The Dr. was introduced to his guest Lord Ward as a deaf mute from England in quest of land to plant a colony. He desired the Dr. to introduce him to the safest banker in the city, he wanted to make a deposit of ten or lifteen thousand pounds sterling. The Dr. went in search of son G. Williams, Eq., who was enjoying a play in the theatre at Tucker Hall. Mr. Wm. Askew, a bank director, accompanied Mr. Welliams, both leaving the theatre and the play unfinished. Mr. Askew went to the barber, for a deep, clean shave, and a dry shampoo. Mr. suit.
