acquainted. He was indeed an extraordinarily able platform speaker—one of the most severely logical and forceful we have ever known. We feel quite certain that in debate he had but few equals in the whole country. He was half brother to Rev. William Hill Jordan, of Granville, a venerable and revered minister of nine seventy years, and a man of genuine eloquence and highly respectable attainments. Dr. Jeter says:

Poindexter was a logician. He was not deficient in talents for public speaking. Before a large audience, with favorable circumstances, his preaching was attractive, abounding in impressive and, in fact, occasionally quite sublime. His deference and ill-calculated votes militated against his popularity as a preacher, and his desultory habits, caused by his labors as an agent, prevented his attaining to the excellence in sermonizing that was within his reach; but nevertheless, he was among the most gifted preachers of his day in Virginia.

It was not, however, as a preacher, but as a platform speaker, that he most excelled. As an advocate for education or missions, or in the discussion of some mooted question of principle or of expediency, he was rarely excelled, and, perhaps, never excelled. He had eminently the power of thinking on his feet. He would sometimes speak for an hour on subjects suddenly brought under consideration, with a closeness of method, a lucidity of style, and a force of argument, which could hardly have been improved by the most careful study. As a metaphysician, he would, under favoring conditions, have ranked with the most renowned professors of mental philosophy. As a lawyer, he would, had he adopted the legal profession, have been among the most astute and popular advocates. Take him altogether, for we have no remarkable abilities; and was as much distinguished for his earnest piety, his untiring labors, and his great usefulness, as for his shining gifts.

RAMSUR FAIR.—We are glad to learn that the Ramsur Fair was very successful. The exhibition was fine in all respects, and the live stock, especially, is spoken of as unsurpassed by that of any other exhibition throughout the State, Jumpers, nearly one hundred of some of the best fabrics in North Carolina, and their agricultural products always take high rank wherever displayed.—*Fay. We have not heard that the disease has got into the country.—Monroe Enquirer.

A LARGE EAGLE.—A very large eagle was killed near Indian Trail, in this county, on the 7th inst., by Mr. G. F. Crowell.
