A meeting was field in Metropolitan Hall last night by a respectable number, to take into consideration and perfect arrangements for the Memorial ceremo nies at the Federal Cemetery on the 30th

EXPLANATORY. - The article in yesterday's issue, complimentary te Hon. A. H. Waddell, save the latter portion, which stated it hoped a thorough Republican would be sent in his place, was taken from the Washington Republican, and was so credited, but a smart printer left it out either purposely or for the want of brains, we don't know which, but we do know we would quickly toss him into a Georgia Cotton Gen had we the power of Genl. Ulyses - We regret it exceedingly for we expect nothing else than to se it credited to the Senticel.

MEMORIAL CLREMONIES YESTERDAY AF TERNOON. - A large co neourse of our citi zens on yesterday afternoon repaired to the beautiful Oakwood Cemetery for the purpose of participating in the Memorial ceremonies sacred to the memory of the hallowed Confederate dea l. The day was auspicious, and the sun hiding itself behind the clouds seemingly in mourning rendered the occasion al, the more pleasant for the comfort of the noble people who so largely came forth to do homage to the dead. The exercises were spened by singing an appropriate ode by a full choir, led on the organ by Prot Bauman, of the Peace Institute. An impressive prayer by the Chaplain of the day, the Rev. J. M. Atkinson, D. D. Singing of a second ode by the chair, when followed the eration by Gen W. P Cox, which was pronounced by all who heard it elo-quent, chaste and polished. The Bene-diction was said, and the decoration of the graves commenced and continued by the tiny hand of woman, notil every sleep-ing here's mound was wreathed with beautiful flowers. Several of the officers, of the Garrison, together with many of the private coldiers, were present evinging tenderly attention.

BLOW YOUR HORN BILLY AND TIME ray. We had thought that these two worthies who head this article, were long since amicableness ensured after Billy's speech some years ago, in which he narrated with great gusto low the bummers of Sherman's army had stolen all of his chickens save a solitary old clucking hen, when passing his house, in Johnston, and how Tim the biliard-ball pated come along and took her in out of the wet. Fer Tim went to Franklinten and gamed Billy the nomination two years ago, when Ike knocked old man Wiley upolds down as easily as if he had been struck by a shell in his rand hill at Roanoke Island, (we pray he may not exercise the pleasure of so doing this time.) Billy is now "agin" Tim, and her it seems joined the reform band of the Governor and his son Jo. and is deep enough in for the Baptist Grove Barbacue Friday, and down on Tio. Tim's friends say Dilly is mad because Ten pre-sented a bill to him recently (being hard up.) for something over a hundred dellars which he had honestly advanced in Bil-ly's cause-manipulating for him Sury this is a go back for a $9,000 receiver, to say nothing of a Congressman, Again, they say, Jim Harris got $5,000 from John Deweese instead of $1,000 as one loyal Friday put it; who is now so hot s reformer after the peaceable Judge of Pro bate. We hear Tim and his friends have their guns shotted with what they know.

PROBIBITION OR NO PROPIBITION IN STATESVILLE.-We understand that the whiskey question is in somewhat of a muddle in Statesville. They voted on Monday as to whether ar not they should have liquor in the township. The law provides that those who vote on this over tion shall vote a ticket written or printed "License" or "No License." The probi bitionists voted "No Licenty," while a number of the wet men voted "N. Probibition." The number of votes cast in favor of having liquor was greater than the number cast against it, but in the strict onstruction the "No License" men carried the township by a majority of 97 votes, because of the fact that a number of men on the other side voted "Ne Prohibition," when the law said they must vote "License" if they intended to vote in favor of having liquor. This is the situa tion of affairs, now, if we are correctly in formed by persons just from Statesville What will be done about the matter we do not know, expect to hear soon of injunctions, Bush Courts, and all that sort of thing.

This election, even if decided in lavo of the liquor men, will not change the condition of things in the town itself, which is now and will remain as dry as owder horn - Charlotte Observer.

DR. R. K. SPEED OF PASQUOTANK From a correspondent of the Washingon Repress, we learn that the many friends of the gentlemen whose name heads this article, are determined to pre sent his name as a candidate for the nom ination for Congress, at the Democratic Convention which meets in Edentor, about the 25th of May. Dr. Speed has ione youman service in the cause of con servatism, and should our friends in the First District confer upon him the nomination, he will bear the Democratic banner in the approaching canvass in such a nanner as to merit the confidence placed in him, as he is very popular, will doubtless be elected .- Journal of Commerce.

DAVIS FOOTE AND QUITMAN. These gentlemen composed the trium for twenty years. Henry 5. was the fifteenth Governor, and did once pace November, 1851, he defeated Hon. Jeff. Davis, though by the small majority of 900 yotes, taking his stand firmly on union and compromise-measures which, ten years later, found few advocates in Mississipply while, upon the reverse dectrine of State's rights, his late rival rose to the Presidency of the new Confederacy. Foote going into temporary eclipse. General John A. Quitman had been the successful competitor for gubernatorial honors the term before; having come to the people with his laurels gathered fresh from the fields of Mexico, he was in vincible. In February, 1851, however, Gov emor Quitman resigned the governor-Mitchell was called to the Chair, and ship. The ensuing summer he was place ed at the head of the State rights ticket against Foote; drew off a few weeks be fore the election, after making a hot canvass, and Mr. Davis was substituted in his stead. This victory was esteemed a of the Conventions, which motion was great triumph for Foote and the "Union a correspondent for one of the Quitman Franklin.-W T Mallory, W H Ballard ergans, published in Jackson, went the rounds signing his communications "Peter," and often giving Mr. Foote the benefit of his sarcasm. At Carrolton, where the friends of either party gathered in great crowds, Foote, when his turn to speak, came, read from "Peter," and made running comments as he read ex-pressing a desire to get one sight of that individual.

No sooner said than a young man twenty, square built and muscular, with sus-burnt cheeks, sandy hair and modest demeanor, walked upon the stand bel hind the speaker, laid his hand upon his shoulder, and remarked:

"I, sir, am the man," "And is thy name Peterf" queried

Paote, in his comico sarcastical style. "My name is Peter?" returned the im perturbable. "Art thou indeed Peter?"

"I am, indeed," was the rejeinder. "Then give us your hand," shricked Foote, while the crowd roared its laughter and hurrabs. There was more in the manner than the speech, but Mr. Foote's friend's fairly reared as that gentleman turned upon Peter and bowed him gracefully off the stage at the end of the episode.

The entire campaign was het, and in the little fisticuffs that interrupted de bate it was first Foote and then Quitman on top. At Granada Foote, walked up behind General Quitman, (while that gallant old soldier was pouring in hot

The days of the Confederacy, centained severe attack upon Foote, then a member of Congress from Tonnessee. The attack was from the pen of Mitchell, the Irish patriot. Foote on the fleor roundly denounced Mitchell, and all of old Ireland. Poste's language brought a hostile note from Mitchell. Judge Swann was the bearer of Mitchell's note, and Pollard secompanied him to the Ballard House where Feots roomed. Pollard and Swann knocked at Foote's door, which was open ed, when Foote said, come in Mr. Pollard, and then pointing to Judge Swann said, that d ---- d rascal cannot enter my oom," This latter remark brought Judge Swann's big East Tennessee cotton umbrella down upon the eld Govspor's head. A great uproor was raised by the servants and ladies in the house. We hurried to the scene of battle, and strived in time to ree Gen. Wickham be ween the combattants, demanding that > we should "have peace." The Judge was punching with his "nu bral" and the Gevernor was trying to draw a bend upon the parasel man with a five shooter. The next day, in the House, Gov. Foote, informed us that the police were standing at the door to arrest him, and he desired that I should take a note to his friend, a grandson of Patrick Henry to deliver his challenge before he was, or should be, arrested. The next day Foote, Swann and Mitchell, were all bound to keep the peace towards each other, and all other persons, except the Yankets. And this is what we know about the fight.
