

THE SENTINEL

SUNDAY MORNING, JAN. 25, 1874. JOSIAH TURNER, Editor.

Dr. William H. Panoos, the celebrated surgeon of Philadelphia, is anxious to make an examination of the bond of union between the Siamese twins.

The Tieborne claimant stands but little chance of proving himself the veritable Sir Roger. It is thought his claims of being convicted for perjury is excellent.

A good joke recently occurred in the... sent his monthly whippersnapper bill to the speaker's desk to be read, innocently supposing it was a petition he had secured the drawing of by another hand.

The Philadelphia Age of 23d inst., makes the singular announcement that although past the middle of January no ice has been gathered and hoisted in that vicinity, it says the same remark will apply to the Hudson and other localities south of Northern Massachusetts and Maine.

The editor of the Petersburg Appeal gives a capital account of a trip to Richmond to see the greatest actress of the world—JANARONAS. We like his criticism, for it is just and true. He is right, for she is indeed "the first of tragediennes on the modern stage."

We have called for four years upon the legislature to "impeach Judge" Watts for public drunkenness and bribe taking. We have handed a memorial to a member of the legislature asking for it, and demanding it in the name of the people of the State.

In 1869, we called on the legislature through the secretary to expel Gen. Laffin, the carpet-bag member from Pitt, who was drunk and absent most of his time. We referred them to recorded evidence and witnesses who would prove that Gen. Littlefield bribed Laffin with a bond of $3,000 made payable to James Smith.

These things were publicly and privately spoken by the members. In fact we drew a resolution expelling Laffin and appealed to members to offer it, but one and another and another gave excuses.

We have dealt gently, and thrown tufts of grass at a corrupt judiciary long enough. We now invoke the strong arm of the people's representatives to "try what justice there is in stone."

We copy the following from the New York Herald: YORKMERS ABOUT SPEECH IN THE SENATE—DELEGATION FROM NEW YORK APPEARING.

In the Senate nothing of general importance transpired during the morning hour. The regular order in the consideration of a speech by Mr. Merrimon of North Carolina, had the floor and spots for over two hours.

Mr. Assistant Secretary Sawyer and family are absent in Europe, and will not return to participate in the duties of the present session.

before, nodded his head acquiescingly to what Merrimon said, as if he were keeping time to a tune of music, and frequently prompted Merrimon by suggestions, while Sherman, both to yield any advantage, criticised and corrected Merrimon somewhat, covering the points of Merrimon. Merrimon might be said to have been to a certain extent and up to a certain time a friend of both parties, for his two propositions were as to specie payments, a resumption to be so declared by law to take place on July 4, 1876, the centennial anniversary of our independence; and the issue meantime of currency to the extent of $100,000,000.

This crazy minister inflicted five sermons upon us this week from the street. His stand was so near our office we were obliged to listen, whether we would or not. Not content with this, he gave us a call Friday night, to tell us that he was God's Medium, that he had more spiritual knowledge concerning the New Testament, than any man living. That he knew it by Christ's spirit that dwelled in him.

Under the devil's influence he suffered more, spiritually, than any other man living. That the world would come to an end on the 7th day of May 1878. The burning of the world would begin in the coal and oil regions of Pennsylvania. He put himself into convulsions, he called it a trance, he quivered, and shook all over, and then went into convulsions like mad dog when you throw water before him.

This bill has waked up the white men of the South in every State except North Carolina. Our people are always behind in panic sensation and war making. They think well before they act. The Wilson Address has the following editorial on the Civil Rights Bill.

"LET THE LINES BE DRAWN.—On Saturday last a resolution was introduced in the Legislature condemning the Civil Rights bill as pending before Congress. It was a perfect bombshell in the Radical camp, and after considerable lodging and squirming, the white radicals were brought to a direct vote, when most of them deserted their negro allies and refused to endorse the odious doctrine of social equality."

"The negro now contends, through his representatives, for social equality—equality in hotels, churches and schools. The white Republicans from the West cannot endorse this bill. The result must necessarily lead to a split in the Radical party. It may be smothered and deferred for a while, but if the real issue, and must come, regardless of the efforts of those politicians, who, for selfish ends, will try to prevent it."

When the issue does come up squarely before the people, we do not doubt the result. It is unjust to postpone it any longer. The question should be, whether the white man, with equal political rights to the negro, shall rule, or whether the negro shall rule with social equality, ruin and confusion.

We will hail the day when the issue shall be fairly made, and doubt not a large majority of the voters of North Carolina will decide in favor of the white man, controlling the affairs of the government.

THE GREAT AMERICAN CONSUMPTION. Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, cures the worst case of Cough, Cold and all the diseases of the Lungs, Throat and Chest. For whooping cough and croup it is a certain specific. The most obstinate cases surely yield to Hall's Balsam, when used perseveringly.
