Pending the argument in this cause, the Court adjourned.

Friday, Feb. 13, 1874.

The case of Brown vs. Turner, consumed the entire time of the court (three hours) and the argument will be resumed this (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock, a. m.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY—Senate—There was a good deal of local legislation transacted in a hurried manner. A bill to enlarge the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace passed. It requires a Superintendent to visit these charities in different sections of the State. A bill for the relief those counties that had not received their appropriations for the support of lunatics, also passed. When the bill was up to establish a special criminal court for the city of Wilmington, Mabson, col'd, said the bill was drawn by Mr. London of Wilmington, who at first favored the bill, but when he found out that his son would not get the Judgeship, he turned against it.

For the Sentinel.

RALEIGH, Feb. 14th, 1874.

Mr. Editor:—To-day when the resolution was before the House of Representatives to pay the printer for the work that had been ordered by the legislature, one Sharpe, from Hertford county, opposed the resolution to pay for the printing on the ground that he was opposed to appropriating any more money for the purpose of running the SENTINEL. Now, Mr. Editor, Mr. Sharpe knew at the time he uttered those words, that they were untrue, for there was an itemized account before the House at the time that had been examined by two practical printers, and had their certificate annexed as to the correctness of the bill. Mr. Editor, if Mr. Sharpe is opposed to paying for work that is ordered done, does he draw any money from the treasury for sitting in the House. He said that he had no doubt of the correctness of the bill, but was opposed to paying it.

When he was spoken to about the Judgeship of the 1st Judicial District, he said that they had seven hundred hands in his county that they could send to an adjoining county and carry the election there, as they had that number to spare in his county, or words to that effect.

Now, Mr. Editor, what more could be expected of a man who would use such language as the above? Of course he would not vote to pay an honest debt.

If he denies using the language above, or words to that effect, I will prove it.

Yours, &c.,

W. H. F., Printer.

Of all the inventions of the present day, probably none have created more astonishment than the London Watch.
The idea of making a Watch for the small sum of One Dollar, seems an impossibility, but it has at length been accomplished, and a perfect time indicator produced. Besides this it comprises a Compass and Sun Dial, without extra cost. It is just the thing for the pocket of every traveller, trader, farmer, boy, and everybody desiring a reliable time-keeper. It is elegantly got up in a case of gold metal which is an exact imitation of gold, usual watch size, glass crystal, steel and metallic works, and warranted to denote correct time and keep in order—if fairly used—for two years.
