DU BUISE FLANGE RIB COTTON GIN.

In store one each, 50 and 60 Saws of this celebrated Alabama Gin. Its prominent feature consists of a flange or projection ⅝ inch deep on the rib which prevents hard substances from being cut, as they cannot come in contact with the saws, consequently making a better sample of roughly picked cotton, and the saws will last longer and require less sharpening than other gins.

We confidently claim for it, that it will not only make a better sample, but gin faster than any other gin made, and the manufactory in

JOHN BRAGG, Editor

RUST.—We are sorry to hear that the cotton in the county is being greatly damaged by rust. Up to a few days ago the crop promised well, but the cold nights and mornings that we have had for several days past have sadly clouded the bright prospect. This is also the case

RACKETTS.—On Friday of next week there will be a barbecue and jollification at Geo. W. Thompson's store, this county, to celebrate the recent victory of the Democratic Conservative party. The editor of this paper has been invited to be present and talk to the good people. He will doubtless accept, if possible. He will be told of the invitation when he returns to the city.

MARSHALS FOR THE FAIR.—The following is the list of the Marshals appointed for the next State Fair.

Chief Marshal—A W Graham, of Orange.

Assistants from the State at Large.—W W Glenn, of Yadkin; P F Pescud, Jr, of Wake; R B Peebles, of Northampton.

Assistants from the Congressional Districts—A G Moore, of Alamance; A D Jenkins, of Wake; I F Dortch, of Wayne; J D Williams, of Cumberland; A H Boyden, of Rowan; E C Grier, of Mecklenburg; W A B Branch, of Beaufort; W Lucius Faison, of Sampson.

POOLE & HUNT, MACHINISTS, BALTIMORE.—In another part of our paper will be found the business card of this well-known house, whose manufactures are in use from Maine to Mexico and South America, and everywhere regarded as first-class in their design, material and workmanship. With facilities for manufacturing and shipping largely increased and improved from year to year, they are prepared to fill all orders promptly, and will guarantee their patrons thoroughly reliable work. Those in need of anything in their line would do well to apply for their circular and prices.

WARREN COURT.—Judge Henry having exchanged Circuits with Judge Watts opened court promptly on Monday morning. We did not hear his charge, but heard it well spoken of. One man said it was the best charge ever made in that court-house. No, said another, you have listened so long to Judge Watts' nonsense you think this Judge's better than it really was. Following in the wake of Gressy any Judge can make a reputable appearance. The State and civil dockets were small, only a few cases on each. We did not hear what was said of Logan Harris, the new Solicitor. We were not in court, but if Logan had made himself ridiculous we should have heard of it no doubt.

At the bar was to be seen the following gentlemen: Hon. Wm. Eaton, Peter Wilson, W. K. Barham, H. A. Foot, C. A. Cook, B. F. Long and M. Hawkins, all residents of the county. Non-residents in attendance were, Moore & Gatlin, F. H. Busbee, Gen. Ransom, Col. Edwards, Capt. Jo. Davis, Gen. Cox, T. Brown Venable, Joseph B Batchelor and Judge Barnes. There was only one capital case, for rape or attempt at rape. The victim and the criminal were both colored. The writer of this spoke to a large crowd on Tuesday from the music stand on the court green. It was all about the Rings and their roguery, and they betook themselves to the Conservative party after that party carried the Legislature. We repeated "our old editorial" on Manager Hearne, telling how two Railroad Presidents, Billy Smith and Col. Buford, paid the money for the Manager, and how he sold to Jordan Stone, and how Jordan says he is out $35,000, and not yet tired of running the News. We talked about the corruption of the judiciary. The people gave good attention and seemed quite as much interested on what we were saying as they were in 1868 '69, when we were showing up the Holden-Swepson Ring. After talking an hour and a half we bid them good evening, promising to whip the Ring out of our own party in less time than it was whipped out of the radical party, unless the people are as corrupt as the Railroad Presidents and Swepson's ring.

The Bellefonte (Penn.) Watchman, published at the home of ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin, says: "We are not specially authorised to speak for him, but the country may take our word for it that Governor Curtin is not any longer acting with the republican or radical party, nor has he for a long time. Be assured, democrats and conservative white citizens of Pennsylvania, that we shall have the assistance and best wishes of Andrew G. Curtin for democratic success this fall. He is with us, heart and soul, and although we have not heard him so state, we believe that his eloquent words will be heard for us upon the stump."

The New York newsboys got up a corner in the Friday evening paper, which contained Moulton's statement, asking and, in the majority of cases, receiving double price for it.

Local Dots.

Rheumatism is prevalent. Numbers about here are hobbling.

Business in all branches of trade is picking up a little.

Sheriff Lee has planked up $3,500 of the county school fund.

The Salisbury brass band will be in attendance on our State Fair.

The amount of regular premiums to be offered at the next Fair is $10,000.

Lovers of the weed should call on R. H. Bradley. He has a lot of No. 1 cigars on hand.

Up to the hour of 1:30 p. m., to-day, not a case of a criminal nature came up before the Mayor.

T. H. Briggs, Esq., is finishing up his large and handsome building on Fayetteville street in elegant style.

The Secretary of State is engaged in sending out Wheeler's Manual to members of the Legislature.

A couple of mule carts collided to-day just in front of the market-house. Some excitement was created but no damage resulted.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. D. J. Ellis in reference to the closing of his books. Pay up.

Judge Merrimon will, it is said, shortly erect a handsome residence on the site of the house recently owned and occupied by Hon. S. F. Phillips.

On the 7th of next month our Hook & Ladder company, and a number of the Rescue, will have an excursion to Portsmouth.

The old carpets taken from the offices at the capitol will be sold at auction to-morrow at 10 o'clock, in the rotunda of that building.

The truck farm of Messrs. Haywood & Ryan, a little west of the city, is in a flourishing condition. They have just transplanted twenty-four thousand cabbage plants.

By the number of pistol and gun discharges in some portions of the city at night, a stranger would imagine a heavy skirmish line had been established and were feeling the enemy.

The Board of City Commissioners held a meeting last evening. We hear that the proceedings possessed no general interest, and that the most of the time was consumed in auditing accounts.

A young man by the name of Johnson was severely injured late yesterday afternoon by having a wagon to run over his foot, mashing it badly. The accident occurred at the corner of Person and Lenoir Streets.

W. C. Stronach had a valuable horse killed yesterday morning at his wood yard on the Augusta Air Line Railroad. The animal fell over the railroad embankment and broke his back. Mr. S. seems to be very unfortunate in this respect. He has lost several valuable horses recently.

THE CODE OF HONOR AT A DISCOUNT.—Regarding himself grossly insulted, his honor sensified, and his personal standing questioned by a recent editorial in the World, Governor Hebert requested the service of a gallant Confederate officer to bear a message to Mr. Marble. It is proper to add that the Governor had been led to believe that Mr. Marble acknowledged his responsibility for such an article, and would respond to any demand based thereon. Before, however, dispatching his message, it was suggested that they should take counsel of Roger A. Pryor, now a practising attorney in New York, and once, when a politician and fire-eating editor, a disciple of the code of honor. The case being stated to Pryor, now sensible man and good lawyer, promptly remarked: "Now, Governor, of course this would be in the South ample ground for the resort suggested; but have you any idea of the consequences which would flow from it here?" "No," replied the Governor, with simplicity and some anxiety.

"Then I will tell you," continued Pryor. "In two hours after sending such a message you would be lodged in Ludlow Street jail—a very uncomfortable place for a gentleman of your tastes and habits. There, too, you would have to remain several days, until your friends could get some $50,000 bail; next you would be sent before a grand jury, which would find a true bill against you, and finally you would be sent before a court and petit jury with the chances all against you, to say nothing of very heavy law fees."

The Governor's face grew visibly longer and his moustache stiffer at this appalling picture. At last he gasped out the inquiry, "Is there no mode, then, of getting satisfaction, apology, or any sort of reparation for gross personal insults offered here to a gentleman?"

"Oh! yes," replied Pryor, the counsellor of New York, no longer the Sir Lucius O'Trigger, of Virginia. "This is a good case for an action for libel."

"But what reparation would that give me?" asked the indignant Creole.

"Well," drawled out the ex-Virginian, "I think I could promise you a verdict of damages to an amount from five cents to five thousand dollars. Even if for the small amount it would carry costs." After much anxious consideration our ex-Governor, and author of the memorable apothegm, "All the roads from Greeley lead to Grant," yielded to this counsel, and by the last accounts from New York, we learn that a petition had been prepared in a suit for libel, claiming some $50,000 from Mr. Manton Marble for questioning the political and personal standing and honor of Louisiana's ex-Chief Magistrate and honored class-mate of General Grant, and chief of the great Levee Commission, which has been so sedulously engaged at New York and Long Branch in reconstructing the levees of Louisiana.

In consequence of heavy rains Rocky river, Cabarrus county, on Sunday overflowed its banks and did considerable damage. Cotton, corn, &c., were washed up and fences carried away.

On Monday last afternoon, says the Wilmington Journal of the 26th instant, while a crowd of fishermen (eleven in number) were stopping in a fish camp, at Lenoxville, Carteret county, a bolt of lightning struck the camp, wounding five severely and two slightly. They resided at Smyrna, a village about fifteen miles from Beaufort.

Says the Greensboro Patriot of the 26th ult: A bold case of highway robbery occurred on the road from High Point to Cedar Falls Factory, about two miles below High Point, yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. Aaron Aldred, driver for Cedar Falls Factory, returning home was attacked by two negroes, and pulled from his wagon, which ran over him. They robbed him of his papers, R. R. receipts, &c., but a mehow overlooked his money. They took nothing from the wagon. They then took their departure towards this place and it is supposed are now lurking in this neighborhood.

When Mr. Aldred was found sometime afterwards he was seriously though it is not thought dangerously hurt.

THE INVALID—A PEN PICTURE.—She has the pall countenance, but a short time gone her picture of ruddy health, the envy of the school and the pride of the house hold. She was always welcomed by her schoolmates, for her lithe form and pleasing disposition carried cheerfulness into their ranks. Diligent, punctual and exemplary, obedient and graceful at home, she won the hearts of all. But, alas, we are sorrowed. Those rosy cheeks and ruddy lips are blanched by Consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, husky and supplanted by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch gently and take her her hand. Do not shudder because of the feeble and pasionless grasp. The hand once so hearty and plump is emaciated and shows bony outlines, while the cords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped upon the surface. The pulse that bounded with repletion, carrying vigor to the whole system, and imparting life, beauty, vivacity, health and strength, is delicate to the touch. The feeble heart cannot propel the thin, scanty blood with force. Must we lose her while yet in her teens? Companions and friends gather around with words of cheer and consolation, and depart with moistened eyes and silent steps. Must we lose her? No! there is relief! We can stay this destroyer of our happiness and not suffer the loss of so bright a gem. Something more is required now than dietary and hygienic observance, for nature calls for aid and she shall have it. Take this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating. How it allays the irritable cough, improves the appetite and digestion and sends a healthy tingle through the frame. The blood is enriched, nervous force increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse. See her face brighten by degrees; the color is returning, her voice is getting clearer, and pleasant words are spoken. The strength falters yet, but is gaining. Let us take her out in the warm sunshine. In a short time she will be able to go without our aid, a cheerful girl. This delightful medicine must be God-blessed. It is restoring health to our loved one. She is emerging from her sickness sweeter and nobler than before, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery must have the credit. It has raised her.

S. R. Eglar, druggist, of West Union, O., says that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has effected a wonderful cure of Consumption in his neighborhood.

A Frenchman, living utterly unknown in a single room of a small house in New York, was found dead in his chamber recently, having committed suicide. Not even his name was known to his neighbors. He was living in the most abject poverty, and from some brushes and painting materials found in his room is supposed to have been an artist.

A CASE OF ABDUCTION.—The train which reached here last Friday brought with it an old woman, a young woman and a little girl some seven or eight years old, who attracted considerable attention among the passengers. It appears that just after the war two girls living near Salem, daughters of the old woman, married; one of them taking for her husband a soldier belonging to a Massachusetts regiment. Shortly after the marriage the young couple went to New England [illegible] went there [illegible] to New England, and the mother went there some time ago to visit her. When ready to return to Salem, her home, she took the child with her without the knowledge of the woman who had adopted her. She, upon learning this, took the next train and followed, overtaking them at Richmond and for some unaccountable reason continued the journey with them. Here there was some strife as to which should have possession of the little one, but they continued on to Salem where the same contention was witnessed, the older woman, however, retaining possession. After about three days the younger one, who said she was going to have the little girl or die, secured her by some means, took conveyance through the country to the line of railroad and is probably by this time back in Massachusetts again.—Greensboro' Patriot.

A STARTLING CONFESSION.—Dying confessions are likely to be true, and, therefore, the statement of James H. Reed, the Texas robber, will be generally believed. This man was shot in Lamar county on the 6th instant, by a deputy sheriff named Morris, and before his death he had time to tell the story of his crimes. "I cannot believe that one so brave as Reed was," says Mr. Morris, "would speak anything but the truth when he was positive that he had only a few minutes to live." Reed confessed himself the leader of the Iowa train robbery, the St. Genevieve and Gadshill robberies, and declared to the last that McCoy, the James and the Younger brothers had no part in those crimes. This information was sent to Missouri and is likely to change public opinion in regard to these men. They are fortunate that Reed lived long enough to reveal their innocence to the officer who was forced to kill him.—N. Y. Herald

A country editor, who didn't get tickets to the circus, crawled under the canvas, and wrote the following next day: "The circus last night was a prodigious fraud. It would not have been tolerated in any other community. Miss Baker made a complete fool of herself in trying to ride a piebald horse, and the clown got off two or three jokes we used to tell when knee high to a duck."—Terre Haute Express.

For six years Senator Brownlow, of Tennessee, has fought against death for the purpose of keeping Andrew Johnson out of the Senate. Now the democrats are in power, and Andy is swinging 'round the circle with an eye on Washington.

The Marquis de Palombel has recently died at the advanced age of ninety-nine. He was hidden during the whole reign of terror in France by one of his tenants and was never molested.

In the recent Pennsylvania republican convention the charge was made that President Grant had been guilty of hobnobbing with Southern democrats.

The democrats of Massachusetts claim the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and four members of Congress this fall.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

POSTPONEMENT

IN AID OF THE
PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY
DAY FIXED

MONDAY 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874.

LAST CHANCE
AN EASY FORTUNE!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly for the interest of all concerned that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets had been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

TO THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

Judging the future by the past, we enter with confidence upon this our new enterprise, of separating our Wholesale from our Retail Trade, by having a separate and distinct House for each; and in doing so we flatter ourselves that it will not only meet the approval of our numerous customers, but that an "Exclusive Wholesale House" will bring us a large influx of new trade, and of a character not heretofore enjoyed.

It must be obvious to every buyer that a strictly "Wholesale House," arranged and adapted for that trade only, with a corps of experienced Wholesale Salesmen, with a Stock carefully selected for that Trade only, and moreover, the avoidance of coming in contact with retail buyers, which we and you all have heretofore found to be so irksome, as it frequently happens that the retail buyer is your very neighbor, (perhaps your own customer), such a house, we assert, must and will commend itself to the trade.

Four years ago we advertised that we intended to make Charlotte a wholesale mart and ours "The Wholesale House." We now have the proud satisfaction of seeing it an accomplished fact.

We now call your attention to the fact that we have converted our superb store into an exclusive Wholesale House, where you can find all lines of goods necessary for a country store, to-wit: Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Notions, Groceries, Hardware, Millinery, all in complete lines, bought in large quantities and from the very first hands.

Our stock is now arriving and will be complete about the 1st of September, and will be the largest of any here, the pretensions of others to the contrary notwithstanding. We respectfully invite your personal inspection, or write to us for circulars.

Very truly yours,
WITTKOWSKY & RINTELS.

RETAIL.

Now, a few words about that. We now occupy the superb house heretofore so favorably known as the Messrs. Brem, Brown & Co's, Dry Goods House, to carry on our Retail business, and as "Excelsior" is, and has always has been, our motto, we claim also in that line to excel in stock, to excel in lowness of prices, and to excel generally. We will, in that house, have a corps of thirty Salesmen, and Sales-Ladies, all experienced, affable, and obliging.

We will make the Millinery branch a specialty. W. & R.
