NORTH CAROLINA.

Mr. Thomas Tate, living near Rocky Point, in New Hanover, had his house burned on last Wednesday; loss, $2,000. Says the Journal.

Warren, who figured so extensively in Wilmington, has turned up. He figured for a brief season in West Virginia, and then quietly removed the ranch. So we gather from the Wilmington Star.

The trial of Mrs. Carter, charged with being a participant criminal in the murder of her husband, was adjourned to the superior court on Friday last and rescheduled for January 15. The trial of Mr. W. H.

Monitor, Mr. J. B. Newkirk, of Sampson County, killed a few days since, six hogs, the aggregate gross weight of which was 2,394 pounds. The gross weight of the heaviest amounted to $430 pounds.

MARRIAGES FOR THE YEAR.—During the year 1873, there were married in Mecklenburg County, 364 couples, or 688 persons.
There were aggregated many persons married in this county before in any one year. And the work goes bravely on.
Bravo Hendricks! Charlotte Observer.

Mr. Benj. Dukes, of Webbville, undertook to examine a pistol a few days ago, with the intention, probably, of purchasing it. He now carries his right hand in a sling. Another warning to be more careful about firearms.—(Goldsbury) Messenger.

Cotton Caldwell has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension and delivery of Joseph Baily to the Sheriff of Wilson County. Baily is the murderer of Joseph Wood, whom he killed recently at Black Creek. He is supposed to be in the vicinity of Petersburg or Richmond.—(Goldsbury) Messenger.

Weldon News: Mayor William A.
Givett and Jas. A. Rider, of the Sheriff's Department, assisted by Capt. McNamee, the Collector for this district, have recently made a raid through Bertie County, and the result is that two revenue officials were bound over in the sum of $3,000 and $4,000 respectively, to appear at the next term of the United States Court at Raleigh.

Neko River.—During Christmas, four infuriated negroes Henry Long, Bob Stith, George Barnes and Lorenzo Stevens, made a most unprovoked and disgraceful assault upon another negro named William Latham after he had innocently beaten and severely cut. The negro was brought before the Mayor but was of such an aggravated nature that it will be transferred to the Magistrate's court for final disposition.— Wilson Advance.

Durham Burns.—We regret very much to learn that the residence of Mr.
David Townsend, situated on the Har-risonville road, twelve miles from town, was entirely consumed by fire yesterday morning about three o'clock, "burning with his kitchen, kitchen furniture, &c.
It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary as tracks were discovered leading off from the house immediately after the fire was discovered. A portion of the house furniture only was saved. The loss will exceed $5,000. We have not learned whether the property was insured or not.—(Tribune).

CONSUMPTION.—The scourge of the human family, may in its early stages be promptly arrested and permanently cured.

Roxburyton, W. Va. Oct. 28th, 1873.

Dr. E. V. Price:

"For the last year I have been aiding your Golden Medical Discovery. I owe my life to it, having been afflicted for years. Did not use it a short time before I was bedridden; at that time I was very bad, not able to sit up much, was suffering greatly with my throat, was getting blind, had a dry cough, and much pain in my lungs. I have used twelve bottles of the Discovery, and am almost well again."

KATE F. WARDNER
A son of Mr. J. H. Meeck, of Chatham Four Corners, N. H., has been cured of Consumption, by Dr. Price's Golden Medical Discovery,—says Mr. C. B. Canfield editor of the Chatham Courier.

S. R. ELLAR, druggist, of West Union, O. writes to state that Dr. Price's Golden Medical Discovery has effected a wonderful cure of Consumption in his neighborhood.

THE BEGINNINGS OF DISEASE.—It is as true that "great oaks from little acorns grow," that frightful diseases are often engendered by seemingly trifling ailments. Canary fits of indigestion, ear-soreness, chronic diarrhoea, occasional bilious attacks, unintermittent fevers, &c. of the liver, intermittent tumors in the lungs and arms degenerate into the epithet, in agony of acute rheumatism. Not that such disastrous consequences are inevitable. Far from it. They are attributed to neglect. A few doses of Rootless' Stonebittlers will cure the disease in its earliest or an ordinary bilious affection, or arrest the peculiar symptoms of rheumatism. It is true that when diarrhoea, or nervous debility, or sick headache has become permanent, ill, and has even baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all the ordinary remedies, it may still be remedied by this drug; but this drug, as well as all others, must be used sparingly, as the serpent.

A dry wited soldier of the Tenth Vermont, during the war, was heard to pray once, when the bullets were falling in shower, as follows: "Oh, Lord, make me as thin as this a knife."

An Irishman has defined nothing to be so rootless stocking "without legs." A description by another Roverer is better.
"What is nothing?" he was asked, "ight your eyes and you will see it," said Pat.

A lady made a complaint to Frederick the Great King of Prussia. "Your Majesty," said she, "my husband treat me badly." "That's none of my business," said the author of the "Huguenot Family," Quits and Ends from Dr. Chambon's
Scrap Book, Madame de Staél and Her
Times, by the author of "Mirabeau," Co-rious Wills, etc.

The number referred to above is extremely enjoyable. There is an admiring biopic from the British Quarterly on the Sources of Pleasure in Landscape. The Parisians, by Lord Lytton; Some entertaining letters of Charles Lamb, with Reminiscences of Himself Awakened, Thespis, by Mary Cowden Clarke; Saki's Boy, by
the author of the "Huguenot Family," Quits and Ends from Dr. Chambon's
Scrap Book, Madame de Staél and Her
Times, by the author of "Mirabeau," Co-
rious Wills, etc.

A distinguished Frenchman, the friends of the author almost as much pain as the author himself, should receive immediate attention. Dr. Wister's Relation of Wild Cherry specially cuts coughs, colds, industries, sore throats, etc. It will always relieve Consumption, and in many well-attested cases it has effected a perfect cure.

What's the matter there, Alice? Don't your shoes fit? No, papa, the don't fit me at all, replied the little one: "why they don't even squeak when I go out to walk."

HOME AFFAIRS

Hurricanes. We hear that the property paid on Thursday at the Fair Grounds brought high prices.

We are sorry to learn that Capt. A. J.
Lawrence, probably our oldest citizen, is lying quite ill at his residence.

Cotton (best quality) brought $1.4 cents yesterday in our market.

Rev. A. W. Mangum and family returned to residence after a few weeks abroad as usual on next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. B. B. Clegg, formerly living in the Western Ward, is extremely ill, as we write, and his case is considered hopeless. His, this was in type, we regret to learn that he is dead.

We learn with much regret that Gen. S.
Patterson, of Caldwell county, is lying dangerously ill. Gen. Patterson will pass no better man. We hope soon to hear of his restoration to health.

The Greensboro' Patriot began its 30th year on the 1st Jan. 1874. The editor, Maj. Duffy, gives his readers a good paper, and we trust under his management it will continue to grow in popular favor.

The Wilmington papers speak compilementary of the recent musical concert given in that city by our townsfolk, Dr.
H. C. Prentiss, V. C. & Co.

BIDES FOR THE BOYS.—Some military instructions in order to harden and make men soldiers, the cadets require them to sleep on the floor. A mother was threatened for fear her boy would have no bed at the Horner & Graves' School, at Hillsboro'. It would not hurt the boy to sleep on the floor, but he will find at the Hillsboro' Academy nice new beds of the latest style.

The SENTINEL is the third paper that we are seeing in publication. Congressman Weddell's silly letter in reply to the action of the North Carolina Legislature in denouncing the "Salary Grab." Why did the SENTINEL not publish Mr. Mc-Gee's speech and resolutions.—Platinum Press.

Simply because we did not have a copy.
The Associate informed Mr. McGhee that it would affect his position to publish what we observe in other papers.

The VIRGINIA SENATOR.—The Petersburg Appeal states that an "informal dust ballot" was held by the Conservative party on the night of the 7th inst., for United States Senator. It says:

No nominations were made but the voted, and every member voted according to his fancy. The result of the only ballot taken was as follows:

Withers, 22; Hunter, 16; Goodloe 13; Stark, 10; Doud, 9; Lawrence, 6; Clegg, 8; Bocock, 2; Graham, 6; Augustus, 7; Boggs, 1; Lowndes, 3; G. G. Walker, 3; Montague, 2; Barbour, 4; Flanders, 1; Lester, 1; W. J. Robertson, 2; W. P. Cecil, 4; Judge Christian, 2.

REURNED.—We welcome back to North Carolina, Mr. W. T. Martin, who left here about four years ago to Arkansas, where he has been living since that time. Mr. Martin, like nearly all those who leave North Carolina in the hope of bettering their condition, has no doubt found that he made a great mistake in leaving the State. There are thousands of North Carolinians scattered over the western country, who would gladly embrace an opportunity to return to their old homes here if it were offered. But many of them have expended all their wordly goods and means in search of a better country to live in. They have not found it, and they are unable to return.

What a pity that people will not be well enough alone. Stay at home—you can not better your condition. North Carolina is the best place for North Carolinians they have ever been able to find.—Ed.

Julius, what part of the ceremony do the ladies most admire when they go to church?" Well, Pompey, I can tell you what it is." "Why, oh course its feet."

"Good morning, Mr. Pecksniff," said a printed in search of female compositions.
"Have you any daughters that would make good type-setters?" "No; but I have a wife who would make a very good devil."
