27 Years Old.
Six Reasons Why

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co

1st. Because it is one of the oldest Companies in the Country, and past the day of experiments.
2nd. Because every policy-holder is a member of the Company, entitled to all its advantages and privileges, having a right to vote at all elections for trustees, and thus to exercise an influence in its management.
3rd. Because it has a large percentage of assets to invest in any of the best Insurance Companies in the Country.
4th. Because by economical management, its ratio of expenses to total income is far below the average of Life Companies.
5th. Because it has declared a large dividend in number, and a large Average Percentage, than any Company of the United States.
6th. Because it is liberal in the amount granted for its investments, and by its own management, and its ratio very low as any first-class Company in the Country.

W. H. WYATT, a distinguished lawyer, Philadelphia, is a fine looking specimen of a gentleman in the present time.

THE GREAT CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION will be held at Raleigh, N. C., on the 11th of June, next, at the Raleigh Hotel.

MAYOR COURT.—Almond Cannon (col.) charged with being a gambler, and Milton was the first on the docket, the charge of larceny was dismissed and he was discharged till tomorrow morning unable to pay a fine of five dollars.

THE NATIONAL GAME SATURDAY.—One of the most interesting games of base ball that our boys have played, took place on Saturday between the Athletic and Athletic clubs. The Athletic took the field first and won the game.

STURMANS COURT.—This court was occupied today with the arguments in the case of Willis F. Barnes, of Wake, W. J. Barnes, and wife, of Wake county, Nat. McLean and W. McLean, for plaintiffs, Robert Strange, Giles Letcher, N. A. McLean, and W. F. French, for defendants.

MARK BALL AGAIN.—The Social (colleges) and the Athletic Clubs play a match game on Thursday afternoon. The first named have just received from New York a beautiful outfit. The game promises to be lively notwithstanding the present atmosphere about the second innings makes them red as beet.

DISORDER.—Robert Tucker, (col.) a driver of Mr. Fairchild's, on Saturday afternoon and during the night, made a drive, and became entangled in some bushes and trees, and was drowned before he could extricate himself. A companion watched for him, after he had disappeared, and not coming to the surface, he made a search with the above result.

RECTOR OF SUNDAY SCHOOL OVERTOWN.—At the second Baptist Church, Swain street, on yesterday, the following officers of the Sunday School of that church were elected:

Superintendent—Jacob B. Allen.
Assistant Superintendant—Nathan B. Broughton.
Librarian—William H. Womble.
Treasurer—William Mitchell.
Secretary—Olford M. Harris.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Chief Justice Waite and Judge Sims arrived in this city Saturday afternoon, and together with Judge Brooks were passing over this court to-day.

THE SWEATY SUIT was taken up, and Mr. Brewster, of Philadelphia, Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, opened the argument in behalf of bondholders. It is necessary to go into the details of the case, which has been frequently mentioned in our columns, it being a suit instituted by Switzer and other Northern bondholders to compel the State's interest in the North Carolina Railroad to be paid to the bondholders.
