THE SENTINEL.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 15, 1874.

JOSIAH TURNER, Editor.
T. B. KINGSBURY, Associate Editor.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The SENTINEL has been more liberally patronized than any paper ever published in the State. There is money enough now due on our books to make us rich if it could be collected. There are many who have never paid us a dollar since they subscribed to the paper five years ago, although they are men of means. Many of the subscribers have been dropped, but this course on our part to which we were driven, neither induced them to renew nor to pay their indebtedness. A [illegible] agents with ring money, who [illegible] agents and drummers, to canvass the State for their ring organs. The emissaries and agents for those organs have even endeavored to rob us of our legitimate advertising, and more than one person have been stopped on their way to our office to advertise stray mules, by the friends of the ring papers.

We give notice to all subscribers in arrears that we shall be compelled to cut them off. We can not afford longer to continue papers that are not paid for. We need the assistance of every subscriber to aid us in our fight against rings and corruptionists. Every subscriber should pay up promptly, and those whose papers are discontinued should renew at once. We have striven to do our duty by the people, let them do their duty by us. It is not that we are avaricious that we adopt the course indicated, but it is because we need and must have money to carry on the good fight against the enemies of the people.

EDITORIAL ENTREES.

R. D. Ruffin is the only negro sheriff of Virginia. The carpet-baggers are trying to oust him.

The women out West are memorializing Congress against the repeal of the rights of woman suffrage in the Territories.

During the last three years past there have been 7,000 desertions from the U. S. army.

There is no doubt that the press did the job for Attorney General Williams. His chances were quickly smashed into a cocked-hat, and that too most justly.

The Cubans in Havana have hung Sickles in effigy. It is believed that slavery is doomed [illegible]

Claims amounting to over $100,000,000 against the United States by Mexico have been presented before the Mexican Frontier Commissioners.

Forty colored men in the District of Columbia have petitioned Congress against the omission from the civil rights bill of the clause opening the schools to both races. It is altogether a matter of sentiment, or rather, impudence.

Messrs. Cox, Wood, Dawes and Kelly delivered some eloquent remarks in the U. S. House of Representatives, on the death of Hon. James Brooks, one of the editors of the New York Express, and a member from that city.

It is stated by experienced naval officers that in order to favor certain Pennsylvania iron manufacturers the Navy Department is constructing three new steam sloops-of-war of iron. They say an iron hull is more liable to sink as well as less serviceable.

It is believed that the franking privilege will be restored. The plea is to get rid of the public documents. It is, however, understood that it is nothing more than a thinly disguised plan to restore the franking privilege.

We are glad to note that in Congress there is a decided opposition to increasing the taxes, and a disposition to reduce as far as possible the expenses of the Government. It is thought they will be reduced some $10,000,000.

Grant is unfortunate. The country (Senate included) would not have Williams as Chief Justice, and now the Radicals are fighting hot because Grant has appointed Cushing to the same place. His antecedents do not please them. Well, it is not our fight.

Richard A. Proctor, the celebrated English astronomer and lecturer, is giving a very successful series of lectures in New York. The Tribune furnishes a full report, with illustrations, of his first lecture on the sun. Too much praise cannot be due this enterprising paper for giving to the country so many valuable lectures, speeches, and discussions generally.

The dictator of Spain, Marshal Serrano, professes fidelity to the Republic. He, therefore, has determined not to convoke the Cortes for a year to come. He seems to regard it as a rather dangerous body, and to prevent any detriment to the country has given them a long holiday. Republicanism both in France and Spain is now in the tender keeping of two Marshals, and stands a good chance of being hugged to death by a sort of military queers, sooner or later.

The extravagance of the various departments of the government is exciting a good deal of wholesome comment. The law requires that each department shall make a report of its contingent expenses, but heretofore this law has been evaded. An inquiry by Congress is to be made into the subject. As every department has from $5,000 to $50,000 appropriated under the head of contingencies, it is very necessary that those handling the funds should be made to give an account of their stewardship.

Col. Mosby persuaded Gov. Kemper, of Virginia, that he should pay Grant a special visit to Washington, as the President wished to have a chat with him. This was regarded as "too bad," and for fear he would do something that a true Southern Governor should not do, "prominent" Democrats in Washington telegraphed him not to come, and appointed a "committee to wait upon the Governor to ask [illegible] Gov. Kemper would have said anything that would have been injurious to his own character or damaging to the South. His message was wise, and he would have acted prudently no doubt in his interview, if he had gone. Possibly it is better that he should not go under the circumstances, as the very act of going might be misunderstood, and give the party scavengers some opportunity of plying their calling.

The appointment of Mr. Cushing to the Chief Justice place will give much more satisfaction to the country than that of Attorney General Williams. His age, 76, may be objectionable, but otherwise he may prove a good selection. His place as Minister to Spain will become vacant, and it is thought that no one will be appointed at present. The Washington Republican, Grant's semi-official organ, says:

"That unless we are represented at Madrid early we may drift into a war with the new Spanish authorities. But the situation would seems to be thus: If Serrano finds it necessary and convenient, in order to consolidate his power, to rouse the Spanish pride and to unite all parties, to have a war with the United States, no diplomacy, however able, can avert such a calamity, which he may deem necessary for his safety. If his situation does not require so great and fearful a step on his part—which, we trust, he may not deem it to do—then no diplomany will be needed to prevent a conflict between this republic and his government. In either event, as matters seem to stand at present, diplomacy would be useless for this topic.

DRUNK OR MAD—WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

We thought two distinguished Senators a little extravagant two years ago, when they talked on the floor of the Senate about the bad temper and malignity of Gov. Caldwell. Our experience is, that a mad or angry man, and a drunken man, we find our temper has the better of us, we are always silent, lest, like a drunken man, we talk on a line we cannot work up to. There is no difference between a man mad and a man drunk. Caldwell mad and Caldwell drunk is all the same to the people. Mad without a cause is the worst sort of mad.

Gov. Caldwell first got mad with us because we published a rumor that he had appointed his brother in-law a director on a railroad. He called us a liar, and said we were not to be believed on oath. His card was worse than Col. Humphrey's speech in the Senate. Yes, it was worse than Jordan Stone's and McAden's card.

His anger towards us is now intensified by the reflection that he made a fool of himself in public.

When the Legislature gave the public printing to the SENTINEL office, Caldwell had just appointed Mr. Moore to a Judgeship. He then applied to him for an injunction forbidding the SENTINEL office to do the printing. Judge Moore, as Friday Jones would say, "went back on him," and decided with the SENTINEL. Caldwell was content.

The Raleigh News next had the printing. Not a demonstration did the Governor make against it.

Recently the printing was given again to the SENTINEL, and again the Governor gets, not drunk, but mad. He had just appointed Judge Settle to the Supreme Court bench, and he applied to his own Judge, through one Mr. Brown, for a mandamus and injunction to forbid the SENTINEL doing the printing. Judge Settle "went back on him," and decided in favor of the SENTINEL. Tod got, not drunk, but mad again. The lawyers "fussed" about their fees and did not get what they charged. Then Todd got, not drunk, but mad again. He went down to Judge Watts, or Brown did for him, and Judge Watts, by injunction, forbid the SENTINEL office to do the printing. He forbid Auditor Reilly to audit the accounts for printing, and thus cut us off from pay for the work.

What Judge Watts will do on the final hearing on Tuesday the 20th inst., we do not know, nor do we care. We know the law is with us, and it will ultimately overcome, as twice it has done, the malignity of the Executive Owl.

Drunk or mad—what is the difference?

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—Let me say that the small stockholders in the North Carolina Railroad are looking to the SENTINEL to defend and protect their rights and property in this corporation. Many of the original stockholders, such as Col. Cad Jones, John Morehead, George W. Mordecai and Gov. Swain have departed, many others have been forced to sell their stock and the controlling influence in the road is managed by Major Smith, who is managed by President Buford, and he by the great Pennsylvania Central Railroad. The struggle now is for certain large stockholders of the Pennsylvania Central to get the three-fourths of the road which belong to the State, and this will be done as soon as they can get a second mortgage upon it. The little stockholders will be eat up as they were in the Raleigh & Gaston and in the Richmond & Danville Roads. Col. Humphrey undertook to stamp the bill through, and to stamp all who dared to question the policy of the bill or the integrity of his friend and co-partner, Maj. Smith.

The majority of our stockholders have forfeited the public confidence by entering into a conspiracy as they did to prevent an annual meeting of the company, and thus keep in a board of directors in the interest of the ring. I hope you will not be afraid to handle Col. Humphrey and the board of directors of whose integrity he is so boastful. If the board is so pure as he says, why do they take a man like Major Smith for President? Why, I might ask, if they are so honest will they sit with him in council? No man should boast of his purity of character and then put forward a bribe taker to represent him. Col. Humphrey and his board of directors on the North Carolina Railroad will learn that Gen. Littlefield and Major [illegible] honest Democrats, and those Democrats who attempt to put forth bribe takers will find they sink to a level with the bad men they attempt to elevate.

Yours,
J. S. T.
