UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The adjustment of the State debt was taken up.

Mr. Morehead's, [of ,Guilford,] amendment was adopted. It is as follows: Add to section 5th, And provided further, That it shall be the duty of the credftor to accertain on the let day of April, 1875, and annually thereafter, the amount of bonds so exchanged, and he shall order the collection of a sufficient amount of taxes as above provided to pay the interest on the amount of bonds so exchanged until all of the relivoids shall have ex changed according to the provisions of the act.

He then offered the following amendment to section 5th by Striking out '8 1-3 cents on the poll, line 4, and insert instead 75 cents on the poll. Adopted.

The question then recurred on the amendments of Mr. Norwood, which are a substitute in fact for Sepator Worth's bill. It reads as follows :

Strike out all after the words "the General Assembly do," and insert the follow

Resolved, 1. That in consequence of the calamittous results of the war, and of the subsequent legislation of both the General and State Governments, the people of North Carolina have been deprived of all bility to pay, at the present time any part of their public debt.

2. That a new government has been imposed upon the people, far more burdense me in is administration than the old one, which is true of all its departments and divisions of counties, townships and towns. That in addition to this heavy burden, as much as our people in their impoverished condition can be reasonably expected to bear, and in addition to an absolutely necessary system of Common School instruction, towards which only a feeble beginning has been made, our con-stitution requires in terms which may not be unheeded, if in our power to obey them, and common humanity unites her voice in still louder tones, that the neglected idiots computed in numbers of 1,000; the still neglected insane [after providing for some of them | computed in numbers at 500; that the large number of the deaf and dumb and bind who are still unfriended and forsaken, and the whole multitude of destitute orphans, shall all be gathered within the folds of an enlarged State charity, and be properly cared obligation, a more imperious necessity upon the people of the State at the preobligation to pay the just and honest por-tion of their public debt. Especially, when it is remembered that the debt was contracted under circumstances now so changed, and depending for its payment upon means now so completely swept away and by causes which we as a State had no power to prevent or control.

4. That upon a review of the whole subject, we submit it to the enlightened consideration of Congress, if the General Government would not set wisely by assuming the payment of so much of the debt of the State of North Carolina, as injustice and equity ought to be paid. Or at least should lend to the State such financial aid and credit as will enable us to provide for the total extinction of the debt without oppressing the people, The debate on this question was partic-pated in by Mesers, Dunbaus, Worth, Aver , Flemming and Ransom. On motion of Mr. Morehead, of Guilforce, the further consideration of the question was postponed until 13 o'clock Moneiny.

A POINT .- The Biblical Recorder of this own has been discussing the question of having a University. It states that there are about 260 students from North Caroline attending the various colleges in Virginia, and that the Superintendent of ginia, and that the Superintendent of or sick headache has become a permisent evil. Public Instruction of that State, estimates and has even baffled the skill of eminent phythat each student spends $500, making sicinus and resisted all the ordinary remedies the bandsome sum of $130,000 that North | It may still be emdicated by the Bitters; but Carolina contributes to the sustentation of educational enterprises in her sister States. The argument is a suggestive, but the figures are quite too high, we think, even including female schools. We do not believe there are 100 boys at the R University and Colleges of Virginia from North Carolina, It there are, it is a reflection on the State, and means should be adopted to prevent the recurrence of such a fact. We think the boys do well to seek educational advantages abroad, if the State capnot and will not provide institutions of a high grade. We' need a University, but the question is, how to

mand, and they had better be satisfied with what they had and not be asking pet it. LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY - Senate - Nearwould never endorse mixed schools or y the entire morning session was con sumed by a debate upon the resolutions was frequently applauded during the of Senator Norwood in regard to the adcourse of his speech by the Democratic ustment of the public debt. Mr. Dunham pened the discussion in an animated against the resolutions; they were th surprised at the course of their white speech. He was unwilling to see North Carolina kneeling at the feet of the Government as a beggar. He was followed by Dr. Worth, who made a practical speech such as characterizes his dislutions; he thought the object was to cussions. He spoke in opposition to Mr. Norwood's resolutions, as did Major Dunbam. Mr. Avera, Mr. Flemming and Mr. Ransom also spoke. The latter would support the bill of Dr. Worth if he would include the special tax bonds in his plan. The subject will come up again on Monday. la the House Mr. Settle introduced and had passed a bill changing the time | Merino Undershirts & Drawers, Chatham, transfers the time from one to the other of those counties. Mr. Houston's resolutions protesting against the passage by Congress of the civil rights of such a law would be the suppression of bill created considerable discussion in our public schools for both white and which the members of the Republican side of the House engaged. Memra-Birthe and Trivett advocated the passage of the resolution, Ellison, Abbott and Williamson, col., opposed. There was some sharp shooting among the Repub-licans, white and colored. Williamson offered a substitute instructing our Sena-tors and Representatives to vote for a bill that will secure equal civil and po-litical rights, and against all bills tending to an enforcement of social equality. The substitute was voted down. The substitute offered by Mr. Jones of Caldwell, which we publish in our Legislative proceedings, was adopted. PROMISED CORRESPONDENCE. - We give below the promised correspondence between "X" and the Secretary of the Agricultural Society. X makes a statement which is far from being correct, for instance an error of eighteen thousand dollars, as to receipts from all sources, another of twenty thou-sand dollars as to cost of grounds, improvements thereon, holding the late Fair, &c. As to the debt of the Society, X is again far in excess of the actual amount. For a true and satisfactory statement of the affairs of the Society, both as to finances and general management, during the past year X and others are respectfully and carnestly invited to call at the society's office and I will take pleasure in showing report of the auditing committee, carefully prepared, after ten days hard work, by Wm. Midnight Dispatches

FROM WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.
The Attorney General this afternoon sent the following telegram to Governor Davis, of Texas, in response to his second call for military assistance :

Your telegram stating that, according to the Constitution of Texas, you were Governor until the 28th of April, and that Hon, Richard Coke has been inaugurated and will attempt to seize the Governor's office and buildings, and calling upon the President for military assistance, habeen refered by him to me for answer. Hy is of the opinion that your right to hold the office is at least so doubtful that he does not feel warranted in furnishing United States troops to aid you in holding further possession of it, and he therefore declines to comply with your request.
