The funeral of Willie Hines Harris, the youngest son of Link C. and M. A. Harris, was held on the 15th of April.

MARRIED. On the 15th of April, 1874, by Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, Mr. Marion Johnson, to Miss Rebecca Biggby, all of this city.

COURT NOTES. The Jury in the case of Allen McPherson and Williams (defendants) charged with burglary, returned a verdict of guilty of larceny.

John G. Bagwell obtained a divorce from his wife, Lettie A. Bagwell, on yesterday afternoon in Judge Watts' Court.

CITY REGISTRATION. Registration of voters is as follows to-day:

Table with 2 columns: Middle Ward, Eastern Ward, Western Ward, Total 36. Rows show counts for White and Colored.

PARDON. The Governor to-day pardoned, upon the recommendation of the Judge, Solicitor and a number of citizens of Johnston County, Catherine Wood, (col.) sentenced to ten years imprisonment for murder in the second degree, at the fall term of 1870, since which time she has been confined in the Penitentiary.

NOMINATION OF CITY COMMISSIONERS BY THE RADICALS. The radicals at their ward meeting last night, after much jarring and quarrelling, succeeded in nominating the following ticket:

Eastern Ward. Stewart Ellison, (col.), Chas. N. Hunter, (col.), Henry M. Miller, (col.), Middle Ward. James Baker, (col.), Kemp P. Battle, H. D. Clawson, Western Ward. Jas. O'Neal, Gen. John Gorman, Jas. H. Jones, (col.)

HAMMY RETURNED. The lost found AGAIN. Hammy has been lost for three weeks in the woods of Caswell, Person and Rockingham. In these three counties he organized seven Lodges of Good Templars and admitted one hundred and ninety members. Judge Kerr presided at the temperance meeting in Yadonville, on the 6th inst., and our friend, Henry T. Jordan, of Person, at the meeting in Roxboro, on the 8th inst. One Lodge was organized at Milton, most of the members ladies. They will take in the men. A friend of Hammy's says his next raid must be upon Log Town, near which place the Chief Justice lives. As Saint Patrick destroyed the snakes in Ireland, so Hammy is bent on the destruction of the Rum Mills.

ORANGE PRESBYTERY. The Railroad Companies within the bounds of Orange Presbytery, have kindly consented to pass members and visitors to its next regular meeting in Greensboro on the 23rd inst., for half "first class" fare. They will be required to purchase "first-class" tickets coming; but will be returned without other charge, upon the certificate of the Clerk of the Presbytery that they have been in attendance. Those from the Raleigh and Gaston, and the Fayetteville Roads must have these certificates stamped by the Company's ticket agent at Raleigh. CHAS. G. YATES, Chairman of Com. of arrangement of Greensboro Presbytery church.

UNLOADED IN THE EASTERN WARD. The Eastern Ward Republicans at their meeting in Metropolitan Hall last night unloaded some heavy weights. They earnestly flitted Joe Prairie, one of the Commissioners from that Ward and prof. City Treasurer, and they let Capt. White down with him ever so easy too. Ellison, (col.) who smelt a mice and "flitted the templars," was retained. All three of the nominees are members of the temperance order, though it is said it was not on these grounds that the unloading was caused, but for the purpose of clearing out the August stable, new men were elected. Joe Prairie retired from the meeting when Watson, the shoe maker got about half through calling out the votes, and it was evident that he didn't want to hear any more of that "doleful sound" Jim Harris, (col.) so eloquently told them of in his recent speech. Hearing evident signs of distress, he was like the little boy with the big "gunner" in his mouth, crying "I want to go home."

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE. Capt. P. A. Durham has declared himself an independent candidate for Congress. He calls himself a straight out Democrat. For twelve months or more, Capt. Durham has been regarded by the Radicals as a Republican. He was reported in this city as favoring the election of John Pool for the United States Senate. If Capt. Durham is a Democrat he should submit to Democratic customs and rules. He has been editing a Republican paper. We have never said a word about Capt. Durham's desertion of his party and adhesion to Radicalism, because we believed there were personal reasons for his political change. We believed too, that when the personal pressure was removed he would return and renew his allegiance to his old party and friends. He has now renounced his Republicanism by proclaiming himself a Democrat. The Republicans will look upon him as their candidate and Democrats cannot, or at least should not, vote for him. We once had great admiration for Capt. Durham.

return and renew his allegiance to his old party and friends. He has now renounced his Republicanism by proclaiming himself a Democrat. The Republicans will look upon him as their candidate and Democrats cannot, or at least should not, vote for him. We once had great admiration for Capt. Durham.

OFFERING TO HIM TO THE LAST DEGREE. The nominee of the party will surely beat Capt. Durham.

NOMINATION FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. At a meeting of the Conservative Central Executive Committee this morning at their room, Col. S. D. Pool, of Craven county, was unanimously chosen as the nominee for the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This selection is a wise one. He is a gentleman eminently fitted for the position in every respect, and can triumphantly be elected at the approaching election in August next.

RADICAL MEETING IN THE MIDDLE WARD LAST NIGHT. Some twenty-five of the faithful headed by Tim Lee, "Charlie" Farris, Judge Bunting and old man Tom Coates, assembled according to programme at the Court House last night, for the purpose of nominating City Commissioners of their party for the coming election in May. Farris called the meeting to order, and on his motion, Judge Mose Bunting, was elected Chairman.

Judge Mose returned his "heartfelt thanks," explained the object of the meeting briefly, and took his seat. Tim Lee moved Hicks, (col.) be the Secretary, but the latter declined, when old man Coates was the next best man, and was at once chosen. We were at a loss to know how came Tim in the meeting, as he resides outside of the corporate limits, but no one seemed to question his right, and he proceeded boldly to manoeuvre the whole thing in his usual way, and to his own advantage, by saying, "It is in order now to nominate your candidates," which was complied with. He had understood, Mr. Kemp Battle would accept the nomination. A half dozen nominations were made, when Tim and a negro boy took the hat, and marched around receiving the votes, and upon casting them, Messrs. Battle, Baker and Clawson were declared as the nominees. Hicks, (col.) the old Commissioner, was left out in the cold this time, and Baker substituted for him. Jim Baker is a colored man, (a maleito formerly a bar-keeper of "Laughing Dan Lewis" in war times) and looked upon as an honest straight forward man. He does a thriving business in his line (Bar-room) on Wilmington street.

Clawson was called upon, and in a mumbleing way endeavored to return his thanks, and defend the late board. He said the city finances were in an awful fix and a Philadelphia lawyer couldn't extricate things. City improvements had cost the city a good sum, and it would cost her a good deal more before they got through with it, was rather in favor of reform and sorter not after worrying everybody out, and seeing the Chief, Bugleman Tim, was getting more than he called for, the gallant fire chief subsided, looking ever so satisfied through his little eye-glasses, but with no applause. Hicks, (col.) the one Tim had ousted, got up now, and went for Clawson, and the manipulators. He denounced the Board of Commissioners, and asked Clawson how about a certain $100, that he told Nelson, out of paying, but Clawson didn't answer. Hicks said there was wrong in the city government, he'd tried to find it, but couldn't, they were too smart for him. Was glad he was not re-nominated, knew he would not be, it was all a concocted plan to defeat him, but he would tell 'em all nominations was one thing, elections was another. He said Baker, (Jim Baker) was the only good man in the crowd. Intimated that Tim was a good one in these nominating meetings. When he was nominated there was 28 votes for him and they only counted out 14. He was going to ring his bell and there would be shouting and a prayer meeting before they got their men in this time.

Jim Baker returned his thanks now briefly, but more creditably than Clawson. Mr. Battle was not present. Tim Lee now said that there was further business to be transacted. It was the election of "delegates" to the county convention, and they proceeded to make their nominations. Tim nominating Farris who he landed considerably, and wound up by saying that Farris's little imperfections should be overlooked he was such a good worker in the cause, and was much better and more deserving than Shaffer who many of them seemed to want. They voted, and Evans (col) Doyle (the jailor) and A. W. Shaffer were declared elected, which later chafed Tim considerably. James H. Harris (col) now appeared upon the scene, and told Tim he had sought to go ahead and do as he just had done. Natch meeting had been called, and that he would not recognize any such proceedings. It was killing to observe Tim's facial expression just here, and he was completely tripped for a few moments but rallying he said, "Mister Harris is nominating these county delegates is not legal it may stand off, he could see no reason why they should not nominate Nothing in the platform regulations against it. It was his opinion that it was legal and you have three good men for the delegates &c."

Shaffer wanted to do what was right but felt at liberty to go into convention and vote for him. A California woman offers to court each grain in a bushel of sand if they will make up a purse of $1,000 for her. In consideration of the importance of this enterprise in a scientific point of view, it is strange that the government itself doesn't accept the proposition, even if compelled thereby to abandon the next expedition to the North Pole. In his late lecture at Plymouth church in Brooklyn on distinguished writers, Mr. Fields said once received for publication in the Atlantic Monthly an essay by a young man just out of college, "On the faults of William Shakespeare and Walter Scott," and "I often wonder," said Mr. Fields, "what has become of that young man! Perhaps he is in the penitentiary." Abba G. Woolson closed a recent lecture in Boston on "Woman's Dress" by declaring that, had she autocratic power of the Shah or Czar, he would command every man in her kingdom to change his apparel with woman for one day only, that both might see how good it was! By night the men would be groaning and tuning to red themselves of the horrors they had considered as the type of beauty in the other sex, while the poor women would be walling over a return to their normal condition of petticoat servitude and imprisoning lands.

Courier Journal: A citizen of Chicago tells us that he recently travelled 2,000 miles in Ohio, and that everybody he met called potato "taters" except one young lady who called it "potater." This evidence of superior culture on the part of the young lady would seem to indicate that she was not a native.

DASTARDLY ATTEMPT AT WHOLESALE MURDER. Night before last, about 8 o'clock, as the Richmond bound express train on the Richmond and Danville railroad was nearing South Boston, Halifax county, and running at the rate of about 25 miles per hour, an obstruction was observed on the track. Brakes were put down, but not in time to prevent the locomotive striking it and jumping the track, fortunately without doing any damage. The obstruction proved to be a sill laid directly across the track. Mr. James D. Darcy, baggage master, was immediately dispatched to South Boston in order to telegraph and get assistance, and between the point where the locomotive was thrown off and South Boston removed from the track four other sills. There is no clue to the perpetrator of this dastardly attempt at wholesale murder, but we hope the road will spare neither money nor time in the effort to bring him to justice.

SCALPED BY A LIONESS. In Baltimore, Monday, a boy named Henry H. King, aged twelve years, was seriously, if not fatally injured, by a lioness belonging to Forepaugh's circus, which some boys had been teasing. Herring was pushed against the cage, and, as he fell forward, the lioness, thoroughly roused, sprang from her crouched position to the bars and caught his head with her jaws. The boy being with difficulty dragged away was found to be badly injured. His skull bone was broken, part of his scalp torn away, a deep ugly gash made in his forehead and another over his left ear. When he was dragged away the lioness licked the blood from his forehead and with the lion, tore the boy's hat, which had been pulled in the cage, into many shreds, meanwhile furiously roaring and rearing. The injured lad when taken home in his sad plight gave a serious shock to his mother, and it is thought the wound may prove fatal.

SHOT IN A BAGGIO BY A CLASS LEADER. MEMPHIS April 14. R. F. Johnson, a telegraph operator at Rowanville, Tenn., was shot and fatally wounded Sunday night in a baggio by Samuel Oldham, a class leader in the Methodist church, Oldham being caught in the baggio by Johnson, shot him to prevent exposure. He then fled, and has not been captured.

In the Western places where public drinking has decreased under the crusade of the woman, the sale of bottled liquor for home consumption has proportionately increased.

GEN. JAMES LONGSTREET. The following conversation recently took place in New Orleans between a gentleman of Virginia and Gen. Longstreet, formerly the pride of the Army of Northern Virginia, but now the abomination of every true Confederate soldier: General L.—"How are you, Mr.?" whom you arrive in New Orleans?" Gen. L.—"Only a few days ago, sir." Gen. L.—"How did you leave things in old Virginia?" Gen.—"Well, General, I believe the people there are getting along very well." Gen. L.—"I see you have elected Kemper as your Governor." Gen.—"Yes, General, and I am glad to say, we elected him on the white man's ticket." [Exit Longstreet.]
